

HARVARD COLLEGE LIBRARY

BROWN

UNIVERSITY LIBRARY
1964

Edw U 3570.1235

ALUMNI MONTHLY

Sent by the University to All Brown Men

SUMMER
1951

BROWN ALUMNI MONTHLY

Published by Brown University for its Alumni

MEMBER, AMERICAN ALUMNI COUNCIL

Board of Editors

Chairman

C. ARTHUR BRAITSCH '23

Vice-Chairman

GEORGE W. POTTER '21

WILLIAM W. BROWNE '08

GARRETT D. BYRNES '26

CARLETON GOFF '24

PROF. I. J. KAPSTEIN '26

H. LINUS TRAVERS '27

Managing-Editor

CHESLEY WORTHINGTON '23

Assistant Editor

DOUGLAS A. SNOW '45

ASSOCIATED*

Alumni

OF BROWN UNIVERSITY

Honorary Chairmen

Henry Dexter Sharpe '94
Henry Merritt Wriston

President

William W. Browne '08

President-Elect

Dwight T. Colley '18

Vice-Presidents

Nathaniel Blaisdell '83
Ernest S. Fitz '11
Fred Harvey '24
Wallace H. Henshaw '23
Lewis S. Milner '02
John J. Monk '24
Frederick H. Rohlf's '26

Treasurer

Richmond H. Sweet '25

Secretary

William B. McCormick '23

Directors

R. H. Abbott '43, H. B. Allison '46,
R. D. Allison '29, J. M. Bailey '16,
M. C. Ball '35, M. Barus '10, R. G.
Bleakney '23, E. A. Briggs '35, H. C.
Bumpus, Jr. '12, G. D. Byrnes '26,
N. B. Chase '23, R. T. Clapp '19, S.
Clifford '15, J. M. Curtis '30, F. B.
Davis, Jr. '39, S. H. Dolley '42, S. J.
Dreyer '22, R. E. Hale '41, L. LeValley
'39, L. P. Litchfield '28, J. R. Lyman
'24, S. A. McClellan '23, R. D. Messinger '37, K. N. Meyer '43, R. G.
Noyes '21, E. M. Pearce '17, R. B.
Perkins '29, W. R. Potter '42, J. A.
Rogers '31, P. Saunders, Jr. '24, R. H.
Smith, Jr. '34, E. H. Tuller '35.

*The 1941-2 Board was being constituted in August by the new President, Mr. Colley.

CONTENTS

Features

Summer Progress on the Brown Quadrangle	3
How to Live Longer By Alex M. Burgess	10
A Football Preview By Bradford D. Davol, Jr.	13
Football Applications (see also back cover)	39

News

Alumni Fund: Results of a Year's Revival	9
The Fraternity Scholarship Rankings	14
A Roundup of 1951 Reunion Reports	15
Brown Plates Available Once More	38

Departments

The Brown Clubs Report	21
In the Alumni Mailbag	23
Brunonians Far and Near	24
Bureau of Vital Statistics	37
Small Talk By Buster	38

THE COVER PHOTO: George C. Henderson '38, Director of The Brown Photographic Laboratory at Brown, roamed the Quadrangle late in July and took the fine pictures which illustrate our leading article this month. That on the cover looks northeast across the north court, with the Refectory on the right. The doorway in the center of the photo leads to the Phi Kappa Psi house, while the white brick area is non-fraternity. The red brick wall in the foreground marks Sigma Chi's terrace, since paved with flagstones. Absence of workmen in some of the shots is explained by the fact that it was the lunch hour.

The Almanac

August	22.	Cape Cod Brown dinner for residents and transients, Coonames-set Inn, North Falmouth.
September	6.	New York Sub-Freshman Dinner.
September	10.	Freshman Week begins.
September	14.	Football Clambake at Francis Farm, Rehoboth, following Varsity scrimmage at 2:00 p.m.
September	17.	Official opening of the 188th academic year.
September	18.	New York Brown Club Luncheon, Landon Room, 12:15 p.m.
September	29.	Football, Temple, home, 2:00 p.m.
October	5.	Cross Country, Yale, home, 4:00 p.m. New Haven Brown Club's Annual Smoker, Hotel Taft, 8:00 p.m.
October	6.	Football, at Yale, 2:00 p.m. Soccer, at Yale. Post-game Reunion for all Brunonians, Hotel Taft.
October	11.	New York Brown Club Football Smoker.
October	12.	Freshman football, Rhode Island, home, 2:00 p.m. Cross Country, at Connecticut, 2:30 p.m.
October	13.	Football, Rhode Island, home, 2:00 p.m.
October	17.	Soccer, Connecticut, home, 2:30 p.m.
October	19.	Cross Country, Harvard and Boston U., home, 4:00 p.m.
October	20.	Homecoming. Football, Colgate, home, 2:00 p.m. Soccer, Army, home, 12:00 noon.
October	24.	Soccer, at Wesleyan.
October	26.	Cross Country, at Rhode Island, 4:00 p.m.
October	27.	Football, Holy Cross, home, 2:00 p.m.
November	2.	Soccer, Dartmouth, home, 2:30 p.m. Cross Country, Holy Cross, at Boston.
November	3.	Football, at Princeton, 1:30 p.m. Post-game Reunion, Nassau Tavern.
November	5.	Cross Country, Providence, home, 4:00 p.m.
November	9.	Soccer, at Tufts, 3:00 p.m.
November	10.	Football, Rutgers, home, 1:30 p.m.
November	12.	Cross Country, Heptagonals, at New York City.
November	16.	Soccer, Harvard, home, 2:30 p.m.
November	17.	Football, at Harvard, 1:30 p.m.
November	19.	Cross Country, IC 4As, at New York City.
November	24.	Football, at Columbia, 1:30 p.m.

The First 500: a Race to be Ready

THE BIG STORY, in a summer of many changes at Brown, is still the Quadrangle. It is engrossing to watch it move ahead toward the time of its use, and the thousands who have contributed toward it must share the common excitement of witnesses who remain on College Hill.

Vacation time is always the logical period for transfer and alteration when the University plant is without its student life. But this year has seen unusual adjustment, with more physical shifts in prospect in the weeks ahead. The imminent occupation of the Quadrangle prompts or permits most of this. Details are interesting, like the provision of a new kind of general post office for students in Faunce

House, like the moves into old fraternity houses which will be vacated this fall. None of these, however, draws attention like the Quadrangle itself. Overshadowing all else is the advance of the nine residential buildings which now join the Refectory in the great project for better living for Brunonians.

More revealing than anything we can write, the photographs in this issue provide a progress report on the construction. Spurred on by the impending return of undergraduates (College opens Sept. 17 for the 188th academic year, with Freshmen on hand the previous week), the work in the Quadrangle pushes on steadily. The pace is not as fast

CROSS-COURT VISTA in the new Quadrangle at Brown: This picture, looking northeast, is particularly interesting in that one can see, over the Refectory, the distant gables of Hegemon Hall and Caswell, as well as the tower of St. Stephen's Church the other side of George St. In the right foreground is the Pi Lambda Phi house; just beyond is the Kappa Sigma house. From the picture at the left is the living room wing of Sigma Chi. On the far side of the court is the Phi Kappa Psi house, which was visited by hundreds on Commencement Day.

THE POWEL HOUSE, familiar landmark at the corner of Brown and George Sts., is no more, but before it was razed, the photographer climbed to its roof to take this picture looking south. The building at the left will be the home of Sigma Chi and, at the far end, Delta Kappa Epsilon, with a non-fraternity unit in the central section. The then un-bricked building will be Phi Gamma Delta's, while the foundations for the DTD house are in the right foreground. Underground opening is a tunnel connection, suggesting the network serving the whole area.

as the impatient would wish, but architect and contractor view it as reasonable.

It appeared that 515 undergraduates might be able to move into their new quarters in September. That was the objective, fully in the minds of every officer and artisan. Ten fraternities would be leading off the transfer, together with the occupants of five non-fraternity dormitories in the same buildings. All Classes would be represented, since even a few Freshmen apparently would be included.

The Quadrangle's First Residents

The tentative schedule on the new housing is headed by Building No. 1 on George St., adjoining the Refectory. This was the one open for inspection on Commencement Day when hundreds of visitors were enthusiastic about what they saw. Phi Kappa Psi and Phi Delta Theta will occupy the wings of this imposing building.

Also far advanced was the building which will house Kappa Sigma and Delta Kappa Epsilon. In three others are the quarters for Sigma Chi and Zeta Psi, Psi Upsilon and Lambda Chi Alpha, Alpha Delta Phi and Delta Phi. Early in December it is hoped to move Delta Upsilon and Beta Theta Pi into their new home on Charles Field St., accounting for another 100 students in residence. Phi Gamma Delta, the single fraternity in the smaller building on George St. next to the Annmary Brown Memorial, has been given Christmas vacation as the tentative moving date. With the non-fraternity dormitory included, this building will accommodate another 70 men. In January it is hoped, another 100, including members of Sigma Nu and Theta Delta Chi, will go into the eighth building.

Last of all will be the building at the corner of Brown and George Sts., on which construction began after Commencement. It is hoped this may be ready March 25, although the residence of Mrs. T. I. Hare Powel which stood on part of the site was still being razed in July. The principal entrance into the Quadrangle from Brown St. will be incorporated in this building. It will also house 100 students, among them members of Delta Tau Delta and Lambda Chi Alpha. In all, 877 men will eventually make their home in the Quadrangle.

The exteriors of five buildings were all but ready at the end of July, with bricklayers busy on two more. The eighth is up with all the pre-cast cement in place and the roof on. Foundations for half the last building were laid. Inside the buildings one can see progressive stages of gracious interior finish. Outdoors the two large courts are clearly indicated, though the center of much activity. One suggests the landscaping it will have, with terraces, grass, ornamental brick, flagstone, and the generous number of trees which have been preserved. Final planting will come later, of course, but there is enough to hint at the full beauty. The other court still bustles with the orderly confusion of cranes, storage piles, carpenter shop, tool room, trucking, and debris.

Foretaste of an Exciting Future

The vistas vary, of course. The two big courts are spacious enough to set off the buildings handsomely, while others are intimate with their neighbors. One long diagonal, though narrow at one or two points, carries through the entire area from northwest to southeast, from the corner of George and Brown down to Thayer and Charles Field. You appreciate the magnitude of this homogeneous, beautiful, useful new community as you look down that aisle. At the northeast corner, like an old settler in a boom town, stands the Refectory, completed and in use for a full semester. How quickly we accept the new! How easily we accustom ourselves to such improvement!

The dormitory section of the fraternity house in its normal specifications is made up of 15 double rooms and one single room—a total occupancy of 31. There are more single rooms in the non-fraternity areas—24 singles and seven doubles, or a total occupancy there of 38. Over all, then, the total is 100 for the average building.

LOOKING SOUTH across the north court: On the left, Kappa Sigma; right, Sigma Chi; more distant center, Pi Lambda Phi and (to left of trees) Psi Upsilon.

Some Need Extra Room and Get It

The flexibility of the buildings has been pointed out repeatedly in descriptions of the project. They have a unique feature: movable partitions at each third, which make it possible to enlarge or contract the dormitory area as the fraternity may request. It is interesting to learn that this device will be in use at once, for the requirements of one fraternity are as low as 20, while others will go to the maximum with 40 residents.

In each dormitory room the University is providing each man with a bed, with rubber-foam mattress and cover, bedspread and bed linen, chest of drawers, desk, desk chair, easy or lounge chair, and a bookcase. For each there is an individual closet with shelves, shoe-rack, towel-bar, hanging rod, and hooks. In the single rooms the bureau is built-in. On the chair rail are electric wall plugs at 18-inch intervals. The occupants provide their own blankets, towels, drapes, desk-lamp or standing-lamp, and rugs as they desire. Pictures are available for rental at a nominal fee, as in the past, from the University's superb collection of originals and reproductions, provided for by the Poland Memorial. Typical furniture was on view in the rooms ready for Commencement inspection. People liked it. It is all on hand.

In the fraternity houses there are elements standard for all, although their arrangement has ingenious variety. On the first floor one finds an entrance hall and attractive stair well, a large lounge, a library, and three coat closets. The basement affords a trunk room and other space for storage and equipment, a recreation room, pantry, and a ladies' powder room. The fourth floor's principal feature is the chapter room, generous in its dimensions, together with two robing rooms and two storage closets.

Rental Fee for Fraternities $950

Every fraternity which wishes it has the benefit of the advice of a professional interior decorator, retained by the University for the purpose. Each chapter will pay $950 as rental for its general rooms in the year ahead, according to a letter from Vice-President Thomas B. Appleget in July. The rental is uniform regardless of the time when the new fraternity house is occupied. "This amount," said Appleget, "is less than that charged the majority of the fraternities in the past and, considering the amount and nature of the common rooms offered in the new houses, seems to the University a very reasonable charge. We hope it will be so considered by members of the individual fraternities." Under the regulations adopted by the Corporation in June, this "parlor tax" will be proportionately increased in the case of fraternities which request the University to furnish their common rooms.

Early in the negotiations with the University about the Quadrangle, the fraternities asked to be allowed to furnish their own lounges, libraries, and chapter rooms. Most of the fraternities are this summer engaged in raising the money necessary for the furniture and other appurtenances for these rooms.

The non-fraternity dormitories also include lounges and game rooms. Throughout the buildings the ratio of showers, toilets, and telephones is liberal. Each building has a laundry room in its basement, and it was in response to undergraduate suggestion in this respect that the laundry will include an automatic washing machine. Underground passages connect all the buildings in the Quadrangle. While these are no Holland Tunnels, they do give access of a sort. Each non-fraternity dormitory will have a resident fellow, who will occupy the counsellor's suite.

So runs the inventory, but to see is to appreciate. Every alumnus will have his chance to roam the new neighborhood when he comes back at Homecoming time, Oct. 20.

Disappearance of a Landmark

The razing of the Powel House in the northwest corner of the Quadrangle removes a familiar landmark from the University neighborhood which thousands of Brown men remember. It is the last of 51 structures of various sorts (residences, garages, shops, stores, school, and lesser buildings) removed or torn down to make way for the Quadrangle in the two large blocks bounded by Brown, George, Thayer, and Charles Field Sts.

FROM ALUMNI HOUSE at Benevolent and Brawn Sts., this view shows the first building of the Quadrangle (which alumni inspected on Commencement Day), and the last, just started. Left-hand wing of far building is Phi Delta Theta.

THE EAST COURT: Top, looking southeast from the Refectory, shows (left to right) Theta Delta Chi, Sigma Nu, Beta Theta Pi, and Delta Upsilon. Below, looking southwest, shows Alpha Delta Phi (central building), Psi U (white), and Zeta Psi (right).

The ivy-covered Victorian residence at the corner of Brown and George Sts. was taken down with great reluctance. The architects made every effort to incorporate it in the Quadrangle scheme but in vain. During the last two years its plate glass windows, set in brick walls a couple of feet thick, have looked out on a complete transformation of its surroundings. Shaded residential streets with old brick walks changed their character. Benevolent St. between Thayer and Brown Sts. disappeared. Eight fine Colonial houses were jacked up bodily and moved to new locations to the south. The Victorian houses, of greater bulk and ornamentation, were demolished one by one after rare panelling, fireplaces, and other irreplaceable fittings had been salvaged. Also a casualty was the Thayer St. School, a dingy relic of the Civil War period.

Months ago the innovations began crowding hard on the big old Powel residence. Where the Kenneth Shaw Safe mansion had stood, just down George St., rose new brick walls. Across the gardens to the southeast, once a series of landscaped yards, a central block of new structures loomed. Last spring Mrs. Thomas I. Hare Powel prepared to move, under the terms of a long-standing agreement with the University. In June her son, Thomas I. H. Powel '51, received his Brown diploma, and the house knew its last festivities.

The University intends to place a bronze plaque in the new Quadrangle at this corner to commemorate the 85-year-old East Side landmark. According to Clarkson A. Collins III '33 of the Rhode Island Historical Society, the mansion was built in 1865 by Thomas Poynton Ives Goddard, a Brown graduate in 1846. The textile magnate and philanthropist was a member of Phi Beta Kappa and the University Board of Fellows. It was handed down to the Powels, who later deeded it to Brown.

The Future of the Old Houses

What will happen to the old fraternity houses when the members of the Brown chapters are established in their new quarters in the Quadrangle? This often-repeated question has had a variety of answers from University Hall, usually and understandably in general terms. Even when a hint was specific, it had to be given in conditional terms because so much was inter-related in a chain-reaction way and subject to further study.

Through the summer, however, more and more plans were being discussed. Some of them invite speculation, though (remember, please) they are tentative still.

Into the Quadrangle at the start of the fall semester would go: Phi Kappa Psi, Phi Delta Theta, Kappa Sigma, Delta Kappa Epsilon, Sigma Chi, Zeta Psi, Psi Upsilon, Pi Lambda Phi, Alpha Delta Phi, and Delta Phi—approximately in that order if there was any time differential.

An event of major importance is the transfer of the headquarters of the American Mathematical Society from New York to Providence about Sept. 10. While there is no special affiliation between the Society and the University, different from that with its members elsewhere, many distinguished Brown mathematicians have been prominent in its activities over the years. Its presence near the campus will doubtless bring mutual benefits. The Society will move into the Delta Upsilon fraternity house at 80 Waterman St. To accommodate this move, the D.U.'s will have a temporary home in the Sigma Chi house, further down Waterman St. to the east.

Brunonia Given to Applied Math

To Edwards House, erstwhile dormitory at the corner of Brook and George Sts., will move the members of Delta Tau Delta until their unit in the Quadrangle is available. The latter is the last which will be ready there, next spring. These men lost their old fraternity house on Prospect St. when it was burned out in the June fire. The damage would seem to preclude restoration. Delta Kappa Epsilon's old house on College Hill will probably be occupied by graduate students. The Biology Department will take over the Psi Upsilon house at Manning and Thayer, setting up three laboratories for Freshman Biology in the three main rooms.

The Department of Applied Mathematics is already installed in the revamped Brunonia Hall. Students who would ordinarily have lived there will be in the Quadrangle in some of the non-fraternity sections or in existing dormitories in the main campus area. Applied Math was formerly centered in a building at Brown and Benevolent which was torn down for Quadrangle purposes. Thus this distinguished department with its important research will have its fifth home since its formation just before the war, but it has some assurance of permanent location at last. During 1950-1951 it has been occupying the building at 70 Waterman St., moving in when the Veterans Guidance Center was terminated. There has been no final disposition of 70 Waterman St., but there have been reports that Buildings and Grounds and the Housing Office might seek it.

The Departments of Egyptology and the History of Mathematics seem to be headed for the Delta Phi House at Prospect and George Sts. Headquarters for the new Air Force ROTC unit may then replace them in the basement of Sayles, although it is presently in Maxcy Hall.

The Photographic Laboratory is destined for transfer to new quarters, for the little old building on Manning St. is scheduled for demolition. Its razing will permit landscaping to improve the appearance of Marston Hall and the approach to Whitehall from the west. The small frame structure was the first University Infirmary before the gift of Andrews House.

The future of the Phi Kappa Psi house is a matter of present negotiation. When Sigma Nu moves to the Quadrangle this winter, its house on Charles Field St. may be torn down to provide student parking. At Pembroke it is likely that East House and East House Annex will be razed as a contribution to the profile of Meeting St. There are reports that the Rhode Island Brown Club and other groups with college interests are interested in some of the other buildings.

And Flat Top? When it goes, there will be little lamentation, for all its distinct usefulness in the postwar period. Indispensable only the previous term, it was no longer needed as a cafeteria when the Refectory opened its doors. Now there is assurance that it is marked for the wreckers. (They tell us that the Corporation cheered this announcement at its June meeting.) It is at present a sort of warehouse for storage. It holds, for example, what was salvaged from the Delta Tau Delta fire, and other fraternities in transit to the Quadrangle will use it similarly. Flat Top will still be standing when the students return, but it will come down just as soon thereafter as it can be released from its present employment.

A New Style Post Office

Faunce House, student center at Brown, is undergoing extensive changes this summer better to serve the University community. With the opening of the Refectory, the Faunce House cafeteria facilities were no longer needed. The release of this space permits better use of the building for activities more closely allied with its function as the Brown Union.

Perhaps the biggest innovation is the student mailroom which is being fitted into the east end of the basement where the dining-kitchen was located. Here, individual mail boxes for all students are being installed. They will eliminate all except special deliveries by mail carriers to the dormitories. (Department mail on the campus will be delivered as at present.) The facilities of the U. S. Post Office (Brown University Station) will be moved to this basement area. Mail will be sorted to the boxes as it arrives, so that undergraduates may pick it up at their convenience. The entrance will be from Waterman St. One can foresee a social atmosphere like that of the small-town post office as this custom is added to campus life. It is a pleasant revolution to anticipate.

The University Store will also benefit, gaining about 50% more space when it moves to a new location on the south (sunken garden) side of the old cafeteria. Here, where students used a game room during the past semester, the book section alone will occupy a larger part of the overall space. The Pine Room will be utilized for storage. Most of the former dining room offices over the Pine Room have already been taken over by student dramatic organizations. The temporary shelter for dishwashing, which encroached upon the sunken courtyard, has been razed; the court with its fountain-bear has recovered its old grace.

Along the north (Waterman St.) side of the former cafeteria, tables will be set up for commuting students who bring their lunches. It is planned to have beverage-dispensing machines installed for them. Over the whole area a new one-level ceiling will replace the former ceiling which was stepped down to conform with the theatre floor above it.

In recent years the old billiard room has had to serve as an annex to the University Store. It will be reconverted to its former use for pool and billiard players. In the space which has been used for the Store, table tennis will be encouraged. (One set of plans called for the installation of bowling alleys in the basement, but current costs prevented their inclusion.) Other rooms that will be freed by the changes will be allotted to campus organizations, although, as this was written, much of the rearrangement was still speculative. The work in the Brown Union is being done by the J. L. Marshall Co. of Pawtucket.

Alumni Fund Hits $73,775

THE BROWN ALUMNI FUND reached a total of $73,775 in 1951, according to preliminary figures released by Thomas F. Black, Jr., '19, Chairman of the Trustees of the Fund. While no records were broken, he wrote to all who participated in the program, "each of us can be justly proud of the results obtained in a period of war, mobilization, inflation, and general uncertainties."

Resuming its appeal after a four-year lay-off while alumni were devoting their energies to the Housing and Development Fund, Black pointed out that "we were faced with the task of re-educating alumni to the annual giving program in support of the University." He recalled that the alumni had been asked to contribute to the $6,000,000 Housing and Development Fund during those four years. "Many of us were still paying off our pledges to that greatest of all Brown building programs," he pointed out. "Others, too, had dug pretty deep in order to complete their commitments. In spite of these adverse factors, we tackled our job with a will. We have re-awakened all alumni to the realization that this annual 'living endowment' program is worthy of our best efforts and support."

Contributions were received by 3561 alumni, friends, and parents, according to figures given Black by Fund Executive James W. Gurll '38. Nearly 1000 alumni played a role in the campaign, including 683 Class Agents and 283 Regional Agents and Chairmen.

Competition between the Classes again added interest to the campaign, and results are being analyzed by an awards committee set up by the Fund Trustees to determine the winners of the two trophies. One of these goes for the best performance of the year, while the other recognizes consistently outstanding results over a longer period of time. The ultimate winners are not known, but three records were announced:

The 25-year Class of 1926 made a collective anniversary gift which is believed to hit a peak for one Class in any campaign year. Under the leadership of Joe Ress, Ned Austin, and Walter Jones, the reunion group collected $7039.

THE PRESIDENTIAL CANE passes from Dr. William W. Browne '08 of New York to his successor as leader of the Associated Alumni, Col. Dwight T. Calley '18 of Philadelphia. The cane, made of wood from University Hall many years ago, is the symbol of office. President Browne's administration has been a benevolent, progressive one, and he received many compliments on a job effectively and genially done.

The Class of 1950, newcomer to the Alumni Fund, celebrated by leading all rivals in number of contributors—179. Bob Pendleton headed up the solicitation which resulted in this showing.

But it was the "old reliable" Class of 1893, sparked by Ned Weeks, which topped them all in percentage of participation—88.9%.

The Air Force R.O.T.C.

INTO THE BASEMENT of Maxey Hall has moved the staff of the Air Force R.O.T.C. that was assigned to Brown this spring. Under the command of Major Charles J. O'Brien USAF, the unit is one of 63 that have been established at colleges and universities throughout the country as of July 1, 1951.

Major O'Brien, who also has the title of acting Professor of Air Science and Tactics, will have three officers and four enlisted men on his staff. At least 200 Freshmen are expected to sign up for the program which will offer courses in world geography, leadership, drill and exercise of command as well as the more specialized subjects of aerodynamics, navigation, meteorology, and applied air power. After two years of such instruction, the cadets will "major" in administrative, flight or general technical subjects. Upon graduation from Brown, those who have successfully completed their Air Force courses will be commissioned 2nd Lieutenants in the regular Air Force or in the Reserve.

A graduate of the Drexel Institute of Technology, Major O'Brien was for many years an engineer with the New Jersey Highway Commission. Later he was a construction engineer for the Blaw Knox Co. of Pittsburgh. An enlisted man in World War I, he was an Infantry officer in World War II and later spent considerable time in occupied Japan.

Some People

By ALEX M. BURGESS '06

Are BUILT

CLASSMATES—I address you as one old-timer to others. We are here as at all reunions—the survivors. Ever since the death of Florence John Harrington Price at Ypres, Mar. 30, 1916, we have been, as are all Classes, a gradually diminishing group of survivors. And to what, we may ask, do we owe the success of our initial strivings toward longevity? The factors are many.

First, and very important, is the choosing of the right parents. Some people are built to last—others are not—and we are all living within the limits set for us, limits which by taking thought we can no more exceed than we can add a cubit to our stature by the same process. The Declaration of Independence says that all men are created free and equal—yes, in a political and social sense—but on the physical side, obviously not. No matter how long and how hard we might have worked at it, few of us could ever have run as fast as Harry Pattee or thought as fast as George Gershon Shor.

Fortunately fast running and quick thinking are not the whole of life, and reasonable avenues of achievement have been open to most of us. To the average 1906 man, as to nearly all others, “life has not consisted of holding good cards but of playing a poor hand well.” Some are Mack Trucks and others Ford convertibles, but we have all arrived at this point—carrying the loads for which each of us is fitted.

How the Life Span Has Lengthened

Another factor, and one that has allowed some of us to extend our time within the limits set by our heredity, is the environmental factor, the improvement in living conditions generally and the development of better public health and hygiene in particular to which we may add the prophylactic and therapeutic techniques of modern medicine and surgery. There are those among us who without recourse to methods discovered since the day of our graduation, would not be with us. And the third great factor is destiny, divine will, or whatever each of us wishes to call it. The fact that the other fellow’s brakes held, or that we took the second plane—which did not crash—that, as the fatalist puts it, our numbers had not yet come up. The length of life of Americans generally has increased greatly during the past 45 years and here are we—examples of this increase. (The life expectancy of the average American baby in 1900 was 49 years, at present it is about 68 years.)

Forty years of medical work has made many of us who are practicing clinicians fairly conversant with this subject. The steady increase in the span of life has added materially to the numbers of older people with whom we have had to deal. In this talk, however, I wish to make it clear that I am not dealing with disease but rather with health. To those who are definitely not well, who suffer from pains, weight loss, persistent cough or other obvious departures from the normal, I have but one bit of advice—see your doctor right away. But let me add a word of caution, be reasonably sure that your symptoms are real enough definitely to interfere with your comfort and efficiency, and not futile imaginings based on things that you have heard or read. In case of doubt, see your doctor—as you should do at intervals anyway, and he will differentiate for you and give you the reassurance and advice that he finds to be appropriate.

Remember too that certain evidences of aging are to be expected. To some gray hair or a bald pate. To almost all a less keen memory for recent events, a tendency to puff a little on the second or third flight of stairs, visual difficulties, less accurate physical coordination, etc., all to be more or less expected if they remain within moderate limits.

A Cardinal Rule for “Old-Timers”

I conceive it then to be my function to talk to you on how to live in the years that are still ahead of us. Although physical health is my topic, mental and emotional health too will have to have some consideration, as we are dealing with whole individuals who cannot be taken apart. I shall discuss daily life and habits, exercise, alcohol, tobacco and work, shall say a word or two about the so-called “male climacteric” or change of life, the advantages and disadvantages of frequent physical examinations and the general innocuousness of death from a subjective standpoint when at last it comes.

The cardinal rule for the old timer regarding his habits of life is, “Make no abrupt changes.” In fact if he is doing reasonably well on the plan of life to which he has become accustomed, it is probably well for him to make no change at all. Only when there is evidence of a “clear and present danger” in what he is doing (as for example the man with progressively failing vision who still insists on driving his car) should we call a definite halt. Even in the case of habits generally agreed to be harmful—one must remember that more harm may result from a change in the plan of living than from the bad habit, despite which life has gone on pretty well.

If one adds to the motto, “Moderation in all things,” one can often rest assured that the continuation of a bad habit, but in moderation, will be the best solution of the problem.

Though Some People Are Built to Last, Others Have to Take Care of Themselves. You Can Live Longer by Heeding Advice Given by a Well-Known Doctor to His Classmates at Reunion.

TO LAST

But don't take on any new ones. All of us have seen damage, sometimes not inconsiderable in extent, follow ill advised attempts to coerce old timers into the sudden abandonment of practices the avoidance of which in earlier life would certainly have been beneficial. Or, again, the elderly person who still tries to act like a youngster. Take the old man, for example, who astonishes his friends by his athletic prowess: make him loaf and play croquet, and see him develop unhappiness and dissatisfaction and eventually push through an inguinal hernia, when in desperation he at last goes back to his former strenuous practices. Or the fat old man who cuts out his lifelong use of tobacco—and gets still fatter—or who cuts down so far on his diet that he becomes unhappy and depressed and perhaps also falls prey to some infection. These things and many others like them we have seen, and we have learned to beware.

What Is This Thing Called Moderation?

What about exercise as a general proposition for the aging. Within the limits of our slogan, "Moderation in all things," I am persuaded that it is a good thing. And what is moderation? That varies with the tastes and training of the individual. The man who is used to playing singles at tennis, and does so without apparent symptoms, had best keep it up. He should beware of a sudden resumption of full activity after a long lay-off, but with this in mind it is probably good for him. A sudden and excessive effort should always, if possible, be avoided, especially in old age. Although I have no statistics on which to base my opinion, my own guess is that the old man who keeps in training by a moderate amount of regular exercise is a better bet than his sedentary colleague.

I have often been asked about the use of alcohol and tobacco. My standard answer is "Tobacco may get you into trouble with your arteries, alcohol with the police." As for tobacco it has a definite and demonstrably damaging effect on blood flow in certain parts of the body and is definitely contra-indicated in certain diseased conditions. But here we are not dealing with disease but rather with healthy oldish men, who have reached the age of 65 or better and are satisfied with life as they are living it. I would not advise a change in habit as regards smoking beyond the general suggestion of moderation. True, it has been shown statistically that non-smokers live longer on the average than do smokers (and that lung cancer probably has a relation to tobacco), but at 65 it is too late to expect any appreciable effect from a discontinuance. Why then forfeit the solace of this comforting insidious drug?

Alcohol presents a similar picture. Used with the moderation and judgment characteristic of (most) members of this class, it should not be, as far as our present knowledge goes, the cause of trouble. Temporary aberrations in deportment, all of a rather minor nature, are all we need expect and not such as to involve the intervention of the constabulary. That "a man is a fool if he drinks before he is 50, and a fool if he does not after he is 50" is, as far as the second part of the statement is concerned, probably complete hokey. Used in moderation, it doubtless adds to the joy of life in many people without much damage. If we stick to our plan of "moderation" we probably will do well. The idea that alcohol keeps the arteries smooth and prevents their "hardening" is based, I believe, completely on wishful thinking.

Habits at the Table and the Job

Another bad habit that may well be stressed at this time and that is often more harmful than is the use of either alcohol or tobacco is overeating. This is common in active oldsters who have always been good "trenchermen," and whose physical activity has slackened out of proportion to their gastronomic. These people with good appetites and good digestions often become really obese. In so doing they definitely shorten their lives. Marked obesity, especially in a person who formerly did not tend to be fat, certainly requires medical advice and supervision. Relatively normal people, such as you and I, will not get into trouble as long as we adhere to our plan of "Moderation in all Things."

What about work, keeping going, staying on the job? Work—that has been interesting, time consuming and a main interest during life. Should we quit—can we retire? Most emphatically no. We can and should ease up, reduce as much as possible of the strain and worry, but we must keep going. We can only retire (with success) if we retire to other work, other pursuits in which we are as thoroughly interested and with which we are as conversant as with our main job. But if we retire to a void, inevitably (like a certain old soldier) we shall "just fade away."

MAKE NO ABRUPT changes in your habits. That's a cardinal rule for the old timer, says Dr. Burgess. The man who has been athletic may find croquet a bit too leisurely (a minor point but useful to our artist for purposes of illustration).

We have all seen the pathetic attempts of elderly and successful people to drop out and enjoy the fruits of their long years of toil. It just can't be done. I know of few people that are more to be pitied than the old health seekers who crowd the resorts trying to enjoy a life that has become empty and meaningless. Even in a condition of advanced senility, a man can still function well in the old grooves, do the familiar things in the familiar pattern, and do them well. But make him face a new situation, and he is lost. I remember well a distinguished judge whose work on the bench continued as always of a high order right up to the day of his forced retirement, but who in the next three months passed rapidly into a state of senile dementia.

We hear a great deal about the so-called male climacteric or "change of life." Whether or not the gradual metamorphosis from a vigorous adult to a much less vigorous old gentleman ever deserves such a name is questionable. Certainly in most instances it does not. To attribute to this cause the crochety irritability, aches, pains, indigestion and what-have-you, that some of us develop as we grow older, is simply trying to find an easy excuse. Some men continue to boast of the continuance of their powers into the late eighties; others are satisfied with a cessation of that phase of their lives two decades earlier. Both are normal. Like the hair on the head, it is a matter as to the persistence of which there is no norm.

A number of other topics may occur to you of which you would like to ask for the sage advice of your medical classmates whom I have the honor to represent. What about hardening of the arteries, for example? What of blood pressure? What about cancer? Should we undergo periodic physical examinations, the "be examined on your birthday" idea. Here are the answers as I understand them, taking them in reverse order.

SHOULD WE QUIT? We can retire only if we retire to other work, says Dr. Burgess. If we retire to a void, we shall "just fade away."

The periodic examination is a good thing for most people—not for all. If a person can have it done in the same spirit in which he has his car or his house checked over, all is well. But if he is an apprehensive old duffer who dwells with fearful anxiety on every little deviation from the normal that is discovered (and there will of course be many), he had better stay away from his doctor altogether—until he knows he is sick. The fear of illness can be worse than the illness itself. I have told a patient—on more than one occasion—"You're all right—perfectly healthy as far as I can see—Now be sure and come back and see me promptly at the end of ten years."

And as to cancer: We have as yet no reliable general test for its presence. It is quite true that it may develop insidiously in an obscure location to the point of incurability, just as we may be struck by lightning and can do nothing about it. If, however, we report all external lumps or blemishes that we notice, and all digestive and other symptoms that are obviously severe and different from previous experience, we shall have done all we can. And when we have our general physical check-up we should have a rectal examination because early cancer of the prostate is not uncommon and can be discovered while it is still curable. But remember, it is better for some of us to take a chance, than to spoil our lives with apprehension and worry, if we are of that type.

Arterio-sclerosis (hardening of the arteries) is, like gray and thinning hair, the inevitable product of advancing years.

When it is excessive and occurs in certain strategic arteries, it can do a lot of harm. Such harm produces symptoms, and is a disease which requires the services of your doctor and with which we are not concerned here. But, as a general proposition, a moderate degree of arterial change of this sort, is the universal lot of the aging. The facts as to causes and measures to prevent or slow its development are still undiscovered.

Blood pressure, high blood pressure particularly, is a popular bug-a-boo. As Peter Pineo Chase, our colleague, classmate and local medical oracle, has put it, "It is probable that in recent years nothing, except the internal combustion engine, has done the human race more harm than has the blood pressure machine." Think of the poor old health-seekers of St. Petersburg who pay 25 cents on the street corner to have their blood pressures taken. Hypertenso-phobia, the fear of high blood pressure, is, in my judgment, worse than the condition of hypertension itself—much worse, especially in the older age group in which elevations of blood pressure are typically benign, non-progressive, and with but little tendency to shorten life. Low blood pressure—the opposite—of which some people apparently like to complain—is really not an entity. It is often characteristic of health and, if abnormally low for the individual, is a result and not a cause of conditions elsewhere in the body.

A Word About Death Itself

And then eventually we all must die. And what is this death that has come to so many of our classmates and toward which each of us has been progressing since the day of his birth? Of its ultimate meaning, as of the ultimate meaning and aim of life, I shall not attempt to speak, for here we are dealing with fundamentals of faith and religion, the bases on which man builds his courage to face both life and death.

But as to the mere cessation of the life process in our bodies, we have to face the idea and the knowledge that this will occur at some future time. But as it becomes imminent, most of us are destined to be unconcerned. Sir William Osler, commenting on notes made at the bedside of more than 500 people who were dying, says that most of us "go out of life as we came into it, unknowing and unafraid." Therefore, my classmates, on the physical side you see we have nothing to fear, for to all intents and purposes we shall not be there.

And so, as we enter the final stage of the battle of life for which Brunonia has equipped us, we turn to her once more, still light hearted and unafraid. Ave, Alma Mater—Morituri Salutamus.

Winners in Regional Voting

New Regional Directors of the Associated Alumni are: Rhode Island—Francis J. O'Brien '16 of Providence, succeeding Foster B. Davis, Jr. '39; New England (excluding R. I.)—Arthur H. Crosbie '39 of Wellesley Hills, Mass., succeeding John M. Curtis '30; North Atlantic Midland—Myron Sulzberger, Jr. '26 of New York City, succeeding Stephen A. McClellan '23; South Atlantic Midland—Joseph H. McMullen '46 of Deland, Fla., succeeding Edwin A. Briggs '35; North Central—Norman Pierce '27 of Western Springs, Ill., succeeding Roy H. Smith, Jr. '34; South Central—Morris L. Pepper '27 of Houston, Texas, succeeding John R. Lyman '24; Western—Francis W. Rollins '16 of San Fernando, Calif., succeeding Stephen H. Dolley '42. Each of these Directors will serve two years.

MARTLAND, co-captain and back.

Football for 1951

By BRADFORD D. DAVOL, JR.
Director of Athletic Publicity

PIETRO, co-captain and guard.

AL KELLEY, Brown's enterprising young football coach, has many things to contend with this fall, foremost of which is to produce a team for 1951. The task that confronts the former Cornellian is not an easy one, but he is prepared to face the future with an eye to better football.

When Kelley first took the position last December, he said, "The Brown job represents an opportunity to me and I am prepared to tackle it." Those of us who have worked with him know that he has accepted his share of the challenge and that he has done something about it.

He started off by organizing a football coaching staff with the right kind of balance. One member of the group is just a few years older than the rest. With those added years, he has the maturity and the experience to cope with problems that require that kind of tempering. Another is a firebrand, high strung so-to-speak. He's the type that will get the right amount of pitch from the players before the game. The other assistant appears to be the happy-go-lucky type. He'll keep the boys relaxed with his dry sense of humor, but he is also demanding of results. They all are.

The office came next. Kelley thought that a pleasant office was necessary for good public relations so he took over the second floor of the west end of Marvel Gym. It makes a better impression on boys who are interested in Brown and those parents who have occasion to visit the football coach.

Staff and office, admittedly, do not make a football team, but all are steps in the right direction. Kelley is interested in the right type of athlete, a fellow who is a student as well as a football player. "Show me a good college athlete and nine times out of ten, you'll find that he's in the upper half of his class as well," Kelley says. "We're building for the future, and we're looking for the student as well as the athlete. The two go together. However, the 1951 season is right around the corner and since first things come first, that is what we will have to concentrate on."

Morning Practices at 7:15

"We are particularly handicapped by the early opening of the fall semester here at Brown," Kelley remarked the other day. "Most Ivy schools do not open until the latter part of September, but we're ready to go in the third week of the month. Because of this early start, I've had to set up two practice sessions the first week that the boys are back."

The sessions that Kelley has planned for the opening week of fall practice will start at 7:15 in the morning and run for an hour and a half until 8:45. Prior to the morning session, the players will be fed orange juice, hard toast with honey and tea and following the morning workout will have a heavy breakfast. From then until lunch time around one o'clock, the boys will have a chance to rest. The second practice session will run from 4:30 until 6, with dinner to follow at 6:30. The routine will continue for a week. By then school will be ready to open and it will be back to the regular one session a day. The early morning and late evening sessions were arranged in order to get in two full practice sessions with sufficient recuperative time in between so that the boys could go at top speed twice a day.

Talking about speed—that's what Kelley wants more than anything else, and anything resembling a good fast football player is a rare thing to find on the Brown squad of 1951. However there are two backs moving up from last season's Freshman team who have shown some promise along those lines. Jack Orton performed well last season as a speedster and looked as though he had possibilities in spring practice. Levi Thomas is another member of that same freshman team who has shown real promise of later developing into a fine back.

Carter and Leone at Quarter

Kelley has two quarterbacks with whom to work this season in Carl Leone and Dave Carter. Leone did the bulk of the quarterbacking for the Bruins last season, while Carter saw most of his action with the Junior Varsity team. At this moment who will start is anyone's guess. Leone has the poise and experience, but Carter is the better passer. Whether or not Leone's ability will offset Carter's expected improvement remains to be seen. There is some strength at the other positions in the backfield. At fullback, Co-Captain Jim Martland currently stands as the number one choice and he is backed up by Vit Piscuskas, a Sophomore letter winner of last year.

At right halfback, Tom Kelliher, Jack Sarson and possibly Bob MacConnell will be back for action. MacConnell played in the number one spot last season, but Kelley was unable to watch him work this spring since he was the leading player on the baseball team. Two autumns ago he played at end, but last season he was shifted to the backfield in order that his speed and punting ability could be utilized. He might be playing at end this season. At left half, Lee Markoff and Dick Brown, both letter winners and new to the varsity last season, offer plenty of speed and that one year of varsity experience might have been just what the two needed for a good year in 1951.

Up front on the line there are several veterans returning for action led by Co-Captain John Pietro at left guard. He is a polished all-around guard and a good leader. Bob Macko, according to Kelley, could develop into a good college lineman. "He isn't one now," the Brown coach says, "but he has every indication that he might be next season." Carl Whitlock and Mike Stien, both veterans of past football seasons, will be back for action as guards. Gerry Towle, a Sophomore this season should make the grade as a first-string tackle. At center Ed Sexton returns for his second year of Varsity competition and he more than likely will see action on both offense and defense as will several other members of the Brown team. Jim White, Joe Bowdring and Gale Wolny are the letter winners returning for action at the wings, while Stan Orczyk is the Sophomore given the most-likely to succeed chance.

How Brown Can Win in '51

After looking over the material on hand for the 1951 season, Kelley predicts that his team will be playing defensive football because of the lack of team speed. "The team is rough and inexperienced," according to Kelley, "but it has the potential." "What we need most of all is spirit," he continued. "If we can get the spirit we're looking for, Brown can win some football games this fall."

The 1951 schedule: Sept. 29—Temple, home. Oct. 6—Yale, away. Oct. 13—Rhode Island, home. Oct. 20—Colgate, home. Oct. 27—Holy Cross, away. Nov. 3—Princeton, away. Nov. 10—Rutgers, home. Nov. 17—Harvard, away. Nov. 24—Columbia, away. All October kickoffs are at 2 o'clock; all November kickoffs at 1:30. Note that this year there will be no Thanksgiving Day game.

Your attention is called to the reservation blanks on the back cover of this issue. No application blanks are to be mailed this year, an economy move which it is hoped the alumni will understand. However, the Athletic Office will provide the same good service on all applications filed by using the coupons printed in this magazine.

For details of the annual Football Clambake turn to the reports of the Brown Clubs. This popular affair, opened this year to members of any Brown Club, will follow a Varsity scrimmage on Sept. 14.

Greek and Grades

SCHOLASTIC STANDINGS of Brown fraternities were radically revised at the end of the second semester of 1950-1951, according to statistics compiled and published in the office of the Recorder, William A. Jewett '41. Although experiencing its first close call in several years, Pi Lambda Phi persisted in its hold on first place, as three fraternities bettered the All-College average. Grades for both fraternity and non-fraternity men were higher.

The averages are arrived at by figuring 4 points as the equivalent of an A, 3 points for a B, 2 points for a C, 1 point for a D, and zero for a failure. The over-all averages for the last three years show the fraternity men leading the College in general just once:

Semester	Fraternity Men	Fraternity Average	College Average
II 1950-51	997	2.199	2.261
I 1950-51	846	2.183	2.211
II 1949-50	1273	2.229	2.313
I 1949-50	1007	2.196	2.234
II 1948-49	1138	2.237	2.302
I 1948-49	928	2.129	2.082

Three fraternities were above the All-College average last semester. Delta Upsilon rose from fifth place to second, Kappa Sigma from eighth to third. Others above the All-Fraternity average were, in order: Theta Delta Chi, Delta Tau Delta (up from ninth place), Sigma Chi (down from second) Sigma Nu (up from 12th), and Phi Kappa Psi (up from 11th). Phi Gamma Delta also showed marked improvement in moving up from last to 11th place. Conspicuous among those which fell off scholastically were: Psi Upsilon, down from fourth to 14th; Delta Phi, down from seventh to 15th; and Beta Theta Pi, down from 10th to 16th.

Individual averages for the 17 fraternities are shown in the table on this page, their position in the scholastic ranking, and a comparison of fraternity population in recent semesters. Initiation brings up the fraternity enrollment in the second semesters, while the figures for last semester compared with those of the second semester in 1949-1950 reflect the shrinking of the student body.

The fraternities reached their high point in relative standing in comparison with the whole College in the first semester of 1948-1949. In that term there were 11 fraternities above the All-College average.

Scholastic Averages of Brown Fraternities

Fraternity	Semester II, 50-51			Semester I, 50-51			Semester II, 49-50			Semester I, 49-50
	Men	Aver.	Pos.	Men	Aver.	Pos.	Men	Aver.	Pos.	Aver.	Pos.
Pi Lambda Phi	75	2.296	1	58	2.706	1	89	2.604	1	2.581	1
Delta Upsilon	70	2.291	2	54	2.252	5	78	2.274	5	2.282	2
Kappa Sigma	57	2.270	3	42	2.167	8	70	2.283	4	2.253	4
Theta Delta Chi	53	2.260	4	45	2.328	3	77	2.238	8	2.234	7
Delta Tau Delta	68	2.236	5	59	2.106	9	83	2.294	3	2.213	9
Sigma Chi	74	2.223	6	56	2.371	2	84	2.339	2	2.253	4
Sigma Nu	68	2.215	7	57	2.095	12	78	2.215	10	1.978	17
Phi Kappa Psi	51	2.210	8	47	2.099	11	72	2.165	12	2.085	13
Alpha Delta Phi	59	2.138	9	44	2.191	6	61	2.225	9	2.238	6
Lambda Chi Alpha	75	2.125	10	62	2.0840	14	97	2.257	6	2.182	10
Phi Gamma Delta	46	2.122	11	40	1.966	17	72	2.127	14	2.010	15
Zeta Psi	50	2.101	12	42	2.0844	13	54	2.207	11	2.280	3
Delta Kappa Epsilon	48	2.089	13	47	2.072	15	77	1.987	17	1.985	16
Psi Upsilon	39	2.087	14	33	2.258	4	54	2.048	16	2.105	12
Delta Phi	48	2.073	15	50	2.168	7	66	2.081	15	2.133	11
Beta Theta Pi	54	2.057	16	52	2.103	10	71	2.142	13	2.052	14
Phi Delta Theta	62	2.020	17	58	1.974	16	90	2.245	7	2.226	8

55 YEARS AFTER GRADUATION, the Class of 1896 celebrated with a notable reunion. In the group at the Worwick Country Club were: Seated, left to right—Carleton Hale, Guatemala and New Orleans; Dr. Herbert B. Lang, South Hadley, Mass.; Irving H. Gomwell, Pittsfield, Mass.; Judge Elmer J. Rathbun, Providence; Robert C. Vose, Brookline, Mass.; Judge Everett L. Walling, North Smithfield, R. I.;

Judge Charles R. Easton, Providence; H. D. Kenyon, Sharon, Mass. Standing—Mason M. Swan, Watertown, N. Y.; Horace Paul Dorman, Lansdowne, Pa.; J. Ellis Ames, East Harwich, Mass.; Judge G. Frederick Frost, Rumford, R. I.; Wesley E. Monk, Needham, Mass.; Dr. E. A. Locke, Wilton, N. H.; Rev. J. Canfield Van Doren, St. Petersburg, Fla.; Prof. W. H. Kenerson, Providence.

A Roundup of the Romantics

UNLESS YOU ARE A ROMANTIC, you might wonder what there is to "getting together" with a group of your contemporaries. But anyone who attends a college reunion knows there is something deep that can't be reported: the common experience that one had with others during undergraduate years, the renewing of the tie as time moves along, the interest in what has transpired in the interval (it doesn't seem so long somehow) since graduation, and especially the peculiar facet it provides in the larger loyalty to Brown.

Again in 1951 the Class reunions brought men back to the Hill in great numbers between June 1 and 4. Some were elaborate, under the stimulus of a special anniversary; others were simple, keeping alive in "off-years" the pleasure that one does not want to wait five years to savor again. Local committees see in their classmates' response all the reward they require for their faithful work.

For the notices below we are grateful to the Class Secretaries and Reunion Chairmen whose reports to this magazine are thus compiled: (One report reached us 30 seconds before the reunion ended!)

50-Plus

THE PRIVATE DINING ROOM of the new Refectory provided an ideal opportunity for a special reunion of the senior alumni, those out of Brown more than 50 years. They met together during the general Alumni Luncheon of Commencement Day. Again it was an occasion for sentimental reminiscence, but this year the setting prompted unusual comparisons of today's Brown with that of a half-century ago.

We'd like to see this group of the elder statesmen set up a little official organization. Perhaps another year they may choose to formalize their pleasant activity with an election of a few officers, a permanent program, and an annual welcome to the newcomers to their company. This past June more than 40 attended the 50-plus luncheon.

1890

CLASS SECRETARY Dr. Harry L. Grant reports that three members of the Class were together to celebrate their 61st anniversary as Brown graduates. The two Classmates who joined Grant were the Rev. H. E. Chapman and the Rev. Albert E. Kingsley. The latter were also Classmates (1893) at Newton Theological Institute.

1893

PERENNIAL HOST Ned Aldrich again feted his Classmates at dinner at the Quantum Club on Saturday, June 2. Members of 1893 who were present included Robert M. Brown, Thomas P. Corcoran, Edwin B. Dolan, Daniel Howard, Edgar M. Johnson, J. D. E. Jones, William Magill, Wendell A. Mowry, Alexander Meiklejohn and Ned Weeks. Others there were Provost Samuel T. Arnold '13, Stanley T. Black '21, J. Cunniffe Bullock '02, and Fred Tenney '94.

1896

THE 55TH REUNION of the Class attracted 16 members to the Warwick Country Club, and Carleton Hale—all the way from Guatemala via New Orleans—took honors for coming from farthest away. Another distant Classmate, who was unable to attend, Dr. Theodore C. Merrill of Paris, proposed a toast in writing and the members drank it together: "To our honored Alma Mater and to all memories associated with our Class—'96—God bless her past, present and future."

Class President Elmer J. Rathbun was in charge of the arrangements, and Secretary Charles R. Easton assisted him. Those who attended were: James E. Ames, Horace P. Dorman, G. Frederick Frost, Irving H. Gamwell, William H. Kenerson, Howard D. Kenyon, Herbert B. Lang, Edwin A. Locke, Wesley E. Monk, Mason M. Swan, J. Canfield Van Doren, Robert C. Vose, Everett L. Walling.

1899

ON SATURDAY, June 2, 24 members of the Class gathered at the Hope Club for dinner. Judge Charles A. Walsh arranged the fine meeting that attracted so many Classmates to the off-year Reunion. Officers elected were: President—Edward A. Stockwell; Vice-President—Irving O. Hunt; Secretary—Benjamin W. Grim; Treasurer—Howard H. Wilkinson. Others who attended were Russell W. Baker, John F. Bannon, Howard C. Barber, George S. Beal, Nathaniel F. Bryant, Wilmarth H. Colwell, George H. Davis, William J. Duffy, Owen F. Gallagher, Charles I. Gates, George A. Goulding, Thomas J. Griffin, Clarence H. Guild, Jr., James G. Harris, Harry B. Levis, N. W. Littlefield, Arthur N. Sheldon, Howard R. Smart, Fred A. Vose.

1900

AFTER THE CLASS' wonderful 50th last year, the 1951 Reunion was small in comparison but excellent for an off-year. The most important bit of business that followed the Commencement Day luncheon at the Agawam Hunt Club was the election of Willard H. Bacon to succeed the late Clinton C. White as Class Secretary. Bacon has been Acting Secretary this year. There were no other elections. Those who attended the luncheon were: Herbert H. Armington, Bacon, Charles W. Brown, Ralph Brown, Harris H. Bucklin, Harold S. Capron, Herbert E. B. Case, Austin H. Fittz, Albert J. Frohock, Horace M. Hovey, Waldo G. Leland, Arthur L. Perry, Charles G. Richardson, George W. Rickard and Robert C. Robinson.

1901

THE CLASS USED UP the entire Commencement weekend in celebrating its golden anniversary of graduation from Brown. The Weekapaug Inn in Westerly, R. I., was the scene of the gala gathering that attracted 40 members including David C. Hall and Bertram Warren from Seattle and Walla Walla, Wash., respectively. Arrangements were made by Class President Henry C. Hart and Class Secretary William H. Hull. Others who were on hand to share in the fiftieth festivities, which included an address by Dean of Admission Emery R. Walker '39, were: Edward R. Bancroft, Lora E. Beam, William C. H. Brand, Charles W. Brooks, Elmer S. Chace, Howard A. Coffin, Albert L. Copeland, Harvey N. Davis, Horace T. Day, W. Louis Frost, Charles H. Gilmore, Edwin F. Greene, William R. Harvey, George B. Hayward, C. Sherman Hoyt, Thomas H. Kenworthy, William J. King, Edward B. Lederer, Donald LeStage, John M. Linden, Herbert C. Low, Daniel J. Maloney, Jesse G. Melendy, Albert L. Midgley, Max M. Miller, Frank A. Page, Charles S. Read, Roy H. Smith, Thomas H. Stevens, Amos L. Taylor, Howard H. Tucker, J. Herbert Ward, Alan R. Wheeler, Hunter C. White, Fred-eric D. Williams, Harrison E. Wright.

1902

THE AGAWAM HUNT CLUB was the scene of the Class Dinner on June 2 when 20 Classmates returned to Providence for the off-year get-together. The Class officers—President Robert O. Smith, Secretary Lewis S. Milner and Treasurer J. Cunliffe Bullock—handled the arrangements. Those who attended were: Ernest P. B. Atwood, Robert L. Bowen, Bullock, George Burdick, Dr. Harold G. Calder, the Rev. Allen Greene, Fred W. Greene, Jr., Henry J. Hart, Charles R. Haslam, Jeremiah Holmes, Everett J. Horton, Milner, Harry M. Paine, Thomas E. B. Pope, Russell W. Richmond, Albert L. Saunders, Albert D. Shaw, Smith, Warren L. Wilmarth, Rowland L. Wilson.

1903

ELEVEN CLASS STALWARTS showed up at one or more of the several events on the Class schedule over Commencement weekend. President Jack Cady was again host at a cocktail party before the Alumni Dinner which was attended by Robert L. Barrows, William T. Hastings, Daniel Hurley, Fred Otis, Arthur L. Philbrick, William O. Rice and Harry W. Rockwell. These same Classmates were joined by Walter E. Phillips at the Class Dinner at the Agawam Hunt Club on Saturday. Hastings, Phillips and Rockwell missed the University Club luncheon Commencement noon, but Clarence Gleason and Howard Grose were there with the others. Rockwell, who received his second honorary degree from Brown at Commencement exercises, stayed with his wife at Gardner House, the University's new on-Campus guest house.

1904

FOLLOWING ITS ANNUAL CUSTOM of gathering for a dinner the Saturday before Commencement, the Class assembled at the University Club on June 2. Those faithful members present included Edmund K. Arnold, Isley Boone, Asa Briggs, Charles Casey, Howard Esten, Louis Feingold, John Heckman, Oscar Heltzen, Frederick Jones, Robert Mawney, James A. McCann, Elisha Mowry, Frederick O'Connell, Bernard P. Raymond, George L. Spencer.

1906

WITH EXCLUSIVE USE of excellent accommodations at the Cold Spring House in Wickford, R. I., reuniting members of '06 took advantage of all the facilities and the result was a best-ever 45th Reunion. After the Alumni Dinner in the Refectory on Friday, June 1 (28 Classmates were there), the members journeyed to Wickford. First on the program was Robert L. Knight's always-wonderful clam-bake at Oaklawn. A short afternoon visit to the Brown Reservation was fol-

1907'S LOVING CUP, always in attendance at official assemblies of this famous Class, was brought to the Alumni Dinner June 1. Class President George Hurley holds it to start it on its rounds. Flanking him are Classmates Z. Chafee, Jr., left, and Henry G. Clark.

1905

IT WAS AN OFF-YEAR and still 21 members of 1905 gathered on and around the Campus for a four-day celebration of the Class' 46th Commencement anniversary. The main function was the Class Dinner at Dave Davidson's chalet at Cedar Tree. Alumni Monthly Manager-Editor Chet Worthington '23 was the main speaker and guests included Dr. W. A. Mahoney and Herb Wells, Jr. Fred Broomhead was elected to succeed the late Bill Spicer as Trustee of the '05 $25,000 Fund.

Classmates who were there included Charles Z. Alexander, Frank A. Burr, Frank S. Cooke, Michael F. Costello, Davidson, Chester C. Greene, E. Sykes Goodwin, T. C. Hascall, Frank G. Howard, Ralph D. Kettner, Arthur J. Latham, John C. Mahoney, Frank E. Marble, Arthur C. Maxfield, W. Granville Meader, Charles L. Robinson, Frederick Schwinn, Gilbert F. Slone, Roy Towne (from Everett, Wash.), Thomas M. Webb, Niles Westcott.

With its eye on a reward for promptness, the Class turned in its Reunion Report (to Worthington) exactly 30 seconds before the meeting was adjourned!

lowed by dinner back at Wickford and the showing of some colored slides taken by Leon Gay on his recent trip to Africa.

Most of Sunday was a free day, but the Class Dinner at 6:30 was followed by the Class Meeting. Art Driscoll was Toastmaster and Dr. Alex M. Burgess gave a talk on the relationship of mental and physical health. Then the Class' special guest, Dean Alexander Meiklejohn '93, prophesied that the next 50 years would be the greatest in the history of the United States.

Chief Marshal of the Commencement procession on Monday was the Class' own Bill Pearson and 22 Class stalwarts were right behind him. Some members enjoyed Commencement breakfast or luncheon or both in the Refectory. In general it was a restful weekend, but in the commonly expressed opinion "very worthwhile." Bill Kennedy was Reunion Chairman.

The faithful celebrants included: Walter Angell, F. Eugene Banfield, Sidney Bellows, Walter Briggs, Aylsworth Brown, Alex M. Burgess, Henry Carpenter, Peter Pineo Chase, C. Raymond Chappell, Albert Claflin, Howard Congdon, George Coreoran, Louis Dexter, Arthur Driscoll, J. Morton Ferrier, Robert Field, Hume Flagler, A. W. Fletcher, Leon Gay, P. T. Hill, Henry Hobson, Henry Jackson, Harold James, J. W. James, William Kennedy, Arthur King, Robert Knight, William LeValley, Benjamin Lindemuth, Paul Matteson, C. Douglas Mercer, Elmer Nickerson, Harry Pattee, William Pearson, Emery Porter, William Roberts, Oscar Rackle, George Shor, Joseph Smith, Harris Stone, W. Douglas Swaffield, Everett Swett, Charles Tillinghast, A. Brintnall Tingley '05, Richard Tucker, John Walsh, E. Raymond Wheeler, Walter Woodbury.

1907

LED BY PRESIDENT George Hurley, 19 members of the Class sat down to dinner with the whole Brown Family at the new Refectory, June 1. With our President were Bannan, Burnham, Chafee, Shan Clark, Curley, Eddy, Graves, Gurney, Herb Harris, Warren Harris, Knowles, Kriebel, Lane, Bill Reynolds, Ernest Reynolds, Robinson, Slade, Wathen. Ernest Reynolds came from Miami (by way of Hingham, Mass.), and Bob Curley, always faithful, made the long drive from Biddeford, Me. Cocktails and the Class Cup got the reunion going at The University Club, and your Secretary passed around letters and postcards from classmates who could not attend. Response to the Hurley-Gurney reunion notice was excellent. Forrest Harvey of Pasadena, Calif., gets an extra salute for being the first to return (by airmail) his reply and good wishes.

1908

THE REV. DR. ALBERT C. THOMAS was host to his classmates who met at his home on Arlington Ave., Providence, among them: Norman Case, former Governor of Rhode Island, who was elected Alumni Trustee; Class Secretary C. LeRoy Grinnell, James L. Murray, Norman L. Sammis, and Leslie E. Swain. The get-together preceded the Alumni Dinner, June 1.

1909

CLASS SECRETARY HENRY S. CHAFEE again handled the arrangements for the get-together at the Agawam Hunt Club on Sunday, June 3. There was no formal program, this being an off-year Reunion, but 29 Classmates assembled for dinner. They were: Clarence W. Bosworth, Frederick M. Boyce, William P. Buffum, Stuart R. Bugbee, Ray Buss, A. M. Chace, Chafee, William M. Connell, Mose Crossley, William P. Dodge, Adolph Gorman, Everett A. Greene, George H. Henderson, Edward J. Hollen, A. J. Kirley, Albert E. Leach, William R. Nash, I. W. Paterson, Albert H. Poland, William C. Ross, Henry B. Selleck, Herbert M. Sherwood, Harold A. Sweetland, George F. Sykes, Harold B. Tanner, S. G. Tinkham, James V. Turner, Charles H. Ward, R. H. Whitmarsh.

1910

THE CLASS KEPT a good hold on its Reunion reputation (it hasn't missed a year since graduation) by attracting 17 members to the Squantum Club for dinner on Sunday, June 3. Highlight of the meeting was the presentation to Class Secretary Andy Comstock of a statuette of the Brown Bear that stands before Marvel Gym. The gift was accompanied by a resolution of "thanks" for his faithful services during the past five years. At the dinner were: Donald S. Babcock, Comstock, William J. Dwyer, J. Richmond Fales, William B. Freeman, Raymond K. Gould, John P. Hartigan, Elmer S. Horton, Paul B. Howland, Seth M. Kalberg, Marshall Morgan, Albert E. Morse, Ralph M. Palmer, Charles A. Post, Lester A. Round, Edward S. Spicer, Claude M. Wood. A special guest was Bill Burnham '07. Spicer was host to his Classmates at a cocktail party before the Alumni Dinner on June 1, too.

1911

REUNION ACTIVITIES for the Class' 40th anniversary were scattered from Providence to Cape Cod and more than 50 Classmates took part in the celebration. A lawn party at the Agawam Hunt Club on Friday, June 1, started things off. Highlight of this event was the presence of every member but three of the faculty that was active at Brown during the years 1907-1911.

On Saturday, Class members journeyed to Snow Inn, Harwichport, Mass. At the Class Meeting there, Fremont Roper was cited for coming all the way from California for the gathering. John Anderson and Brent Smith were also given awards for their faithful service to 1911. Golf, sailing and conviviality filled the rest of the weekend. Then the Classmates returned to Providence for Sunday overnight on Campus and the march down the Hill on Monday.

Pete Heydon was Chairman of the Reunion Committee that included Anderson, Earle Arnold, Toot Richardson, Fred Swanson, Ellis Yatman and John Hinckley. Others who were there were: Edward Allen, James Archie, Andrew Breckenridge, Wendell Brown, Henry Burke, Everett Carpenter, Benjamin Cate, Herbert Coffin, Alfred Corp, Philip Curtis, Arthur Davenport, Herbert Eddy Easton, John Ervin, Ernest Fitz, Herbert B. Francis, William Giles, Fred Gleason, Jacob High, Samuel Holman, Howard Hubbard, Seward Jarvis, John Keily, Arthur Kenyon, Ira Knight, James Larkin, Charles Maxson, G. Denny Moore, Robert Cushman Murphy, LeRoy Pilling, David Purdie, Thomas Quigley, Thomas Roalf, Julius Saacke, Judah Semonoff, Robert Skillings, Arthur Staff, Albert Sweet, Wendell Swint, Raymond Taylor, Erwin Tompkins, James Wilson, William Winslow, Alan Wood, Harold Worthington, Foster Young.

Recognition for a "Real Job"

CHARLES S. HUFF '06 has seen many things in the 41 years he's been in Asbury Park, N. J. He went there in 1910 to be Principal of the high school, graduated 17 in his first class from an antiquated building, and saw the town grow. Now there are 300 a year in the graduating class of a large, modern city school. About 7000 persons have received their diplomas.

An athlete as well as a good student at Brown, Huff was shocked to find that the high school had no football team. He took on the job of coaching that sport and basketball, winning East New Jersey championships in each in his first year. Some of his students went on to gain national fame: actors like Paulette Goddard, Diana Lewis, Caesar Romero, Sid Caesar, Roger Pryor, Arthur Pryor, Jr.; others prominent in business and the professions like Dr. George Bailey, chest surgeon, Vice-President Edward Farrow of Eastman Kodak, and the photographer of the Byrd Polar Expedition, Murray Weiner. He'd seen many things in 41 years, but none of them could compare with what happened May 12.

It was officially proclaimed as Charles S. Huff Day. Big display ads, editorials, hundreds of letters helped. The people of the resort city, accustomed to staging receptions for visiting notables, outdid themselves in putting on a rousing reception for one of their own, the kindly, bespectacled man who retired that day as Principal of the High School. There was a 12-hour program. Nearly 1500 honored him in an afternoon review of all his 40 classes at the city stadium. Another 800 crowded the Sea Girt Inn for a testimonial dinner. For three hours before the banquet, Mr. and Mrs. Huff exchanged greetings with his former students. An album containing 4000 pictures of these alumni was given him. There was a purse "of a substantial amount" made up of contributions from thousands of individuals. A broadside had been prepared called The Huff Herald, containing pictures and cartoons that illustrated his career (including one in the official coronation robes of the King of England!). A tray, a clock, a savings bond, a plaque, and other souvenirs marked the giving. The City Council paid for an ad to acknowledge his service. It was an extraordinary tribute, with the whole town and former townsmen united in enthusiastic appreciation.

All the alumni of the school formed a single file to march into the stadium. The band played "Charlie My Boy." The students in formation spelled HUFF, and someone sang "Thanks for the Memory." Skits, salutes, speeches—it would take columns to give the detailed story. (The Asbury Park Press did.) And the metropolitan press in New York was impressed by the Huff story, too—there was an eight column feature with pictures in the World-Telegram, for example. There were long quotes on his educational philosophy: "Over-emphasis on psychology is the biggest bunch of nonsense. . . . Progressive education has probably done more damage to the country than anything else. . . . There's no reason for the tax-payers to spend money to maintain a country club for children."

And to one reporter he told about the kidding he'd get when he went back to Brown for reunions. His friends would say to him, "What are you doing now?" And Huff would say, "I'm teaching." And then, he says, they would never fail to ask him: "When are you going to get a real job?"

They should have been in Asbury Park May 12. As one of the speakers said at the great reunion, "Mr. Huff represents the difference between success and failure to a good many people."

THE 25-YEAR SHAKER was received by 1926's Reunion Chairman Albert L. Parks, as the Class began its jubilee program at the Providence Art Club before attending the Alumni Dinner. Shirley S. Elsbree, Reunion Chairman of 1925, made the presentation on behalf of his Class. The shaker has been handed down for more than a dozen years.

1912

THOUGH THEIR NUMBER was few, their enthusiasm was great when five Class members got together on Friday, June 1, at the home of Kip Chace. Convening at the Class President's place in Harmony, R. I., before the Alumni Dinner were Dr. Cary Bumpus, Clarence W. Miller, Earl P. Perkins and Edward L. Singsen.

1913

THE CLASS HELD no special function over Commencement weekend, but a cocktail party at the home of Class President Duncan Langdon preceded the Alumni Dinner. Classmates who were there or at the dinner or in the parade on Monday included: Preston F. Arnold, Langdon, Alfred B. Lemon, George T. Metcalf, Carleton Morse, Ben I. Robinson, Payson Tucker, J. Taylor Wilson.

1914

FOR FOUR DAYS over Commencement weekend the Canonchet Club at Narragansett Pier was the rendezvous of reuniting '14ers. Early birds started arriving at 10 a.m. on Friday, June 1, but it was not until Saturday noon that the proceedings got underway with the Class Meeting.

President Bob Holding reported favorable response to his letter on the Class Gift campaign. When Louie Bagnall was the lucky winner of the Reunion-fee rebate, he promptly donated his prize to the fund. Reunion Chairman Fritz Hazard was cited for his splendid arrangements. Then the Classmates took off for the clambake at Kettle-Hole, "historic setting of the Saga of Czubak."

Back at the Canonchet Club after a delicious bake, the celebrants spent a quiet evening at cards and chatting. On Sunday, Hazard was the host at a chicken barbecue at his farm. Monday morning, after an early breakfast, Class stalwarts drove to Providence for the Commencement procession down College Hill.

Present for all or part of the busy weekend were: Dave Adelman, Bagnall, Steve Bean, Heinie Beckwith, Walter Boyd, Ed Brackett, Charlie Brady, Ed Cook, Doc Durgin, Joe Farnham, Norm

Fisher, Earl Harrington, Hazard, Holding, Bob Lord, Leon McKenzie, Ed McLaughlin, Joe Nathanson, Francis Post, Mel Sawin, Leroy Spooner, Cubby Sprague, Maurice Wolf, Charles Woolley, Nathan Wright.

1915

THE HOPE CLUB was the scene of a Class social hour before the Alumni Dinner on Friday, June 1. Class President Henry S. Newcombe and Class Secretary Sidney Clifford arranged the pleasant get-together and those in attendance included: John B. Abbott, Alfred W. Anthony, Jr., George F. Bliven, W. Russell Burwell, Leonard B. Campbell, Charles M. Clegg, Clifford, Roland E. Copeland, Clarence F. Corp. Ralph W. Cram, Norman L. Duncan, Harold T. Eaton, Monroe E. Fagan, Ralph B. Graham, Frederic J. Hunt, C. Gordon MacLeod, E. V. Mitchell, Newcombe, William P. Sheffield, Edgar J. Staffe, George W. Waterman.

1916

FROM THE WEEKAUG INN in Westerly where Class members gathered for their 35th Reunion, greetings were sent to Classmate Maj. Gen. William C. Chase who is heading the military mission now on Formosa. Another piece of business was the naming of R. I. Governor Dennis J. Roberts as an honorary member of the Class.

Members who attended the Weekapaug activities included: Frank R. Abbott, Arvid Alm, Harold P. Andrews, George R. Arnold, Jesse Bailey, F. A. Ballou, Jr., Elliot H. Bosworth, Francis J. Brady, Leon W. Brower, Harry H. Burton, Seward Byam, John J. Cashman, Wallace Chandler, John S. Coleman, Albert B. Coop, Edward I. Cristy, Gerald D. Curtis, Herman M. Davis, John B. Dunn, Henry Dursin, Francis M. Dwyer, C. E. Ekstrom, Philip Feiner, Herman M. Feinstein, William A. Graham, Joseph Halloran, Charles J. Hill, Gustave Houtman, William N. Hughes, William Hurlin, Newton P. Leonard, W. R. L. McBee, H. S. McLeod, Paul B. Metcalf, Herman H. Michelson, John W. Moore, Francis J. O'Brien, Everett G. Perkins, John J.

Riley, Wilbourn E. Saunders, Harry D. Scott, James E. Skane, Franklin Smith, David Steel, W. H. Young.

1917

THE CLASS LAUNCHED its reunion at the University Club before the Alumni Dinner, June 1. Among those present were: Vice-President Thomas B. Appleget, Frank C. Cambio, Ralph DiLeone, Robert N. Foote, Ray Jordan, C. Bird Keach, Dr. Edwin M. Knights, Samuel Morein, Earl M. Pearce, John G. Peterson of Minneapolis, Howard D. Williams, and Roger Williams.

1918

TECHNICALLY, this was an "off-year" for the Class, but it was definitely an "on-year" for certain members. Dwight T. Colley took over as President of the Associated Alumni at the Alumni Dinner at which James V. Bennett was Toastmaster and Jimmy Jemail received a Brown Bear award. At the dinner to cheer these Classmates on or at the Commencement breakfast at the University Club on Monday were: C. Raymond Adams, Walter Adler, Zenas R. Bliss, M. Joseph Cummings, Gurney Edwards, L. Israel Kramer, J. Irving McDowell, Julian B. Marshall, Maurice Moskol, Wilfred Pickles, Isaac G. Smith, Jacob T. Sydney, J. Harold Williams. Additional distinction was brought to the Class when Pickles succeeded Bliss as President of the R. I. Alpha Chapter of Phi Beta Kappa.

1920

FRANCIS G. WHITE of St. Louis traveled the longest distance to be with his classmates during the reunion season, which began at the University Club Friday night. Others attending: John McGlee, Herbert B. Barlow, LeRoy W. Black, Irving S. Crompton, Arthur J. Frey, Dr. Marshall N. Fulton, Seth B. Gifford, Ray W. Greene, Ernest A. Jenckes, Dr. Herman Lawson, C. H. Lawton, Jr., H. S. Litchfield, C. N. Lowenberg, Louis A. R. Pieri, Dr. Harold J. Pearce, George O. Podd of Chicago, George H. Rhodes, Fred E. Schoeneweiss, W. Harold Searles, Dr. Joseph

Smith, James Sinclair, and Elton H. Tucker.

1921

IT WAS A RETURN to the Weekapaug Inn for Classmates who remembered the success of their 25th Reunion down at Narragansett. Sports and congeniality occupied the weekend from Saturday morning through Sunday afternoon after '21ers had first gathered at the Alumni Dinner and the Class Night Dance on Friday. Those present for the anniversary celebration included: Philip Borden, William T. Brightman, Jr., Earle M. Brown, Fred G. Brown, Anthony Caputi, Allan Colby, William Crawford, J. Robert Dorer, Harold Faulkner, Wayne M. Faunce, Charles Fish, Lawrence Foote, Thomas Gardiner, D. V. Guillemette, Frank J. Honan, Fred Itschner, Roger P. Jenks, Ralph Knight, Gen. Royal B. Lord, Fred A. Lougee, Robert McKenny, Herbert Marks, Victor Meserve, Harold C. Mills, Alfred Mochau, Olaf G. H. Oden, Maurice Pike, Gordon W. Roaf, William B. Robinson, Harold L. Sheldon, John Stevens, Everett Sweet, Harold Tinker, Henry Turoff, George Wilson, Eske Windsberg, Earl Woodruff, Elmer P. Wright. Guests were Edward B. Ryder, Jr. '19 and Myles Standish '20.

1923

THE OFF-YEAR REUNION of 1923 grows in popularity, and it takes on a regular pattern: a gathering with the wives before the Alumni Dinner, a dinner for the wives while the men attend the "Reunion of Reunions," an evening together at the Class Night Dance, and a Monday morning breakfast for the men before the Commencement Procession. President E. John Lownes, Jr., and Mrs. Lownes were hosts to the Class Friday evening, while William B. McCormick and J. D. E. Jones, Jr., continued to sponsor the Commencement breakfast.

Among those present during 1951 were: Robert Cruise of Texas, Arthur Braitsch, Nathaniel B. Chase, Frank E. Fahlgust, Edward J. Gorman, Jr., Townes M. Harris, Wallace H. Henshaw, Herbert H. Hoffer, Paul Holmgren, Edward A. Hummel, Theodore R. Jeffers, Lawrence Lanpher, Carl E. Martin, Stephen A. McClellan, William C. Munroe, John J. O'Brien, Norman Paasche, Harvey S. Reynolds, Ronald B. Smith, R. E. Soderback, Don C. Thorndike, Herbert E. Van Hoesen, Benjamin P. Harris, Jr., Dwight K. Bartlett, Jr., Dr. Marsden P. Earle, Frederick Beede, W. C. Worthington, and Francis O. Allen, Jr. About 20 of the wives were also present.

1928

A SMALL BUT ENTHUSIASTIC GROUP of Classmates met for dinner at the University Club on the Saturday of Commencement weekend. Earl H. Bradley was in charge of the arrangements, and those present were: A. W. Calder, J. J. Fanale, Leo Goldberg, Paul Hodge, Edward Lawrence, Joseph Lewis, Loring P. Litchfield, Mark McClain, Kent Matteson, H. Clinton Owen, Jr., Louis Palmer, Howard Presel, George Rustigian, Stanley Smith, Everett S. Woodmancy, Stuart Woodruff.

1929

EIGHT FAITHFUL CLASSMATES joined for cocktails at the University Club on Friday, June 1, and then proceeded up the hill to the Alumni Dinner at the Rectory. They were: Alexander DiMartino, Howard F. Eastwood, F. Charles Hanson, Edwin C. Harris, Herbert Luft, Roger W. Shattuck, Myron A. Smith, Edward Sulzberger.

1931

EVERYTHING WENT according to plan at the Class' 20th Reunion, and the extensiveness of the Reunion Committee's planning made for an active weekend in Newport. The Hotel Viking was headquarters for reuniting Classmates who reported there on Saturday, June 2, after attending the Alumni Dinner and Class Night Dance the night before.

Ivy Baseball

Eastern Intercollegiate Baseball League, Final Standing

	W.	L.	Pct.
Princeton	7	2	.778
BROWN*	6	2	.750
Columbia	6	3	.667
Cornell*	5	3	.625
Navy*	5	3	.625
Pennsylvania	4	5	.444
Harvard*	3	5	.375
Army	3	6	.333
Yale*	2	6	.250
Dartmouth*	1	7	.125

* Rained-out game could not be rescheduled.

Sports and touring were on the program for Saturday afternoon. In the evening, a cocktail party was followed by the Class Dinner and business meeting. Reunion Chairman Wes Moulton was elected President of the Class. Vice-Presidents are David Edes, Raymond Hall, Norm Silverman and Douglas Stewart. Retiring President Clinton N. Williams was elected permanent Secretary-Treasurer. Moulton, Williams, Fred Harson and guest speaker Thomas B. Appleget '17, University Vice-President, were presented gifts for their services to the Class. Other prizes went to Richard A. Bowen (Class member with the youngest child); E. Kent Allen and Robert F. Eddy (Class members with the most children—four each); and Edward V. Osberg (Class member from the greatest distance).

Sunday was devoted to sports, touring and congeniality, and Monday the Class marched in strength down the hill with the new graduates. Those who attended the Reunion were: Edward Ahern, E. Kent Allen, Howard I. Angell, Allen Arnold, Harold Arthur, Richard Bowen, Lloyd Briggs, James Brown, Arthur Brügge, Bernard Buonanno, Albert Burgess, Jr., Duncan Campbell, Donald Clayton, G. Edward Crane, Robert Cronan, Franklin Crowther, Charles Cummings, Anthony Del Sesto, Louis Denmler, Robert Eddy, David Edes, William Endlar, Waldo Fish, Jr., Robert Fletcher, W. Lincoln Fogarty, Eugene Gerry, W. Ronald Gill, Benjamin Greenfield, Raymond Hall, Fred Harson, James Hindley, Wilfred T. Hood, S. Abbott Hutchinson, Hillis Idleman, Daniel Jacobs, James Lawton, Milton B. Levin, Melvin Lundstedt, Lawrence McGinn, Daniel McIver, William Mackenzie, George Main, Robert Mawney, Everett Mayo, Jr., Paul Monahan, Wes Mcultion, John Mozzochi, Stanton Nickerson, I. Arthur Novogroski, Edward Osberg, John Ranges, Jr., Ralph D. Richardson, James Sanek, Arthur Schweikart, Stephen Shanosky, Thomas Sheahan, Foster Sheldon, Norman Silverman, James Sisk, Arthur Sondheim, Jr., Justus Stevens, Douglas Stewart, Gilbert Strubell, Paul Thayer, Arthur Vaughn, Alden Walls, Richard Walter, Harold Warren, Kenneth White, Paul Wicks, Clinton Williams, Max Zusman.

1932

AT THE BAY VOYAGE HOTEL on Jamestown, a small Class contingent gathered to make initial plans for the big 20th Reunion next year. A hard-fought ball game was won by the single men who defeated the married men, 23-22. A Class Meeting on Sunday named the Committee to handle Reunion arrangements for 1952, and a Commencement morning breakfast at the University Club ended the three-day festivities. Richard A. Hurdley, Jr., was in charge of the get-together. Present were J. Russell Beach, T. Dexter Clarke, Thomas J. Hunt, Jr., George W. Little, Jr., William H. McSoley, Marshall Marcus, Leon M. Najarian, G. Alan Rothschild, Everett W. Schreiner, Charles C. Tillinghast.

1933

IN ANTICIPATION of its 20th Reunion two years hence, the Class gathered informally at the Pawtucket Golf Club for cocktails, dinner, talk and (incidentally) some golf! Francis Cary, Bob Chase and Frank Hurd played a round on the course in honor of the 1933 Varsity golf squad on which they were teammates. Hurd was chosen to continue as Reunion Chairman. Those present were: Lewis Beuparlant, Cary, Chase, Leon Drury, Ken Eaton, Bill Gilbane, Tom Gilbane, Anthony Manera, Herb Pickard, Ted Quillan, Ruby Rubinstein, Ed Triangolo.

1936

THE MAIN EVENT in the Class' celebration of its 15th anniversary out of college was the softball game with 1941. When the game was called, 1936 was ahead 9-7. Informal sports and general conviviality took the place of an organized program, but everyone enjoyed himself during the two-day gathering at the Atlantic House at Narragansett Pier.

Class Secretary Robert W. Kenyon was Chairman of the Reunion Committee that consisted of G. E. Cadwgan, P. O'M. Conny, J. A. Dooley, D. M. Emery, C. H. Gifford, Jr., W. S. Gray, J. Olney, Jr., A. J. Owens, R. W. Pearce, W. E. Rollins, E. S. Soforenko, D. B. Stewart, Jr., G. E. Wheeler, Jr. Others who attended were: B. H. Abedon, C. M. Aldrich, Jr., N. M. Appleyard, R. K. Bristol, Jack Despres, W. E. Easton, E. F. Ebeling, G. T. English, Earl Fleisig, J. G. France, J. J. Gallagher, W. J. George, L. B. Giles, C. D. Hawkes, P. W. Holt, Andrew Jack, J. G. Krause, I. W. Lovell, W. B. Lund, E. F. McLaughlin, G. E. Manley, B. B. Mongillo, A. J. Murray, E. A. Neal, S. B. Nicholson, R. F. Noonan, Louis Novak, J. A. Reeves, D. E. Slattery, G. W. Smithson, I. H.

1939

AT THE WANNAMOISSETT Country Club on Saturday, June 2, a Class dinner and business meeting were held. The discussion centered on how the Class can make the best use of its funds for the future aid of the University. Class President Stan Mathes was authorized to appoint a Policy Committee to determine a program for the Class. It was also voted to suggest to the University that Alumni Dinner tickets not be limited to serving capacity and that athletic events have several ticket prices rather than a single general admission fee. Classmates at the dinner were: John Barrett, Howard Brown, Frank Comstock, Foster B. Davis, Jr., Edward Deignan, Raymond W. de Matteo, Bruno DiClemente, Ralph L. Fletcher, Charles Gross, Charles Gustavsen, Jr., Bill Hogan, E. M. Horton, Henry Jaburg, Jr., L. David Korb, Millard Lovejoy, Stan Mathes, John Moch-nacky, Charles Mullen, Raymond S. Penza, Thomas Quinn, Charles Reynolds, Thomas Roberts, Justin Robinson, Stuart Sherman, George H. Truman, Emery Walker, G. Gale Wisbach, Edward H. Ziegler, Jr.

1941

"CONSIDERING THE FACT that '41 is scattered from Scotland to Okinawa and from southern Massachusetts to northern Rhode Island," the attendance at the 10th Reunion was excellent! Some 70 Class members participated in the weekend events that were based at The Breakers Hotel on Narragansett Pier.

Before the Alumni Dinner and Class Night Dance on Friday, June 1, Classmates compared "10-year panaches and receding hairlines" at Brunonia Hall; then to the University Club for cocktails and on to the all-alumni festivities. On Saturday at The Breakers, Class softball cohorts challenged the team of 1936. The latter oldtimers forfeited the game, 9-0, and '41 made up two teams of its own. After dinner on Saturday, the two Classes joined forces for the evening's scheduled entertainment.

Sunday was a day of golfing, another softball game ('36 won by bringing its own umpire) and a clambake. At the Class Meeting, the following slate of officers was elected for five years: President—Bill McClelland; Vice-President—Lou Berger; Secretary—Walt Juszczyk; Treasurer—Paul Shelton; Deputy Secretary—Treasurer—Fred Drennan; 15th Reunion Chairman—John Shartenberg; Class Gift Committee Chairman—Eliot Rice. After a general discussion, the Class decided to concentrate on major reunions but to have some sort of get-together annually.

Classmates who attended were: Morris Bearak, Richard Bell, Lou Berger, Paul Blackmore, Samuel Bloch, Arthur Brown, William P. Buffum, Jr., Earle Cohen, George Conard, Charles Corcoran, George Corcoran, Thomas A. Cotter, Jr., William Crolius, Robert Cuddy, Jim Cunningham, Earle Dane, Robert J. Doherty, James Drenan, Fred Drennan, R. Sherwin Drury, Lou Duesing, Nathan A. Estes, Jr., Frank G. Feldman, Stuart Goodnow, Kenyon Greene, Clifford S. Gustafson, Clifton S. Gustafson, Arthur A. Helger-son, Roland F. Hopps, Jr., Alston Horton, George Hurley, Jr., William A. Jewett, Walt Juszczyk, Edward V. Lally, Thomas Lomasney, George McAlpine, Bill McClelland, Martin McDonough, Arthur McLaughlin, John McVay, Frank Manter, Jr., Allan S. Nanes, Harold B. Nash, James M. Nestor, Russell Newton, Joseph V. Ortoleva, William C. Pearce, Howard Pease, Jr., Robert Rapelye, Eliot Rice, James Sands, George Schuetz, Samuel Sepinuck, John Shartenberg, William P. Sheffield, Paul Shelton, Carlton Singleton, H. Richard Sonis, Harold A. Stege, Arthur Vierling, Howard Weiner.

Did We Miss Your Class?

WAS YOUR REUNION story missing from this round-up? If so, we'll try to have it for you in our first issue next fall. Not all reports were in from the Classes as we went to press early in August.

But, surely, there is evidence aplenty on these six pages to prove that 1951 was another great reunion year for Brown men. Already Class officers in many instances have begun their preparations for June of 1952. It gets to be a habit, fortunately.

1942

AT A DINNER MEETING held during the recent commencement weekend, Bill Potter was elected Chairman of the Tenth Reunion Committee of the Class of 1942. Bob Rockwell reports further:

"Bill hinted that a number of precedent-shattering plans are being discussed: a double-your-money-back guarantee for all those who attend and don't agree that it was the best Tenth Reunion of the Class of '42 they ever attended; prizes totalling millions of dollars; and a number of other fabulous events that Bill felt he was not at liberty to divulge.

"As an added inducement, arrangements are being made with the University to award honorary degrees to those members of the class who live at a considerable distance from Providence. Current thinking calls for Doctorates for all members who come from points 50,000 miles or further from Providence."

1945

THE CLASS PLANNED no Commencement weekend event outside of a Dutch-treat cocktail party at the University Club preceding the Alumni Dinner. Sam Arnold, Jr., Dave Bell, George Cady, Knight Edwards, Bill Metcalf, Pete Quinn and Doug Snow were at the get-together or the dinner or marched down the hill on Monday morning.

1946

IT WAS A FULL WEEKEND for '46ers who returned for their gala Fifth Reunion at Commencement time. North Caswell was the campus base of the activities that started Friday night with a cocktail party before the Alumni Dinner and ended at Commencement on Monday morning.

At the business meeting, held after Saturday luncheon in the Refectory, nominations for Class officers were made, with a special provision to elect regional vice-presidents who would stimulate interest in Brown in localities remote from Providence. Ballots for voting have been distributed already and the results will appear in a fall issue of the Monthly.

After the business part of the program was over, Classmates reported to the Seekonk Gun Club for softball and beer. At the dinner there, Paul F. Mackesey '32, Director of Athletics, reported on the sports picture at Brown.

Classmates present for all or part of the weekend were: Herb Barlow, Bill Barrett, Bob Black, Don Blake, Dick Brainard, Stan Charren, Mel Chernick, Ned Clarke, Luke DeStefano, Dick Deutch, Walt DiPrete, Howie Drew, Harry Foster, Mel Frank, Bob Gifford, Manny Goldense, Jack Gordon, Bill Hess, George Higgins, Jack Kenney, Pud Leach, Mike Liebsch, Chris Littlefield, Johnny Lynde, Jim McDonald, Sandy MacNair, Charlie Makepeace, Tony Masi, Bob Messenger, Sam Millman, Al Miranda, John Moran, Ed Nelson, Pat O'Brien, Lynn Pease, Joe Penner, John Petropoulos, Seymour Port, Jack Randall, Justin Richman, Earl Roberts, J. D. Roberts, Bill Roos, Ed Simpson, Arnold Soforenko, Morrie Stout, Erwin Strasmich, Dave Struble, Fred Suffa, Holly Tegarden, Pud Thornton, Charlie Tiedemann, Dick Tracy, Harold Washburn, Phil Weisbecker, Mal Williams, Marshall Wolfe. Others who were there included Hugh Allison and Steve Brush, both '48; Dan Fairchild and Tom Woods, both '45; and Bill Hoverman, Norm Jerome and Bob Ross, all '47. Littlefield was Chairman of the Reunion Committee which consisted of DiPrete, Leach, Masi, O'Brien and Tracy.

1950

THE FIRST ANNIVERSARY celebration of the Class' exit from Brown, the Zebra Derby, was not overcrowded by any means, but those who came had a wonderful time and plans are already under way for the Big Fifth Reunion in 1955.

Featured at the Class Dinner on Saturday night were new head Football Coach Alva Kelley and the English Department's own Doc Noyes. Kelley made some predictions about the 1951 grid squad and showed some movies of the spring practice sessions. Doc ended his entertaining dissertation with a "glaring display of talent" on the Taunton Inn's best piano.

The outing in the afternoon featured beer and softball, which combination resulted in the calling of four balls by a certain umpire when only two pitches had been thrown. Among those present at one or more of the weekend's activities were: Bob Archibald, Ken Arsenian, Frank Ahearn, Don Bach, Bernie Bernstein, Bob Breslin, Milt Brier, George Chapin, Bruce Chick, Selden Clark, Don Colo, Jim Colville, Bill Coyne, Jerry Del Vecchio, John Dillingham, Stan Dolin, Dave Fahlquist, Steve Feinberg, Tom Gilchrist, Arnie Green, Bob Hall, Roger Laudati, Burt Lindblom, Ed Lownes, Phil Lundgren, Joe Magsamen, Carl Medeiros, Dave Miller, Bill Milligan, Gerry Mooradian, Earl Mortensen, Peter Pedicini, Bob Pendleton, Rudy Petrucci, John Poulos, Bob Rohloff, Bob Roos, Dave Rosenfield, Sal Saccoccio, Jack Schreiber, Bob Shepard, Joe Souza, Conrad Surprenant, Johnny Swanton and Bob Machlachlan '49 for the University.

The Brown Clubs Report

Football Clambake

MEMBERS of all Brown Clubs will be welcome at the annual Football Clambake of the Rhode Island Brown Club, scheduled for Friday, Sept. 14, at the Peleg Francis Farm in Rehoboth. A Varsity scrimmage at Brown Field at 2 p.m. will precede the bake.

The bake has become a fixture of the fall season in Providence, providing an occasion for the press and radio sports editors and writers to see the Brown squad in action and to talk with the coaches about the prospects of the season. In the past the affair has been limited to members of the Rhode Island Brown Club and their guests, but the invitation will this year be extended to members of other Clubs, particularly those within easy driving distance. Freshmen, on the Hill for the Freshman Week which precedes the opening of College on Sept. 17, will also watch the scrimmage.

Norman Silverman is chairman of the committee on arrangements. Reservations for the bake should be sent to him at 226 Public St., Providence, accompanied by a check for $5.00 per person, made out to the Brown Club of R. I.

The Rhode Island Club ended its busy year of activity with the annual outing and meeting at the Wannamoisett Country Club May 9. Speaker of the evening was Judge John P. Hartigan, who entertained the audience with recollections of the Faculty past and present. Others on the program were Provost Arnold, Vice-President Applegate, Toastmaster Roger T. Clapp '19, and retiring and incoming officers.

Thomas F. Gilbane '33 succeeded E. John Lownes, Jr., '23 as President of the Club. Other new officers are: Vice-President—Foster B. Davis, Jr. '39; Treasurer—Richmond H. Sweet '25; Secretary—William D. Reynolds '37; Executive Committee—Milton I. Brier '50, Alfred Buckley, Jr. '49, Donald Campbell '48, Alan P. Cusick '32, Knight Edwards '45, Robert T. Engles '40, J. Richmond Fales '10, Fred L. Harson '31, Stanley Henshaw, Jr. '35, E. John Lownes, Jr. '23, Stanley F. Mathes '39, Lewis S. Milner '02, Martin L. Tarpay '37, Morton H. Nickerson '35, Joseph Olney, Jr. '36, William R. Potter, Jr. '42, J. Wilbur Riker '22, Ernest A. Savignano '42, Norman L. Silverman '31, Jackson H. Skillings '37.

Golf prizes went to Ralph Crosby, Paul Brugge, and Morton Nickerson.

On Cape Cod

OFFICERS of the Cape Cod Brown Club have tentatively set Aug. 22 as the date of their annual summer dinner when residents and "summer folks" join in a Brown reunion. It was hoped that President Wriston may be the guest of honor at the meeting at the Coonamessett Inn in North Falmouth (Hatchville). The Inn will serve a $3.00 dinner.

The officers will try to reach every Brown man on the Cape to confirm the date when the plans are completed, and will have local newspaper publicity. But any visitors without information about the affair by mid-summer are urged to get in touch with any of the following: E. Melson Webster, Box 414, Moonpenny Lane, Chatham, Mass.; William W. Peters, 83 Walker St., Falmouth; Thurlow B. Bearse, 38 School St., Hyannis; Paul P. Henson, Jr., Orleans; or Carl A. Terry, Box 84, Barnstable. Reservations may be made with any of them.

Granger Heads N. Y. Club

THE ANNUAL MEETING of the Brown University Club in New York was held at the Club May 8. Retiring President Frederick Rohlf's '26 thanked the committee members who had served faithfully while he was in office. Robert Litchfield '23 gave the report of the nominating committee, and the slate was passed unanimously. Jeffery S. Granger '13 was elected President, Alexander Gardiner '14 Vice-President, Robert G. Inman '24 Secretary, and Gavin Pitt '38 Treasurer. Those elected to a three-year term on the Board of Governors were Everett M. Arnold '21, Lyman G. Bloomingdale '35, James Jemal '18, Robert W. Burgess '08, Frederick H. Rohlf's '26 and Edward J. Gorman '23. William B. Bateman '46 was elected to a two-year term on the Board to fill the unexpired term of Gavin Pitt. J. McCall Hughes '33, Herbert M. Iselin '42, Walter Richter '48 and Charles C. Tillinghast '32 were elected to the Admissions Committee.

In calling for increased Club activity and responsibility, especially among the younger members, the new President said: "By making the New York Brown Club stronger we can help make the University stronger."

Alvah Kelley, Varsity football coach, talked of Brown's gridiron future and the Ivy League. There are numerous problems to be solved before Brown improves

JEFFERY S. GRANGER '13:

"To make the University stronger."

its football fortunes, he said, but there is potential ability on the squad, which showed improved spirit during the spring practice.

Earlier in the day Kelley was a speaker at the Touchdown Club, preceding his former boss, Herman Hickman, on the program. About a dozen Brown men attended as guests of Larry Gardiner '14 and Herb Iselin '42. During the afternoon the Brown Club arranged a press reception for Kelley. Bill Lauder, Jr., '35 of the Herald-Tribune and Jack Newcombe '48 of Sport Magazine were among the interviewing New York sports writers.

BOB GOLRICK '47

To Hear the Broadcast

THE BRUNONIANS in Dallas were a disappointed group as they broke up May 7. They had met to listen together to the Brown University Night at the Boston Pops as broadcast nationally. They heard the first halfhour and were told about the hall being full of Brown alumni and undergraduates, but the second portion of the scheduled show, which included the Glee Clubs of Brown and Pembroke, was off the air to permit a broadcast by President Truman. Good local publicity went for naught.

Nevertheless, the meeting of the Dallas Brown Club at the home of the Coburn Buxtons was not without its accomplishment. At a business meeting the following agreed to assist Buxton, Secretary of the Club, as Regional Agents in the Brown Alumni Fund: Charles Vivian '40, Burton Sears '41, Norman Ross '42, Robert Pike '28, Edward B. Peterson '23, Spero Constantine '48, John Donley '39, and Paul Henkel '38. Others present were Mrs. Buxton, Harry J. Williams '99 and Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Ann Crowley Williams '41, Mrs. Gertrude Levin Pullman '39 and Mr. Pullman (University of Rhode Island), and Mrs. Mary Brownell Pike '28.

Plans were discussed for a summer picnic at the home of President Peterson in Irving.

(The Texans were not the only Brown men who felt cheated out of their broadcast.)

Hartford Elects Rowbotham

THE ANNUAL MEETING of the Hartford Brown Club on May 22 was successful in every way. Provost Arnold, Coach Kelley, and the Alumni Executive Officer proved to be an excellent combination. We enjoyed them immensely.

An unexpected treat for us was the introduction of Al Kelley by the President of the Cornell Club of Hartford, Max Savitt. Max left no doubt as to what a wonderful coach we have in Al. Another treat was the short speech made by Bill Lee, Sports Editor of the Hartford Courant. Coaches from all the five high schools in the Greater Hartford area were invited to bring with them a couple of their boys, all of whom were guests of the Club. Phil Steiger '47 did a great job for us.

Officers elected for the coming year were: President—Bill Rowbotham '26; Vice-President—Jack Montgomery '38; Treasurer—Ken Wright '38; Assistant Treasurer—Bob Jones '47; Secretary—Cy Flanders '18; Assistant Secretary—Steiger. Bob Allison '29 was given a rising vote of thanks for handling our mailings.

Attending the dinner were: Allison, Francis P. Brown, Jr. '25, Frank Carollo '51, Jim Cooper '45, Ben Crehore '28, Lloyd Davis '48, Frank Crocker '15, John Dorin '21 of Torrington, Bill Dealey '13, Stoughton Ellsworth '50, Cy Flanders '18, Ken Flanders '17, Bob Gannon '36, Russ Granniss '36, Finky Gurll '31, Kent Hadley '54, Ev Harkness '05, Dr. Frank Horton '45, Dan Howard '93, Andy Jack '35, Frank Jones '97, R. C. Lorentz '32, Harold McKay '18, Arnold MacDonald of Meriden '39, Paul Monahan '31, John Montgomery '38, Larry Mueller '46, Abner Newton '23, Dr. John O. Nolan '36, Dr. Clarence Peckham '19, Dr. Maurice Pike '21, Harry Pogson '42, Al Rowbotham '28, Bill Rowbotham '26, Larry Smith '20, Dr. Donald W. Smith '35, Steiger, Stuart Tinkham '23, Jon Tobey '50, Leon Tracy '41, Ed Tuller '35, Allyn Wadhams '14, George Wargo, Jr., '43, Dr. N. William Wawro '34, Sid Wray '45, and Ken Wright '38.

CY FLANDERS

In the Merrimack Valley

VICE-PRESIDENT Bruce M. Bigelow and Classics Professor Herbert N. Couch shared the platform at the 28th annual meeting of the Merrimack Valley Brown Club in May.

Speaking in the Log Cabin on the grounds at Phillips Academy, Andover, Mass., Bigelow recounted the problems that the University is facing in these uncertain times. In answer to his title, "Why Have Professors?", Prof. Couch said that the professor should act as a vital intermediary between his pupils and their books. The reward of teaching, he said, is "the rounding out of lives."

At elections that followed, these men were chosen Club officers: President—Everett G. Perkins '16; Vice-President—Paul J. Spencer '26; Secretary-Treasurer—James S. Eastham '19; Executive Committee—John Avery, Jr. '48, James Cantor '29, Rufus E. Corlew '25, Thomas R. Hadfield '24, Robert M. Stronach '48.

Northeastern N. Y. Elects

AT A SPRING MEETING, the Brown Club of Northeastern New York elected the following officers: President—G. Alan Rothschild '32; Vice-President—William T. Townsend '46; Secretary-Treasurer—Edwin B. Laughlin '43; Board of Governors—Van Vechten Graves '29, Carl E. Martin '23, Thomas McKone '43, Robert Person '41.

Leadership in Boston

DANIEL L. BROWN '12 succeeds Robert G. Bleakney '23 as President of the thriving Brown University Club of Boston. The Club held its annual meeting at luncheon on May 22, concluding a good year of activity in the Hub under Bleakney's leadership.

Other officers for 1951-1952 are: First Vice-President and Chairman of the Membership Committee—Edwin M. Murphy '19; Second Vice-President and Chairman of the Luncheon Committee—Ralph H. Mullane '19; Third Vice-President and Chairman of the Nominating Committee—Richard E. Hale '41; Secretary—Loring P. Litchfield '28; Treasurer and Assistant Secretary—Fred Bloom '40; Directors until 1953—Robert G. Bleakney '23; Charles J. Brown '27 (also Chairman of Sub-Freshman Committee); F. Hartwell Swaffield '37 (also Chairman of Publicity Committee); Samuel J. McDonald, Jr. '38 (also Chairman of Smoker); Directors until 1952—William R. Hulbert, Jr. '37 (also Chairman of Legal Committee); George Channing '11; Arthur H. Crosbie '39 (also Chairman of Scholarship Committee); Milton B. Brightman '29 (also Chairman of Annual Dinner).

Philadelphia Officers Greeted

PHILADELPHIA'S MAY LUNCHEON was converted into a reception for the new officers of the Brown Club. They are: President—James M. Gicker '33; Vice-President—John F. Heinz '47; Secretary—James S. Siegal '46; Treasurer—Ralph H. Seifert '50. The luncheon at the Alpha Club was the last meeting of the Club until September.

L. A. Lunches Continue

THE LOS ANGELES Brown Club will continue its semi-monthly luncheons throughout the summer this year. Instead of suspending such activity as has been the custom in the past, the Club decided there will always be a dependable nucleus present to welcome occasional or transient visitors. Time and place remain the same: noon on the first and third Tuesdays of the month in the mezzanine dining room of the Rosslyn Hotel at 111 West Fifth St. (The Hotel serves a business men's lunch from 65¢ up.)

An excellent idea for stimulating regional Club interest, well worth passing on, has been suggested by Theron Clark

'95. He wrote before his departure for a visit in Providence this June that his Class had held a number of meetings in the Los Angeles area, where five '95 men are resident. "We five get together and telephone enough to keep up quite a friendship. This suggests that if a Club would promote Class fellowship, it would promote Club fellowship."

A new Club roster is in prospect for the Fall.

ALFRED T. MARSHALL '42

Mid-Hudson's Largest

THE MAYFAIR ROOM of the Nelson House in Poughkeepsie, N. Y., on April 23 held one of the largest gatherings ever of the Mid-Hudson Brown Club. It was the annual spring dinner meeting of the Club and a special attraction was the evening's guest speaker, Vice-President Bruce Bigelow '24.

Ranging in his talk all the way from President Wriston to the newest Freshman, Bruce explained the admission procedure at the University. He also discussed the predicament that the colleges are in but assured the alumni that the ideals of liberal education that Brown has always stood for will not be sacrificed.

At the elections that followed, these officers were chosen for 1951-52: President—Louis C. Sigloch III '40; Vice-President—H. Wilson Guernsey, Jr. '43; Secretary-Treasurer—H. Irving Long, Jr. '49. (Everyone laughed when Bruce said something about a "railroad job.")

Club guests included some members' wives and a few local secondary school administrators. Alumni present included (besides the officers): W. Howard Young '16, Joe Emsley '24, Louis Booth '05, George Welch '19, Leon Clark '10, Bob Campbell '50, Benson Frost '08, Benson Frost, Jr. '41, H. W. Guernsey '06, Paul Brady '20, Harry Marks '25, Irv Tragle III '40, Art Barry '27, George Bland '48, Tom Pitts '48, Al Buff '46, Schuyler Fox '94.

H. IRVING LONG, JR. '49

Each Month in Indianapolis

INDIANAPOLIS ALUMNI (and those faithful Brunonians who come in from some distance) are reminded that the Brown Club has a new location for the monthly luncheons held on the first Monday. These informal round-table affairs are now held at the YWCA, 329 North Pennsylvania St., we are informed by William A. Dyer, Jr., '24.

ALUMNI IN NORTHEASTERN NEW YORK turned out to welcome Vice-President Bruce M. Bigelow '24 when the latter visited Albany late in April.

FIRST SCHOLARSHIP awarded by the Lackawanna Brown Club was announced at a joint meeting of several clubs in northern New Jersey. Above are President George R. Decker '23 and the recipient, John Coffin.

Lackawanna's Choices

JOHN COFFIN, son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Coffin of 12 Oakland Terrace, Maplewood, has been awarded the Lackawanna Brown Club's first annual $600 scholarship to Brown University, it was announced May 10 at a joint meeting of the Lackawanna, Eagle Rock and Plainfield Brown clubs at the Hotel Suburban, East Orange.

George R. Decker '23 of Summit, Lackawanna President, who made the award, said the youth was outstanding scholastically and had many athletic and extracurricular activities at Columbia High School, where he is a senior.

Newly elected club officers are: President—George A. Blakeslee Jr. of Maplewood; Vice-President—Lawrence B. Howell of Morristown; Secretary—Walter Koebig of Chatham; Assistant Secretary—William K. Flanagan, Jr., of South Orange; Treasurer—Theodore J. Montigel of Chatham; Assistant Treasurer—Edward W. Pietrusza of Morristown; and members of the executive committee—W. Freeman Crawford of South Orange, Dr. A. Walter Murdock Jr. of Sparta, John H. Kreidler of Short Hills and Charles D. Kenney of Summit.

San Diego's Ivy League

LAST SPRING in San Diego, representatives of the local alumni groups of Brown, Cornell, Dartmouth, Harvard and Yale decided to form an Ivy League association to aid in keeping strong the distant ties with their schools. The first meeting of the new body was held on June 26, at which time it was hoped that Columbia, Pennsylvania and Princeton would join their California colleagues.

A word of greeting from Brown Alumni Executive Officer William B. Mc-

Cormick '23 praised the group's founders, asserting that "it is a warming thought that the traditional keen rivalry among our respective colleges has served to engender a significant bond of good fellowship, and of mutual respect for our common aims in higher education."

Plainfield to Watchung

PRELIMINARY PLANS for the development of the informal Plainfield (N. J.) Area Section of Brown Alumni into THE WATCHUNG BROWN CLUB have been discussed by a temporary steering committee. The specific objective of the new organization is "to promote the welfare of Brown University and its former, present, and future students." In order to reach this objective, a concentrated effort will be made to:

1. Retain and improve the interest of Brown men in the area organization.
2. Advertise and promote Brown University.
3. Aid the Admissions' Office in the selection of new students.

The committee must be in possession of certain important data before the plans for the new Organization and the program for 1951-52 can be presented in open meeting. In a few days, all Brown men in the Plainfield area should receive a questionnaire from the committee. A prompt reply is sincerely requested. Any Brown man living in the area who does not receive a questionnaire is requested to notify either Charles Walz, Jr., 720 Hobart Ave., Plainfield, N. J. (PL 5-4645) or Charles Benz, Martinsville, N. J.

CHARLES E. BENZ '32

Phi Beta Kappa's Officers

AT THE 122ND ANNUAL MEETING of the R. I. Alpha of Phi Beta Kappa, held on Saturday at the Refectory, Dr. Wilfred Pickles '18 was elected President to succeed his Classmate, Prof. Zenas R. Bliss of the Brown Division of Engineering.

Prof. William T. Hastings '03, retiring as Chapter Secretary after 31 years, was elected Vice-President. At the luncheon that followed the initiation of newly-elected members, Prof. Hastings spoke on "The Iron Curtain of the Mind."

Replacing Prof. Hastings as Secretary is Prof. Andrew Sabol '41 of the Department of English. Others elected are: Treasurer—Ronald B. Smith '23; Auditor—George Miner '97; Memberships Committee—Prof. R. Gale Noyes '21, C. Gurney Edwards '18 and Prof. Arlan R. Coolidge '24; Committee on Arrangements—Dr. Pickles, Mason B. Merchant '25, Francis J. O'Brien '16 and Dr. George W. Waterman '15; Committee on New Chapters—Professors Sabol, Sinclair W. Armstrong and C. Raymond Adams '18; Nominating Committee—Peter E. Donnelly '29, Prof. Ben W. Brown '19 and Alan P. Cusick '32.

It was announced that during the year, 37 men and 21 women had been elected to Chapter membership.

In the Mailbag

Elementary Math

SIR: Whoever wrote the "Simple Statement on University Finance" for the Brown Alumni Fund should take a bow. That is certainly a concise, effective presentation which cleared up many doubts in my mind.

On the other hand, whoever wrote the story in the May issue of your magazine about the Alumni Fund's "Flying Start," should take a refresher in elementary mathematics. I'm sure Tom Appleget would never have been guilty of so careless a comment as he is credited with: "The Vice-President hoped that the Alumni Fund might produce at least $100,000 for 1951. That would be the equivalent of $250,000,000 in endowment at 4%." I wish Brown had that much endowment, but I'm sure it would invest it to get a better return than that.

What you mean, of course, is $2,500,000 in endowment at 4%.

A FRIEND

(Of course. No wonder our son did so poorly the time we helped him with his arithmetic.—Ed.)

Theta Deltas' Roost

SIR: Enjoyed your article in May about the old Market House at the foot of College Hill. To complete the record of its various occupancies, you may wish to know that Theta Delta Chi once held its meetings and social activities on the third floor of the Market House. This was during my years at Brown, 1904-1908, at least. Theta Delta Chi's records will show how long they rented the third floor of this famous building.

JOHN G. CANFIELD '08
Flushing, N. Y.

Brunonians Far and Near

EDITED BY DOUGLAS A. SNOW '45

1882

I SHALL MISS my long talks about Brown with father," writes the daughter of the late Charles H. S. Weaver. "Almost the last thing he told me was to be sure to notify his classmates, which I did. He was keenly interested till the very end."

Dr. William H. Tolman writes thus of Charles H. S. Weaver: "Brown University and his classmates of '82 remaining on earth, as well as those who have gone ahead to the spirit world, have suffered a great loss in his passing. He was loyal and devoted to his Alma Mater. While at college, I knew him simply as one of my classmates. Living at home I lost nearly all the social contacts, which are great assets in educational and character formation."

"Our intimacy began many years after graduation when I witnessed his kind thoughts and kinder deeds for others. He believed in and did experience for himself, the joy of living. He was a gentleman of the old school, and was never so happy as when giving pleasure to others. His genial manner and gentle tactfulness, fitted him for quick contacts with statesmen, special economists and men of affairs, both in Europe and at home. He was a man of 'Two hemispheres' and a striking personality in each."

1887

As part of an eight-member Senate Foreign Relations Committee group making an informal diplomatic and military tour of Europe, Senator Theodore Francis Green lunched with British Prime Minister Attlee and Foreign Secretary Morrison. He also visited Winston Churchill at the latter's town house. On their return late in July, members of the party reported to Congress on their study of American spending abroad under the E.C.A. program, which had been their major interest in traveling.

1891

Dr. Arthur L. Beals is now residing at the Masonic Home in Charlton, Mass. Mail will reach him there.

1892

Herbert F. Gould has retired and is living in West Hartford, Conn., at 26 Knollwood Rd.

1895

Theron Clark was in and around Providence for two weeks in June and July. He and Mrs. Clark motored from California and visited many of their New England friends and some of their family who are still here. Retired as Registrar at U.C.L.A., our Classmate brightened many Alumni Office mornings when he "reported in" for mail.

1896

Judge G. Frederick Frost was appointed Presiding Justice of the R. I. Superior Court in July. The appointment is temporary, pending the recovery from a summer illness of Judge Charles A. Walsh '99, who has been hospitalized.

1897

Back in time for Commencement after his annual six months' sales tour through Florida (he is New England and Florida agent for the Allpax Co., packing manufacturers), William Harris reports that Florida power companies are growing by leaps and bounds these days. The immediate success of the concentrated fruit juice industry has created the need for more power and the utilities are responding to the call. This was Bill's third year in Florida after 25 years with the company. He saw Classmate Bill Peck down there at St. Petersburg, and ran in to Aaron Bilgore '31 in Clearwater. He covered about 35 cities in his tour.

1899

Nathaniel H. Gifford, Jr., son of our late Classmate, was married to Miss Anne MacLeod, daughter of Colin G. MacLeod '15 and Mrs. MacLeod, in Saundertown, R. I., June 29, 1951. The groom is a graduate of Princeton.

1900

Nate Tufts reports that he, Paul Kingsley '16 and Dr. Alexander Meiklejohn '93 had a pleasant visit in May when Dr. Meiklejohn stopped at the Hotel George Washington where Nate is Manager. Brown's former Dean was in New York City for a convention. He stayed in the East to attend the Brown Commencement in June. Later, Nate and Mrs. Tufts went to California to visit Nate, Jr., and his family. There he had a reunion with Classmate Nate Myrick who sent back best wishes to all. He also saw Arthur Macurda '95 for the first time in 56 years, which fact made news in Fitchburg, Mass., where the two lived on the same street as boys. They also attended the same high school and at Brown both were members of DU fraternity.

George W. Rickard's ninth grandchild was born in March of this year. Ronald A. Gray is the fifth child born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Gray of Norwood, Mass. Mrs. Gray is the former Florence V. Rickard.

In April J. Claire Peaslee was honored by his associates and friends in Plymouth, N. H., on the occasion of his 50th anniversary as a registered pharmacist. A congratulatory letter from N. H. Governor Sherman Adams was among the many messages he received. Our Classmate was feted as a 50-year Mason last September. He has been Plymouth Town Clerk for 20 years.

In recognition of his 25 years as Pastor of the First Congregational Church of Whitman, Mass., the Rev. Harold S. Capron was presented with a gold wrist watch by his grateful parishioners. A sum of money to be used for a new pulpit robe was also contributed. Before his call to Whitman, Mr. Capron served in churches in Elmira, Rochester and Irondequoit, N. Y., Bangor, Me., and Newport, R. I.

Dr. Willard H. Bacon was presented the Service to Youth Award at the annual dinner of the Westerly YMCA recently, "in recognition of untiring service in the interests of the young people of Westerly for a period of nearly 50 years." The citation further said: "No consideration has been given to your work as Superintendent of Schools whereby for 36 years you conscientiously worked for their best interests, but it is given in consideration of the wise and generous use you have made of your time and your eminent abilities over and beyond the call of duty . . . To many people retirement means leisure for enjoyment; to you it has meant more time to work for others."

The sympathy of the members of the Class is extended to Dr. Ray L. Whitney, whose wife passed away in June.

It was interesting that Joseph Warren Downes, who died in North Waterboro, Me., June 13, should have built up a considerable law practice during the last years of his life. He had graduated from Harvard Law School and been admitted to the Massachusetts bar, but he chose to enter business and was associated during the greater part of his adult life with Pearson, Ekhard & Company, Boston investment bankers. When he retired in 1946, idleness was not for him, and he returned to his early love, the law. Of him the undertaker said at the grave, "A good many people are going to miss that man."

1901

Dr. Albert L. Midgley, past President of the R. I. Dental Society, was honored at a dinner in June for his 50 years in the dental profession.

1903

Prof. William T. Hastings' daughter, Dr. Elizabeth T. Hastings P '34, has been named Dean of Flora Stone Mather College of Western Reserve University. A Yale Ph. D., she was Co-Chairman of the English Department at Illinois College and will assume her new duties in September. Another daughter, Prof. Hester Hastings P '31 of the Romance Language Department at Randolph-Macon Women's College, has started her sabbatical leave during which she will do research in the field of French literature.

1904

Chairman of the Alumni Fellowship Fund of Columbia University's Teachers College is Dr. Charles W. Hunt, retired President of Oneonta (N. Y.) State Teachers College. The Fund was established in April "to provide additional or advanced study for worthy students and practicing educators through graduate fellowships." Dr. Hunt is also Secretary-Treasurer of the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Training.

Arthur L. Young has retired after 38 years of service with the Connecticut State Department of Education. He's a long way from New England now, having moved in August to 685 North 9th East St., Provo, Utah.

1905

Another Class grandfather is Herbert C. Wells whose son and daughter-in-law,

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert C. Wells, Jr., are parents of a second daughter, Karen, born May 19, 1951.

A card from Leroy F. Bliss informed us that he is now in the Algonquin Nursing Home, 15 Algonquin St., Dorchester, Mass. He was moved there this spring after five weeks in the Allerton Hospital in Brookline, Mass.

Robert Jamieson writes that he has a new address: 12034 Nardin, Detroit, Mich.

Another Classmate who has moved is Frederick Schwinn. His new mail address is 211 Waterman St., Providence 6.

1906

Elmer D. Nickerson was elected Auditor of "The Players," amateur theatrical organization in Providence. President of the organization is Prof. Ben W. Brown '19.

Re-elected a Director for 1951-52 of the R. I. Electric Protective Co. is Albert W. Clafin. Henry G. Clark '07 is President and Treasurer of the company.

In June, congratulations were in order for Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jones who celebrated their 30th wedding anniversary at their home in New Haven, Conn. Our Classmate has retired as a Conneco executive.

Arthur F. Driscoll is senior member of the reorganized law firm of O'Brien, Driscoll and Raftery. Continuing at his same business address in New York City, our Classmate is a partner of Paul D. O'Brien '27.

1907

This year's Class Award was presented to Roy A. Bailey '51 of Barrington, R. I. Given annually to the Senior who combines a high degree of scholastic ability and character with athletic ability, the honor was announced at Chapel exercises in May. A geology major, Bailey is an associate member of Sigma Xi and winner of the second Susan Colver Rosenberger prize for excellence in geology as a Senior. He was active on the track team and in the band and orchestra.

Charles Hibbard has sent a new address for his mail: 2177 N. W. Irving St., Apt. 2, Portland 10, Ore.

1908

Leslie E. Swain continues as a Director of the Christian Camp Meeting Association, 80-year old organization at Craigville on Cape Cod. He is also serving as a Director of the two-year-old Centerville Civic Association, which has succeeded in getting zoning laws passed for the district. Swain is also Secretary of the Cape Cod Clerical Club.

1909

Class Secretary Henry S. Chafee was surprised at the last meeting of the session of the Staff Association of the Providence Public Library when he was presented with a scroll expressing appreciation for his 31 years' service on the Board of Trustees. Henry, who has been President of the Board for 10 of those years, reminisced about his early days as Trustee when he was an "errand boy" for two Brown professors (also Trustees), one of whom "would have no truck with novels" and the other who "got all the books as to which there was a question whether they were 'proper' for the library."

Another Classmate with library interests is Jim Turner, who, though he may have been a "rowdy engineer," had enough literary acumen to be named Vice-President of the East Providence Free Library. As Superintendent of the East Providence Water Dept., Jim is completing an expansion of the water supply which includes three new wells and a tie-in with the Watchemoket Fire District.

Harold B. Tanner is heading a "Committee of 100" which will concern itself with sponsoring and interpreting the $1,000,000 campaign of the Greater Providence YMCA next winter.

Chester L. Nourse is living on Post Rd., Greenland, N. H.

1910

Class Secretary Andy Comstock was hospitalized in July and underwent an operation. He recovered fast, and is back on the job for the Class and for Phi Psi.

George A. Round is completing 37 years with the Socony Vacuum Oil Co. In recent years he has traveled extensively in the United States and made frequent trips to Canada and Mexico as the company's chief automotive engineer. His oldest son, Arthur '49, is studying medicine at Boston University.

Among his duties as Senior Master under the Headmaster at Hotchkiss, Howard A. Taber has charge of the prep school's scholarship records. Apparently it is a case of "like-father-like-son" as his son, Howard W., has just been named Assistant Headmaster of the Casady School, a country day-type school near Oklahoma City. The younger Tabers will be up for a visit this August.

Dick Colmetz is regaining his strength after a spring operation and plans to get to Providence sometime this summer. He has a 2½-year old granddaughter that he hopes to see in Washington, D. C., too.

An English teacher at Classical High School, Springfield, Mass., Ray Fenner is spending his summer vacation on a trip to Tacoma, Wash., with his wife.

1911

John V. Keily was awarded a Certificate of Merit for services to the engineering profession by the R. I. Society of Professional Engineers at a dinner meeting in May. Our Classmate was first President of the organization.

A granddaughter has been added to the family circle of H. Eddy Easton and his wife, Gay Horton, born June 27, 1951, to Mr. and Mrs. John A. Horton, is also the grandchild of Elmer S. Horton '10 and Mrs. Horton. Another Class grandchild born on the same day is Kenneth F. Knight, Jr. His proud grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Ira W. Knight.

First Place for the Refectory

A Prize and a Problem

WILLIAM N. DAVIS, Director of Student Residences and Dining Halls at Brown, went out to Chicago in May to receive the first-place award that his new mechanized giant, the Refectory, had won in a national competition with some 600 other new installations. Less than a week later he was trying to figure out how to keep the giant operating without the mechanization.

A power failure in the East Side section of Providence shut off everything electrical in the Refectory for some 10 hours. Luckily, the break came at 6:25, just as the 1100 diners were starting on their dessert and coffee after the evening meal. Daylight saving permitted them to finish with little discomfort, but the problem of what to do with 15,000 dirty utensils and no functioning dishwashing machines was not so easily solved. Besides, it was exam week and few of the 82 student waiters could stay around to help very long.

But they did get the dishes stacked in the serving core, and 20 waiters remained to carry them downstairs (the elevators were inoperative) to the washing area. The stairwell was lighted by candles and the students sang dirges to heighten the effect. On the sorting tables the dishes were stacked in about 100 piles to await the return of power. Just in case it didn't return, Director Davis had his staff get paper plates, cups and utensils ready for breakfast.

A baker who arrived for work at midnight was able to get his gas-fired ovens going in time to prepare coffee cakes for the morning meal. At 4:20 a.m. the power came back on, and some of the student help, who had voluntarily reported at 5:45

(an hour and a quarter early) to help out, were able to run the stacked dishes, the flatware, and the glasses through the washers in time for use at breakfast.

So did the Refectory pass its first "roughing it" test. The experience was sort of a testimonial for the Institutions Magazine plaque which Brown's new dining hall had won over university and club food serving facilities all over the country. It was also proof that the Refectory would work even if all its equipment wouldn't.

WILLIAM N. DAVIS

For the Refectory, notional honors.

John Adolf Staff, father of Arthur E. Staff of Brockton and Dr. Edgar J. Staff '15 of Edgewood, R. I., died May 9 at the age of 98. A native of Ostergotland, Sweden, he came to Brockton in 1880, living there in good health and active until three days before his death. In addition to five living children, there were six grandchildren, including: Edgar F. Staff '53 of Edgewood, Arthur A. Staff '38 of Brockton, and Dr. Robert E. Staff '40 of Sitka, Alaska. Elodie F. Staff, Pembroke '46, is the wife of Harold E. Miller, Jr., '47, son of Harold E. Miller '07. Dorothy C. Staff is the wife of Robert E. Dinnie '49.

W. Randolph Burgess' son, Julian A. Burgess '43, is engaged to Miss Virginia Norton McIntyre, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin P. McIntyre of Hastings-on-Hudson, N. Y. Our Classmate's son is with the Investment Department of the New York Life Insurance Co.

Thomas E. McGreen's son, John C. McGreen, was married to Miss Louise M. Reilly in Providence, July 14, 1951. An usher was T. Campbell McGreen '43, brother of the groom.

Harry S. Wright is still in Hingham, Mass., but his address has changed to 18 Stoddard Rd.

1913

Dr. George Boas, Johns Hopkins University Professor of Philosophy, told the graduating class at the University of New Mexico that Americans "are an experimental people" because of the variety of their origins and habits. To keep up with a constantly-changing world, he stated that U. S. citizens should demand two new freedoms—from ignorance and from conformity. "In our very diversity lies our strength," he said.

Grace Marilyn Kennison, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Samuel Kennison, was married June 17, 1951, in Providence to Dr. Justin L. Richman '46.

In July, John E. Rouse completed 30 years' service with Stanolind Oil and Gas Company and associated firms. Our Classmate, who is at present Vice-President in charge of operations for Stanolind in the Tulsa general office, joined Midwest Refining Co. in 1918. This was later purchased by Stanolind, and in 1945 Rouse was transferred to the parent company which is one of the six leading producers of crude oil, natural gas and natural gas liquids in the United States. At appropriate ceremonies, Rouse received a diamond service pin in recognition for his service.

Vice-President and Secretary of the R.I. Electric Protective Co. is Alfred B. Lemon. Lemon had a non-professional interest in the theft of the Stone of Scone from Westminster Abbey last April, for Mrs. Lemon's nephew, Ian Hamilton, was the young Glasgow University student who planned and directed the removal of the famous relic.

1914

Class Secretary Francis W. Post received a new address from Watson F. Buhler in June. It is 959 North Croft Ave., Hollywood, Calif. Wat added that he became a grandfather in May when his daughter, Mrs. R. A. Gross, gave birth to Ronald Russell Gross.

After 37 years with the Bell Telephone System, Ferdinand J. Ward has retired to take up permanent residence at his summer home on Deer Isle, Maine. It's quite a change from New York City, where he was with American Tel and Tel's Operations and Engineering Department, but he hopes to get back occasionally for Brown Engineering Association meetings. He also hopes that Brown men in the East Penobscot Bay area will stop in for a chat now and then.

Dr. Paul P. Henson is a Staff Surgeon at the Cape Cod Hospital in Hyannis, Mass. His home is in Hyannis at 149 Main Street.

1915

Judge Robert E. Quinn was elected Chairman of the new West Warwick (R.I.) Planning Commission. Serving as temporary Chairman at meetings preceding his appointment was Alexander DiMartino '29. Legal Adviser of the Commission is Judge James W. Leighton '17.

William G. Thurber was re-elected a Director of the R.I. Electric Protective Co. at its annual meeting in June.

Minot J. Crowell and Mrs. Crowell have a new grandson. He's David F.

"Shoestring College"

THE "SHOESTRING COLLEGE" is what Virginia folks call the Richmond Professional Institute; and Dean Henry W. Hibbs '10, founder of the school that trains students for specific jobs, is proud of the appellation.

It was just 34 years ago this fall that the Richmond School of Social Work and Public Health opened its one door to some 300 eager students. In the nomadic years till 1925, the institution occupied three different sites in the city. Now it owns 24 buildings—most of them old mansions—and offers over 500 courses taught by more than 100 faculty members to some 2500 students. The shoestring has stretched.

Dean Hibbs started his modest enterprise with the idea that a liberal arts education may be good for some people but not for all. There are a few arts students among the undergraduates now, but most of the students at RPI are interested specifically in social work, business administration, advertising, journalism, statistics, biological technology, recreational leadership, sculpture, etc. Under the Dean's one-man administration, the school has grown until now it enjoys a working arrangement (in engineering) with Virginia Polytechnic Institute and is a division (since 1925) of William and Mary.

Soccer, baseball and basketball teams from RPI regularly play with major Southern Conference squads, and on the planning boards is a $250,000 gymnasium-classroom building, the first structure ever designed expressly for the school. Dean Hibbs has every right to be proud of his college and the shoestring that is now historic.

Crowell, Jr., and his father is now serving in Korean waters as a Chief Quartermaster with the Navy. Young David was born June 6, 1951.

After several years as a traveling lecturer for the National Conference of Christians and Jews and the Christian Rural Overseas Program, the Rev. Wallace L. Gallup has returned to pastoral work as Minister of the Presbyterian Church in Greenwich, N. J.

Miss Anne MacLeod, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Colin G. MacLeod, was married June 29, 1951, to Nathaniel Gifford, Jr., in Saundertown, R. I. The groom, a Princeton graduate, is the son of Mrs. Nathaniel Gifford and the late Dr. Gifford '99.

1916

Sincere sympathy is extended to Classmate Earl D. Sanford whose mother, Mrs. Cora Duckworth Sanford, died in Edgewood, R. I., June 5, 1951.

1917

Dr. Edwin M. Knights, Deputy City Health Officer of Providence, is a prize-winning tree farmer by avocation. On land that has been in his family since the "tenth year of the reign of George III (1772)," he set out a batch of white pine seedlings some 20 years ago. They did so well that he's been planting ever since. Four years ago he doubled his acreage, and now has about 15,000 trees in the woods he has planted. Most of the trees are red pine, white pine and Norway Spruce. This year as an experiment he set out some Chinese chestnut, English walnut and black walnut. His son, Ed, Jr. '46, helps when he is home.

New Chairman of the Springfield (Mass.) Police Commission is Ralph A. Armstrong. Our Classmate is in the legal department of the Mass. Mutual Insurance Co.

1918

Carroll B. Larrabee, Editor of Printers' Ink, was the speaker at the annual meeting of the Friends of the Library on May 7. In the John Hay's Special Collections Room, he addressed the Friends on "What the Pressure Groups Are Doing to Your Reading, Your Looking, Your Listening." In July he attended the International Advertising Conference in London.

Elijah Anthony's daughter, Adele, was married May 6, 1951, in New York City to Arthur Bauman '49. The bride is a Pembroke, Class of '49.

Class grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Roberts Parsons. Their daughter and son-in-law, the David Z. Baileys of Charlestown, R. I., have a son, David S. Bailey, born June 27, 1951.

Roswell S. Bosworth, Jr., son of our Classmate and Mrs. Bosworth, was married May 26 in Providence to Miss Sarah Hodgman of Taunton, Mass.

1919

Samuel Temkin was presented with a leather desk set and an engrossed resolution from the Board of the Miriam Hospital for his 21 years' service as its Secretary. He is one of the founders of the hospital which is currently seeking $2,000,000 for a modern addition to its facilities. Replacing Temkin as Secretary is Alfred H. Joslin '35.

Prof. Ben W. Brown of the Brown English Department was re-elected President of "The Players," Providence little theater group, in June. Elmer D. Nickerson '06 and Stanley H. Smith '28 are other officers of the organization.

William H. Edwards is one of four Rhode Islanders serving on the Panel on Tax and Fiscal Policies of the Committee of New England. Our Classmate recently returned from a few weeks in Europe where he found the general feeling very optimistic. He was especially encouraged by evidence of industrial recovery in Great Britain and noted that the people themselves have a bright outlook for the years immediately ahead.

Alexander Hindmarsh, Jr. '50, son of our Classmate and Mrs. Hindmarsh, was married June 23, 1951, to Miss Barbara L. Anderson of Glen Ridge, N. J.

Maurice Bazar's daughter, Miss Barbara Ann Bazar, was married in Providence July 8, 1951, to Jerome Levin of Charlotte, N. C.

James C. Scott has completed his term of office as Commandant of the R. I. Marine Corps League.

Thomas F. Black, Jr., has been reappointed Civilian Aide to the Secretary of the Army for Rhode Island.

Morris H. Brown is Mechanical Supervisor for the George A. Fuller Co. of Pittsburgh, Pa. He prefers mail at his address in Providence, 102 Meeting St.

A new address for Malcolm E. Carder is 241 Nehoiden St., Needham, Mass.

1920

Lt. Col. Duncan C. Annan has been recalled to active duty with the Army and is presently stationed at McClellan Field, Sacramento, Calif.

Harvey A. Whipple's son, Richard R. Whipple, was married June 16, 1951, in Edgewood, R. I., to Miss Sally de Veer Pembroke '49.

David Hill, son of Allen D. Hill, graduated from Princeton this June with highest honors. Besides winning the Schuichi Kusaka Memorial Prize in Physics, he was elected to Phi Beta Kappa and Sigma Xi. He enters M.I.T. in September for graduate work. Our Classmate has a son at Brown, too: Robert is a member of the Class of '52.

While on a summer vacation in Europe with his wife, Myles Standish addressed the International Advertising Conference in London in July. Other stops included France and Switzerland. A highlight of the trip was the Royal Garden Party which the Standishes attended at Buckingham Palace.

1921

H. B. "Deke" Yeaton wrote to Class Secretary Bill Brightman that he has moved to California where he has bought a small variety store in Van Nuys. He couldn't get back for the 30th Reunion because he was busy settling his business affairs in Moline, Ill. and Davenport, Iowa. His new home address is 13442 Galewood St., Sherman Oaks, Calif.

Ben McKendall's son, Ben, Jr., a Brown Senior, was one of two R.I. members of the 435th Military Government Co. who were awarded commendations for their work at summer camp.

When Robert C. McKenney was back for his 30th reunion, he informed us that he has added a Master of Education degree from Rutgers (1950) to his other de-

"CONVICTIONS bring forth great enterprises," said Rev. L. S. Hoffman '07 (left), Minister of the Central Schwenkfelder Church of Worcester, Pa., when the new building above was dedicated in June. The structure combines church, church school wing, and Fellowship Hall, "a true community center."

The first Schwenkfelders, a Protestant Reformation church, came to Pennsylvania in 1726. Two of the original meeting houses are replaced by the new church. Centrol's Pastor for 40 years has been the Rev. Mr. Hoffman, who is also President of the Mission Board of the Schwenkfelder Church and Trustee of its school, Perkiomen. Minister of another of the principal churches of the denomination (ot Palm), Rev. Lester Kriebel '23 took part in the dedication.

ference of civil defense representatives in Hartford in July. The six member States decided to adopt uniform measures for the processing of homeless and severely injured persons in the event of a major disaster.

1923

Howard H. Murphy, Business Manager of the Afro-American Newspapers and active civic worker in Baltimore, has been appointed to the Maryland State Board of Public Welfare for a six-year term—the first Negro thus to serve. He got his appointment in June as his term expired as Board President of the Barrett School for Girls in Glen Burnie, a position he has held for 12 years. The State Board directs welfare activities under a budget of nearly $20,000,000. "Pat" is Treasurer of the Baltimore Urban League and chairman of its Education Committee. He is also President of Americans for Democratic Action.

Miss Joan Ballou, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold F. Ballou, was married June 16, 1951, in Providence to Donald G. Rich '51.

Miss Eleanor Beede, who became the bride of Smith H. Tyler, Jr., on June 21, 1951, is the daughter of the Frederic N. Beedes of Pawtucket.

E. John Lownes, Jr., President of the American Silk Spinning Co., has been appointed to the Employee Benefits Committee by the National Association of Manu-grees. He was also elected to Phi Delta Kappa, honorary education fraternity.

Thomas H. Gardiner, Republican candidate for Lieutenant Governor of Rhode Island in the last election, has completed his term in office as Town Solicitor for the Town of South Kingstown.

1922

On the Fourth of July this year, Albert B. Jeffers celebrated his third anniversary as a grandfather. That's the day when his granddaughter, Linda Lee Sherrick, was three years old. Albert, Jr. '50 is a Second Lieutenant in the Marines at Camp Lejeune, N. C.; William N. just completed his Sophomore year at Ohio Wesleyan.

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Webb, Jr., have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Mary Phoebe Webb, to Henry T. Dunker, Jr., of Woodstock, Vt. Chairman of the Public Utility Appeals Board of R.I. is Arthur H. Feiner, Providence attorney.

Rhode Island Fiscal Agent J. Alden Chesebro represented the State at a con-facturers. In June, he was elected Chairman of the Board of Directors of Junior Achievement of Providence, Inc. The three-year old organization attempts to acquaint teen-agers with business methods by having them form companies, sell stock, elect directors and manufacture items for sale. Experienced businessmen guide these non-profit enterprises which are formed and terminated within the year.

Alumni join in offering their sincere sympathy to C. Arthur Braitsch whose father, William J. Braitsch, died in Providence, July 18, 1951.

A new address for William K. Sheehan is 244 E. Beechwood Ave., Dayton, Ohio.

Under the memorable name of "Hook & Eye," Mrs. Dwight K. Bartlett, Jr., has opened a restaurant on Hook St. in Southbridge, Mass. ("The Eye of the Commonwealth").

Kenneth and Lorna Sheldon are having another busy summer at Hawthorne Hill, Lenox, Mass. They have accommodations for 45 guests in the main house and barn annex, the nearest guest house to Tanglewood and the Berkshire Music Festival. We've heard high praise of Hawthorne Hill.

1924

A guest preacher at the First Baptist Church in Providence on the Sunday of Commencement weekend was the Rev. Gordon E. Bigelow of the First Baptist Church of Beverly, Mass.

Dr. Brae Rafferty assumed the presidency of the Connecticut State Medical Society at the organization's annual meeting in May. Attending Surgeon at the Windham County Memorial Hospital, he recently completed a seven-year term as Secretary of the Windham County Medical Society.

Robert B. Freeman is Assistant Chief Engineer and Vice-President of the American Water Works Service Co. of Philadelphia. His home address is 505 Parkview Dr., Wynnewood, Pa.

Whereabouts: Harry Bernard, 610 N. 28th St., Allentown, Pa. Laurence F. McDermott, Harvard, Mass. Robert M. Woods, 73 Williamsburg Rd., Evanston, Ill.

Edward R. Place has opened a new public relations office at 1507 M St., N.W., Washington, D. C. This is the first time he has had his own agency since 1942, in his native Boston.

The May issue of the Williams Alumni Review featured on its cover the Williams squash team, coached by Clarence C. Chaffee. The team lost only to undefeated Harvard and was ranked second nationally.

Our sympathy goes to E. Randolph Harrington on the death of his wife. Harrington, a resident of Winnetka, Ill., survives, with two sons. He is an official of Johnson & Johnson, surgical supply company.

1925

New President of the New England Bakers Association is Dana R. Arnold of Saylesville, R. I. He is Secretary and Assistant Treasurer of the Lonsdale Bakery Co.

Tom Taylor, former Director of Athletics at Brown, won medalist honors with a 73 in the Point Judith (R. I.) Country Club championship tournament.

Four Vermont Baptist Leaders

VERMONT BAPTISTS count themselves fortunate in having four graduates of Brown holding posts of high responsibility in the work of the State Convention of the denomination:

Ernest C. Hathaway '18 of Rutland, President of the Convention for the past two years, was recently re-elected. Three others are members of the Vermont Baptist Board of Trustees: Lester H. Nichols '04 of Bennington, Leon S. Gay '06 of Cavendish, and Rev. Edwin L. Thornton '21, pastor of the North Springfield Baptist Church since 1938. Thornton has been re-elected President of the Board for a fourth year. He won national recognition as the recipient of the Achievement Award from the American Baptist Convention for five consecutive years for outstanding work in the church's educational program.

Gay was President of the Vermont Convention from 1931 to 1939 and presided over the annual laymen's banquet during the Convention week in Montpelier. He continues as a member of the Finance Committee of the American Baptist Convention as well as a member of the group enlisting national assistance for the preservation of the First Baptist Meeting House in Providence. Nichols was one of the laymen recently named by the A.B.C. in connection with the 40th anniversary of the Ministers and Missionaries Benefit Board. He was for some years on the Vermont Convention Finance Committee.

Dr. Marshall S. Brown, Jr., has retired as a practicing physician and is now living in Sarasota, Fla., at 1011 Park Ave., Indian Beach.

Dr. Gordon K. Chalmers, President of Kenyon College, gave a fine talk last spring before the Parents' Association of North Shore Country Day School in Illinois, we are informed by Jack Monk '24. Headmaster Perry Dunlap Smith, President of the Headmasters' Association of the United States, said in his introduction that the real leadership in education was coming chiefly from four men: Conant of Harvard, Wriston of Brown, Eisenhower of Columbia, and Chalmers of Kenyon.

Whereabouts: W. Ellison Chalmers, 215 Pembroke Ave., Wayne, Pa. Joseph F. Jacquet, 580 Maywood Ave., Maywood, N. J. Lawrence Johnson, 920 Winona Dr., Fosterville Station, Youngstown 11, Ohio.

1926

Edward I. Friedman, Cranston attorney, has been Chief of the Division of Workmen's Compensation for Rhode Island for 11 years, having taken one of the first Civil Service examinations given by the State. Originally he was also legal advisor and prosecutor for the Department of Labor, too, but he asked to be relieved of those duties when war accidents took up most of his time. He has been active in the rehabilitation of injured workers, as well as workmen's compensation. Among the 40 bits of legislation he drafted in connection with the R. I. Workmen's Compensation Act was the one establishing the R. I. Curative Center, the first such State-sponsored and operated rehabilitation center. Friedman is a lecturer in the Extension Division of the University of Rhode Island and was chosen by the R. I. Bar Association to give the refresher course on workmen's compensation at Brown. Last year he was named to the five-man executive board of the International Association of Industrial Accident Boards and Commissions, of whose Rehabilitation Committee he was formerly Chairman.

Malcolm A. McKenzie is associated with the Shade Tree Laboratories at the University of Massachusetts. He may be addressed in care of the University, Amherst, Mass.

James M. Barry has notified us of a new address in Lynbrook, Long Island, where he now lives at 154 Spencer Ave.

On June 16, 1951, Miss Jean Robotham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Robotham of West Hartford, Conn., was married to Theodore Sellin of Philadelphia. A Wheaton graduate, our Classmate's daughter is on the Faculty of the Williams Memorial Institute in New London, Conn.

1927

While in Pittsburgh to address the Wilson College Club on "What is happening to youth today?", Prof. Herbert A. Clark was getting in a little practice in his hotel room. There he was tending to his two sons, David, 4½, and Gary, 1½. Herb, who is Chairman of the Department of Education at Wilson, feels that women should play a more active part in public life. Their ethical standards are higher, he declares, and by raising the moral tone of society we could eliminate a number of the teen-age problems that we are suffering today.

George W. Stanley, Jr., is with the Pressed Steel Car Co., Inc., of Chicago. His home address is still 1436 Morgan Ave., La Grange Park, Ill.

Webber Haines was one of the Rollins College Trustees who resigned from the Board in protest to the firing of the institution's President, Dr. Paul A. Wagner. Along with three other Trustees, our Classmate felt that Dr. Wagner should not be "made the scapegoat for action in which we (the Trustees) shared."

The Rev. Raymond B. Bragg, Executive Director of the Unitarian Service Committee, was guest preacher at the annual union service in May of the Allin Congregational Church and the First Church (Unitarian) of Dedham, Mass. Dr. Bragg has been head of the U.S.C. since 1947. Before that he held pastorates in Evanston, Ill., and Minneapolis, and served as Vice-President of the American Unitarian Association.

A partner in the reorganized New York law firm of O'Brien, Driscoll and Raftery is Paul D. O'Brien.

New Chairman of the Attendance Committee of the Men's Class of the Riverside Church in New York is John Franklin Stizza. He is also a member of the Executive Committee of the class. This spring he completed a course on "Medical Aspects of Atomic Explosion," and received a certificate from the New York City Department of Health.

Sumner T. Packard is Engineer-in-Charge of the Newhall Office of the Los Angeles Department of Building and Safety. His home address is 23566 Santa Clarita Dr., Newhall, Calif.

President of Lea and Sachs, Inc., Chicago, George B. Martin lives in Evanston, Ill., at 2325 Marcy St.

As Plant Manager of Doehla Greeting Cards, Inc., Everett T. Lesure has moved from Fitchburg, Mass., to Nashua, N. H. His home in Nashua is at 42 Orange St.

Whereabouts: Leslie O. Byrne, 1033 Loyola Ave., Chicago 26. William A. Doran, 1995 Riverside Ave., Somerset, Mass. Nathaniel T. Griffiths, 3201 Croydon Rd. N.W., Canton, Ohio. Ralph C. Taylor, 89 Walkill Ave., Montgomery, Ala.

Selig Greenberg of the Providence Journal was a speaker on Russia before a recent dinner meeting of the Rhode Island World Affairs Council. Greenberg was the author of a lively series of articles on President Wriston last spring, the most detailed biography on Dr. Wriston we have yet seen anywhere.

1928

Dr. Robert F. Marschner, who has been with the Standard Oil Co. (Indiana) since 1934, has been named Senior Research Associate of its research staff. He is also Chairman of the American Chemical Society's Chicago section.

A letter from Harold Halpert announces that the "big news" in his family right now is that his son, Steve, is coming to Brown in the fall. Steve, who was Captain of the track team at Deering High School, Portland, Me., this last year, "follows in his father's and mother's footsteps by doing his best work in the field of English." Hal is looking forward to seeing a lot of Brown in the next four years.

His Pension Plan

AFTER MORE THAN 40 YEARS in the Fall River (Mass.) public school system, Harry Smalley '04 retired in April to enjoy the benefits of a pension program that he helped to establish. One of the incorporators of the Massachusetts Teachers Federation, he was instrumental in the setting-up of a State retirement system and has been a member of the three-man board ever since its founding in 1914.

Smalley was an especially strong supporter of the junior high school as a necessary part of the public school system. He served as principal of three of them in Fall River. This spring the students at James Madison Morton Junior High, which he had headed since 1941, gave him a wrist watch in appreciation for his interest in boys and girls. A resolution of gratitude adopted by the Fall River Teachers Association was sent to him and a copy entered in the organization's permanent records.

ERNEST T. SAVIGNANO '42 will be Head Coach of Freshman Football at Brown this fall, succeeding John M. Heffernan '28, who will be Acting Director of the Student Recreation Program. Savignano will assume his new duties in addition to those he now holds as Assistant Athletic Director, while Heffernan will continue to coach Freshman basketball and baseball. The change in assignments was made necessary when Prof. Westcott E. S. Moulton '31 was named Acting Dean of Students. Savignano, a Bruin star before the war, helped coach at Brown in 1947 and 1948.

New Secretary of "The Players" in Providence is Stanley H. Smith, Jr.

A Ford Foundation fellowship winner for the coming year, Dr. Julian L. Solinger will use his award to make a survey of elementary biology in colleges throughout the country. He is an Associate Professor of Biology at Simmons College. He was an assistant in the Brown Biology Department before going to Simmons.

Frederic W. Collins, Washington Correspondent for the Providence Journal was initiated in June into Sigma Delta Chi, national journalism fraternity.

Whereabouts: Russell T. Burns, 12 Stuyvesant Oval, Apt. 8 G, NYC 3. Vernon H. Chase, 105 Mockingbird Lane, Decatur, Ga. John L. Frank, 28 So. Bay Ave., Islip, L. I. Alfred W. Pett, Jr., 260 Algonquin Dr., Prov. 5.

1929

Allen L. Simmons sent us a new address recently—71 Blackhawk Circle, Janesville, Wis.—and also informed us of his new position as Trust Officer of the Merchants and Savings Bank in Janesville.

The sympathy of the Class is offered to Dr. Edward Brown whose father, Henry Brown, died in Providence, July 11, 1951. Raymond J. Driscoll notified us of a new address in June. He is now living at 728 So. Vail Ave., Arlington Hts., Ill.

George M. Schlegel was interested to find an item about Brown University's famed Prof. Lester F. Ward in the Red and Black, student weekly at the University of Georgia. The Georgia library boasts that it has "one of the best collections of the works of Ward to be found in the nation." Ward is regarded to have been the founder of sociology in this country. Schlegel is Superintendent of Schools in Blackshear, Ga.

Vincent Mullen is one of four Brown men on the Advisory Council that R. I. Governor Roberts has established to aid the new State Division of Alcoholism. The other Brunonians are John Wells '09, Lawrence Lanpher '23 and Dr. B. B. Mongillo '36.

1930

Aaron S. Roitman was installed as President of the National Wholesale Furniture Association at its annual meeting in Chicago in June. He is President of Roitman and Sons, Inc., of Providence.

The Providence Boys Club, of which Tom Tisdell is Superintendent, bought a shed in the rear of the clubhouse and last May decided to burn a lot of junk that was in it. One item was an old mattress which had lain there moldering for 11 years. In it they found $3000 in bills.

Lester Endlar decided to pick up where his two sons left off when they headed for boarding school this year. They had been active in Cub Scouting in Brookline, Mass., and our Classmate decided he wanted to show his appreciation for the fine work the scout organization is doing. So, he was named Chairman of an extensive expansion program for District VI of the Boston Council, Boy Scouts of America. Endlar claims that the Boy Scouts are too popular for their own good, that they have become such a standard part of our American life that nobody worries about where their funds come from.

Military attaché in Budapest, Hungary, is Col. Philip B. Stiness. Our Classmate was formerly Executive Officer of the Army ROTC at Cornell.

Whereabouts: Manuel Selengut, 119 West 57th St., NYC 19. Thomas Shotton, Jr., 3724 Manor Rd., Washington 15, D. C. Victor M. Stockbridge, 96 Railroad Ave., No. Abington, Mass.

1931

James L. Minicus has been chief Government counsel in the anti-trust suit against the cellophane production of the DuPont Company in U. S. District Court in Wilmington, Del.

Lt. Col. Edward B. Williams, Jr., recently received his promotion from Major in May. Currently he is Comptroller of the 18th Fighter-Bomber Wing in Korea.

Providence Journal-Bulletin reporter George F. Troy, Jr., received an "honorable mention" citation from the Education Writers Association for his 1950 series of articles on public school education. Entitled "What's Wrong with Our Schools?", the series dealt with the shortcomings and possibilities of Rhode Island public school instruction. Our Classmate is the son of George F. Troy '98.

Dr. William F. Murphy, along with his private practice of psychoanalysis, is teaching psychiatry at Harvard and at the Cushing Veterans Administration Hospital in Framingham, Mass.

Manager of the W. T. Grant store in Shamokin, Pa., since February, 1950, Gordon J. Peterson was elected in April as President of the Shamokin Merchants' Council.

Arthur Novogroski has been appointed Chief of the Trial Section of the Enforcement Division of the R. I. Office of Price Stabilization. He had been, since 1942, on the legal staff of the U. S. Department of Labor.

President of Roosevelt Field, Inc., is Herbert I. Silverson. A director since October of the New York airport which is being converted into factory sites, he remains Vice-President in charge of industrial properties for Webb and Knapp, Inc. His firm has had an interest in the 360-acre field for a year.

1932

Specializing in anesthesiology, Dr. Edward Damarjian has a new business address in Providence: 124 Waterman St.

Wendell B. Barnes is still practicing law in Tulsa, Okla., but he has a new business address, too: 324 So. Main St.

Henry W. Palmer opened his own real estate office in June. He does his business in Milton Village, Mass., and lives at 51 Adams St., Milton 87. He has a summer home in Duxbury, Mass., on King Caesar Rd.

An independent oil operator down in Texas, Wallace M. Skinner lives at 3816 Turtle Creek Dr., Dallas.

Two Classmates with new addresses are Gerald L. Brown, 351 So. Van Ness, Los Angeles 5, and Donald E. Ewing, 2583 Canterbury Rd., Cleveland Hts., Ohio.

Morton J. Simon was the author of "False, Fraudulent, and Deceptive Advertising," a study of advertising copy's brushes with the law which appeared originally in Advertising Agency and Advertising & Selling. We encountered a condensation of it when it was reprinted recently in The Advertiser's Digest.

1933

Dr. Cyril Sargent, who has been on the Harvard Faculty since 1946, was named an Associate Professor of Education at the Harvard Business School in May.

Manager of the Old Colony Furniture Co. up in Nashua, N. H., Albert Lewitt writes that his son Philip, 10, is "entering the 6th grade and can't wait to get to Brown." With the rest of his family, wife Rita and daughter Joan, 14, Al lives at 24 Chester St., Nashua.

On July 1 of this year, Alfred T. Hill took over his new duties as Director of the Dana Hall Schools for girls.

To the Rev. Prescott L. Laundrie goes the sympathy of all Classmates on the loss of his mother, Mrs. Eli J. Laundrie, Jr., in Saundertown, R. I., July 22, 1951.

Lester M. Radosky is President of the Imperial Wayside Furniture Co. of Toledo, Ohio. His residence in that city is at 3540 Douglas Rd.

Whereabouts: Marcus M. Alper, 63 Audubon Dr., Newton 58, Mass. David L. Davidson, 6 Oak Hill Dr., Arlington 74, Mass. George A. Dickey, 100 Hall Place, Grosse Pointe Farms 30, Mich. Albert M. Hiorins, 27 Park Place, So. Attleboro, Mass. Capt. Charles G. Quinn, 8th T.T.R.G., APO 403, c/o Postmaster, NYC. C. Sumner Tanner, 1088 Warwick Neck Ave., Warwick Neck, R. I.

1934

Dr. and Mrs. I. Gershman and their children, Sherry and James, have a new

France Honors Rogers

FRANCE HAS CHOSEN Prof. Samuel G. A. Rogers '15 of the University of Wisconsin for membership in the Legion of Honor. He is a member of the French Department at Wisconsin and the author of a forthcoming work on Balzac. The general public also knows Prof. Rogers for his fiction,—several novels, including an Atlantic Monthly prize-winner, and a few mystery stories.

home address in Providence: 63 Woodbury St.

In September the Rev. Samuel S. Johnston will assume his new duties as Rector of St. Andrew's Episcopal Church, Wellesley, Mass. For the past ten years he has served as Rector of All Saints' Church in Frederick, Md.

Robert L. Pottle has bought the Ettlinger Insurance Service, Inc., of Rockford, Ill. His home in that city is at 1632 Harlem Blvd.

A Deputy Collector with the U. S. Customs Service, Robert D. Arnott is addressed at Box 307, Aquadille, Puerto Rico.

Robert S. Hall of Kennedy's was a member of the committee which arranged "Providence Day," the annual shopping festival in the city's stores. R. Franklin Weller '26 of the Retail Trade Board was another sponsor.

Whereabouts: Max H. Flaxman, 235 Pleasant St., Prov. 7. John E. Gaunt, 9782 Oak Pass Rd., Beverly Hills, Calif. Lt. Comdr. John R. Hall, 6100 North 30th St., Arlington 7, Va. Harry R. Kurtz, Jr., 31 Fairfield Ave., Noroton Hts., Conn. James M. Libby, 76 Campus Drive East, Snyder 21, N. Y. Richard I. Miller, 71 Read St., Portland, Me. Chester H. Page, 15400 Norwood Pike, Rt. 1, Silver Spring, Md. Norman R. Singleton, 135 West 225th St., NYC 63. Henry E. Stanton, 116 Lois Lane, Palo Alto, Calif.

1935

Lt. Col. Howard D. Wilcox, Jr., graduated from the Command and General Staff College at Fort Leavenworth in June and set about making arrangements for his next duty—in Turkey with the U. S. Army Group there. Mrs. Wilcox will return to Providence while he is abroad.

New Secretary of the Miriam Hospital of Providence is Alfred H. Joslin.

Simon England has been named President of England Bros. Department Store in Pittsfield, Mass. He succeeds his brother who was recalled to active duty with the Navy.

Albert E. Mignone's twin sons will be a year old in September. When they arrived, they just doubled the Mignone family. Dad is with the Cambridge, Mass., chemical engineering firm of Arthur D. Little, Inc.

Assigned to the legal division of the Providence OPS office is Irving Brodsky. During World War II our Classmate was an enforcement attorney with the OPA.

William A. Bree, Jr., is in charge of advertising and publicity for the Shepard Hills development in Hamden, Conn. A total of 250 new homes is planned for the colony.

A letter from Joseph B. Grossman II, Vice-President of L. Grossman Sons, Inc., New England building materials firm, reported that Milton Levy '37 of Bay State Film Productions, Inc., had completed a full color sound film telling the story of the "Grossman Low Cost Home."

Allan A. Howell, with the Public Information division of the Office of the Secretary of Defense, lives at "Dundeen," Lewinsville R. D., McLean, Va.

1936

Buenos "Bunny" Young arrived in Portland, Me., in April to assume his duties as Assistant Manager of Sears, Roebuck and Co. there. With the company for 13 years, he was last associated with the Hartford store.

The middle of June James S. Edwards, Assistant Professor of German at Clark University, left for Central America on a six-week botanical expedition. Accompanying Dr. David Potter, Clark Biology Department Chairman, our Classmate will study tropical and jungle life in Havana, British Honduras, Guatemala, Costa Rica, Nicaragua, the Canal Zone, Mexico City and Yucatan.

In writing to tell us of their new son (see "Vital Statistics"), Mrs. M. Price Margolies also told of her husband's being elected a diplomate of the American Board of Internal Medicine. Our Classmate recently received the degree of Master of Medical Science in Internal Medicine from the University of Pennsylvania.

Another doctor in the Class, Herb Levenson, is practicing internal medicine in Framingham, Mass. He's on the Faculty of the Boston University School of Medicine.

David C. Scott, Jr., has succeeded his late father as President of Scott Testers, Inc., Providence designers and builders of American Lines Promotion

GEORGE T. PAINE '15 has been appointed Executive Vice-President of the American President Lines. He joined the organization in 1949, two years after he had retired from the Navy with the rank of Commodore. His first task was to supervise the construction of three new liners which have since been requisitioned by the Department of Defense. He has been Vice-President in charge of operations for American President, winning praise for increasing the efficiency and earning power of the line's ships.

During his Naval career, Paine was prominent in various phases of the service's shipbuilding and inspection activities. At the time of his retirement he was commander of the Terminal Island Naval Shipyard.

Capt. F. D. McCorkle USN, former head of the Naval ROTC unit at Brown and now at the Naval Academy, wrote recently: "I always thought that Commodore Paine was among the greater naval architects."

physical testing equipment. He was formerly Secretary of the company.

Dr. B. B. Mongillo is on the Advisory Council for the Division of Alcoholism that the State of Rhode Island has established to fight chronic drinking.

James L. Whitcomb had several pleasant Brunonian encounters on his trip from the home base, Houston, to the Coast. In Spokane he talked with H. T. Anthony '05, real estate man. In San Francisco he had dinner with Parkman Sayward '25 and Mrs. Sayward. Pat is public relations manager for Pacific Intermountain Express. And Jim also encountered Henry Stanton '34 there.

Manager of the City Coal Co. in Providence, Milton Levitt lives in the city at 126 Congress Ave.

Andrew Jack is an Industrial Representative, in Hartford, Conn., for the Toledo Scale Co. His home address is 60 Auburn Rd., West Hartford.

Whereabouts: Jerome W. Gratenstein, 484 Whitney Ave., New Haven, Conn. James C. Maiden, Jr., 17 Oak Lane, Glen Cove, N.Y. C. B. White, 438 Montgomery Ave., Haverford, Pa. Dr. Joseph A. Yacovone, 39 Sylvan Rd., Rumford 16, R. I.

1937

Arthur I. Saklad, Sales Manager of the Ben Elfman Carpet Co. of Boston, was elected President of the New England Carpet Club at the organization's annual dinner meeting in April. While at Brown he was N.E. intercollegiate wrestling champion for three years and went from the mat to carpets.

At the amphibious warfare school, Coronado, Calif., is Lt. William E. Ryan USNR. He was formerly District Sales Manager for United Air Lines in Providence.

Dr. Harold S. Barrett is a Public Health Internist with the Conn. State Department of Health's Bureau of Preventable Disease. His home is in Manchester, Conn., at 120 Lakewood Circle South.

The sympathy of all Classmates is extended to Louis O. Heinold, Jr., whose father died in Boston, June 2, 1951. Another son is Kenneth A. Heinold '40.

New Chairman of the Department of Romance Languages at Emory University is Dr. Bruce Gordon. His father, Theodore W. Gordon '05, sent us the news.

Richard G. Holt, who has been with Northeast Airlines since 1943, was appointed Hyannis Station Manager this spring. He has worked for the company in Boston, Montpelier, New York, New Bedford and New London.

1938

On June 7, 1951, Roger B. Francis and his wife helped their adopted son, Christopher, celebrate his first birthday. Chris joined the Francis family last October.

Recalled to service last fall, Leonard R. Carpenter is currently a Captain with the Army. He prefers mail at his permanent address: Cold Spring Lane, Wickford, R. I. He was a merchandise manager at Gladdings in Providence.

Assistant Manager of the Travelers Insurance Co. office in Los Angeles, Robert L. Richard lives in Whittier, Calif., at 11421 East Mines Ave.

Whereabouts: Herbert J. Ballou, 802 E. Front St., Plainfield, N. J. Thomas G.

ON THE REPUBLICAN VARSITY the night of the Congressional baseball game in Griffith Stadium, Washington, were three Brunonians: Representatives Edward L. Sittler, Jr., '30 of Pennsylvania, William B. Widnall '26 of New Jersey, and William H. Bates '40 of Massachusetts. They lost, 7-3. The program listed Senator Blair Moody '22 of Michigan, but the photographer followed the party line strictly. Bates was more successful in the Senate-House golf tournament, winning low net.

Bowman, 372 Harrison Ave., Massapequa, L. I., N. Y. Donald J. Eccleston, Bradford RFD, Quonochontaug Beach, Charlestown, R. I. Arnold S. Ohlrogge, 53 Hazelwood Ave., Livingston, N. J. Charles B. Round, 2171 Warwick Ave., Warwick, R. I. Melvin H. Schwartz, Jr., 937 So. Grove St., Oak Park, Ill. Lt. R. W. Treloar USNR, 445 Painter St., Norfolk, Va.

1939

Charles Mercer's novel, "The Narrow Ledge," has had some fine reviews since its recent publication by Morrow. You'll enjoy reading it. Mercer, formerly of the Associated Press in New York, has been recalled to active Army duty, stationed at Governors Island.

Albert S. George is now associated with the Chicago office of Wetzel Brothers, Milwaukee lithographer and creative printer. His home address is still 706 Franklin, River Forest, Ill.

With the Law Department of the New York Central Railroad, Frank McEvoy has his offices at 466 Lexington Ave., NYC.

Prof. Theodore Lemeshka of the R. I. College of Pharmacy and Allied Sciences has been appointed Registrar of the institution. At the annual meeting of the Corporation and Board of Trustees, Dr. Albert W. Claflin '06 was re-elected President of the college and Dr. W. Henry Rivard '08 was re-elected Dean.

Three Classmates serving with the Air Force are Maj. Dwight D. Patch, currently stationed in Japan; Maj. Albert S. Pouliot, whose address is Dolly Madison Apts., Albany, Ga.; and Lt. Col. John H. Striebel, Jr., Director of Operations for the 131st FTR BMBR Wing, at Bergstrom AFB, Austin, Texas.

Chester T. Clayton, Jr., is Assistant Manager of the University Law Book Exchange of Cambridge, Mass.

Whereabouts: Theodore L. Dodge, Jr., 215 W. Plumstead Ave., Lansdowne, Pa. John A. Donley, 5657 Boaz, Dallas, Tex. Bruce H. Macklin, 208 Highland Ave., Manhattan Beach, Calif. John F. Martin, 2 St. Paul Rd., Worcester, Mass. E. Butler Moulton, Jr., 16 Christopher St., NYC. Holden S. Nicholson, 1505 N. Franklin St., Colorado Springs, Colo. E. W. Renfree, 2205 Pembroke St., Birmingham, Mich.

1940

A newly-appointed Associate Professor of Social Psychology at Harvard is Richard L. Solomon. He has been on the Faculty at Cambridge since 1947, and was a research psychologist for the government during the war.

Chief of preliminary design at the Chance Vought Aircraft Division of the United Aircraft Corp. in Dallas, Texas, Forbes Mann is living in that city at 5925 Waggoner Drive.

Bernard C. Reiss wrote in June that he is in the advertising business in New York City. He lives with his wife and two-year old daughter, Bernadette, at 146-18 N. Hempstead Tpke, Flushing, N. Y.

Leaving the textile business and New York City behind him, Richard E. Struble has assumed his duties as merchandising executive of Long and Field, Inc., Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., department store. After Sept. 15, 1951, his permanent address will be 1436 N. E. 17th Terrace. In Florida he has met George Schwenck '32, Gil Edwards '46 and Bob Jahn '46.

Joe Harvey, who left his chemical sales job this spring to start a three-year course at the Episcopal Theological Seminary, was the subject of a July picture-story in "The Rhode Islander" section of the Providence Sunday Journal. The article related what a prospective minister learns in a special 12-week course in sick and pastoral counseling conducted by the Andover-Newton Theological School in Boston hospitals.

John J. Hackett is working at the U. S. Navy Gun Factory in Washington. His home address is 614 Monticello Dr., Falls Church, Va.

Whereabouts: Maj. Robert R. Clifford, 300 Dawnview Ave., Dayton 3, Ohio. Joseph S. Fink, 28 East 73rd St., NYC. Brooke Hindle, 21 Howard Place, Waldwick, N. J. Lt. Col. A. V. Santangini, Box 3254, Wright-Patterson AFB, Dayton, Ohio.

1941

Lt. W. E. Fraser, MC, USN, wrote from Inchon, Korea, in April that he almost missed seeing "charming" Korea when the USS Benevolence sank with him on board. He's now on the Naval Hospital Ship Haven and had been out there for six months at the time of his letter. He plans to look up Bill Parry when he gets to Tokyo again. Fraser thinks he ought to do something about registering his son, William Jeffrey, in the Class of 1970. (The boy was born in Cody, Wyo., July 2, 1949). He was sorry to miss the reunion but says, "Look for me next year."

John A. Cranston, Jr., was ordained a Deacon of the Episcopal Church on June 11 in North Adams, Mass. A graduate of the General Theological Seminary, he was a Coast Guard ship commander during the last war. Assisting at the ceremony was the Rev. Peter Chase '44 of Trinity Church, Newport.

Stuart S. Whipple is new Supervisor for John L. Allen, Rhode Island agent for the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Co.

After receiving his M.A. degree at Brown this June, Carlton M. Singleton is continuing his studies at the Harvard Graduate School of Education. His new address is 2 Appleton St., Watertown, Mass.

The sympathy of Classmates is offered to Dr. John F. McVay whose father, Dr. Francis V. McVay, died in Pawtucket, June 5, 1951.

Dr. Robert E. Shapiro is starting his first year's internship at the Syracuse (N. Y.) Medical Center. He graduated in June from the State University of New York Medical Center at Syracuse University.

New Manager of the Worcester, Mass., district for the Equitable Life Assurance Society is Arnold R. Eggert. In YMCA work for seven years, our Classmate joined the Pittsfield, Mass., office of Equitable in 1948.

Walter L. Boughton of the Yale Graduate School of Drama is directing this year's summer theater at Keuka College Playhouse, Rochester, N. Y. Last season he was a member of the cast there.

In June, Abraham Schwartz was awarded his Doctor of Dental Medicine degree cum laude from the Harvard School of Dental Medicine. He started July 1 as a teaching fellow in the school, and his temporary address is 31 Orkney Rd., Brookline 46, Mass.

Prof. Allen Ferguson has left the University of Virginia and is now associated with the Office of Price Stabilization in Washington. His address there is OPS, 4th and Adams Dr. S.W.

Whereabouts: Charles F. Barber, 125 Chaparral St., Salinas, Calif. Carl Barus, 236 Ames St., Dedham, Mass. Samuel Bloch, 1163 Boylston St., Boston, Mass. William J. Britt, Jr., 1810 Commonwealth Ave., Boston. William H. Collins, Jr., 299 Elm Drive South, Levittown, L. I., N. Y. Earl W. Harrington, Jr., 9421 Phillip Ave., Norfolk 3, Va. Alexander Murdoch, Jr., Stadley Rough Rd., RD5, Danbury, Conn. John B. Occhiello, 5215 East Falls View Dr., San Diego 15. Maj. Darrie H. Richards, c/o U.S. Army Attaché, Apartado 88 Bis., Mexico D.F., Mexico. Peter Thorpe, 318 Grantley St., Baltimore 29.

1942

Still with Asiatic Petroleum Corp., George Jay Gould, Jr., has a new home address at 20 Church St., Greenwich, Conn. His business address is in New York City but his job covers the United States: he purchases lubricants for worldwide Shell Oil Companies.

Again this summer Aldo S. Bernardo will be at Harvard as an Assistant Professor of Italian in the summer school. He will return to Harpur College, Endicott, N. Y., in the fall. He is an Assistant Professor of Foreign Languages there with a permanent address at 107 Hayes Ave., Endicott.

Lt. Edward J. Coakley has been recalled to active duty with the Navy. Serving with the Atlantic Reserve Fleet based

NEW PRESIDENT of the Palestine Economic Corporation is Joseph Sugarman '33. Managing Director of the Jerusalem Shale Co. which he helped to establish and a member of the Advisory Council of the Israel Government Investment Center, Sugarman was formerly a Boston lawyer. With assets of approximately $9,000,000, the PEC finances and develops basic industrial and agricultural activities in Israel. Recently it has joined with the General Tire and Rubber Co., the Hudson Pulp and Paper Co., and the Aluminum Co. of America in farming new business enterprises in the Jewish state. Sugarman lives in Israel.

at Charleston, S. C., he is aboard the USS Caperton. He prefers his home address for mail: 10 Daniels St., Pawtucket.

After two years of surgical training, Dr. Herman J. "Tim" Sugarman is starting his second year of Assistant Residency at the New England Center Hospital in Boston. Last year he did specialized research on the mechanical heart pump. He has been assigned to house Officer duty at the hospital as of July 1.

Richard Holrock works in the Hartford office of the Kaman Aircraft Co. He lives in West Granby, Conn.

Herbert M. Iselin was elected Assistant Secretary of the Bulova Watch Co. in May.

With his brand new Ph.D. degree from the University of Kentucky (June 1, 1951), Howard B. Lyman moved up to the Naval Examining Center at the Great Lakes (Ill.) Training Station.

George C. Rose, Jr., was Purchasing Agent for the Valley Falls, R. I., Division of Sidney Blumenthal & Co., Inc., when recalled to active duty with the Naval Reserve in June.

Willard C. Parker has been named to the Board of Trustees of the Fishburne-Hudgins Foundation, the alumni corporation which operates the Fishburne Military School in Waynesboro, Va. Parker is a Fishburne graduate.

New Minister of the Pleasant Street Congregational Church in Arlington, Mass., is the Rev. John A. Heidt. For the past four years our Classmate has been Associate Minister of the First Congregational Church in Cambridge.

To Ermete Vestri goes the sincere sympathy of the Class on the loss of his father, Giovanni P. Vestri, in Providence, June 22, 1951.

Dr. David Troup was scheduled to open his office for the practice of general dentistry in Cranston, R. I., around the first of August.

Having completed five years of surgical training, Dr. Murray W. Scott, Jr., took off for a several months' tour of Europe this summer. He will practice in Canton, Ohio, upon his return.

Gordon W. Niemitz lives at 219 Tahoma Rd., Lexington, Ky. He is District Sales Representative for the Towle Mfg. Co. and is the father of three children: Anne, 7, Beth, 2½, and Bill, 10 months.

Whereabouts: William H. Danforth, 45 Choate Rd., Belmont, Mass. William E. O'Connor, Bronx Union YMCA, 470 E. 11th St., NYC 56. Edward W. Proctor, 204 Easterly Pkwy., State College, Pa. George H. Rooney, Jr., 84-10 34th Ave., Jackson Hts., L. I., N. Y.

1943

Chosen to direct the Young Adults Division of the 1951 campaign of the General Jewish Committee of Providence, Inc., is Harold Ratush.

Dr. Robert E. Parks, Jr., left Amherst College (where he had been a Research Associate in Biology since 1948) in June for the University of Wisconsin. There he will study for his Ph.D. on an American Cancer Society post-doctoral fellowship at the university's Enzyme Institute. He received his M.D. from Harvard in 1945.

Gordon T. Neale is now associated with Textron, Inc., in Providence. He lives in Edgewood, R. I., at 24 Cherry St.

In July, Ray Abbott assumed his new position as accountant with the Universal Optical Co. of Providence.

Julian A. Burgess is engaged to Miss Virginia N. McIntyre of Hastings-on-Hudson, N. Y. He is associated with the Investment Dept. of the New York Life Insurance Co.

Dr. Charles W. Dunbar has opened his office for the general practice of medicine at 10 State Street, Warren, R. I.

General Manager of the P. L. Andrews Corp. of Brooklyn, George T. West lives at 77 Taft Ave., No. Merrick, L. I., N. Y.

Dr. Mortimer A. Gallagher is Assistant Resident in Surgery at the R. I. Hospital. He lives on Echo Farm, Danielson Pike, No. Scituate, R. I.

Now in attendance at the U. S. Navy's General Line School at Monterey, Calif., Lt. E. Anthony Buxton prefers mail at his home address in Providence: c/o Mrs. B. H. Buxton, 161 Bowen St.

Whereabouts: Richard P. Gosselin, 6004 Woodlawn Ave., Chicago 37. G. Richard Gummere, 3153 Bracken Woods Lane, Cincinnati. Frank S. Keogh, Jr., 541 So. 53rd St., Omaha. Irving S. Pichar, 2780 University Ave., Bronx 68. 1st Lt. Howard E. Russell, Jr. USMCR, 71 Belmont Rd., Cranston 10. R. I. Philip J. Tessieri, 6733 Temple City Blvd., Arcadia, Calif.

1944

New track coach at the Pittsfield (Mass.) High School is William S. Montgomery. A track star while at Brown, Montgomery has been teaching mechanics and drafting at the school since 1949.

Dave Oppenheimer sent along some news with his Alumni Fund contribution. A technical Representative in New York City with the United States Plywood Corp., he has seen Classmate Nat Marshall and near-Classmate Jim Hooker ('46) on business.

Writing us about his second daughter, born in January, Dr. David H. Solomon noted that he had just finished his residency in Internal Medicine at Peter Bent Brigham Hospital in Boston. He plans to specialize in internal medicine and endocrinology.

Lt. Robert H. Curtin USN is now serving aboard the destroyer, USS Zellers, in the Far East. His wife lives in Barrington, R. I., at 8 Mayfield Drive.

With both engineering and law degrees, W. Edgar Jessup, Jr., has assumed his new position with the Benson Lehnner Corp., Los Angeles designers and producers of electronics equipment. News of Ed came via L.A. Brown Club Secretary Alfred Marshall.

G. Myron Leach received a three-year standard diploma on completing his course with the U. S. Savings and Loan League.

Charles C. Bentley, Industrial Secretary of the Providence Urban League, was a member of the Providence committee sponsoring "I Am an American Day" in May.

Lt. (jg) Hermes C. Grillo is with the 1st Medical Battalion of the 1st Marine Division. His current address is FPO, San Francisco.

Another Classmate in the Navy is Lt. Herbert E. Salter. He is stationed aboard the USS Wisconsin but prefers his mail at Rt. 7, Box 497, Sarasota, Fla. (c/o Orr).

THEY LIKED HIM at Michigan, too. Much-appreciated James P. Adams, former Vice-President of Brown, ended his duties as Provost at Ann Arbor in July, having asked a year before that he not be considered a candidate for the presidency there. The student daily bespoke extraordinary admiration for all he had done in charge of academic progress for six years: "A man of matchless integrity and great courage . . . and single-minded devotion to his conception of real educational values."

Whereabouts: Jack W. Conklin, Santa Barbara Cottage Hospital, Santa Barbara, Calif. William R. Ewald, Jr., 1709 Waverly Way, Baltimore 12. Gordon B. Graham, 1645 Hickory St., Grand Prairies, Tex. Timothy Joyner, 2604½ 6th Ave., Tacoma 6, Wash. Milton E. Noble, 45 Revere St., Pawtucket, R. I. Milton J. Scowcroft, 28 Normandy Dr., Cranston, R. I.

1945

Jim O'Brien—he's a Lieutenant (jg) on an LST—wrote from Korea in May to tell us of his new son and his new home address. While he is away, his wife, Barbara, and the two boys, Stephen and James Edward (the latter was born in February) are living at 11 Lillian Ave., Providence 5.

Lt. Joseph J. Macioci was Judge Advocate of the inquiry that followed the swamping of the Naval liberty launch in Newport Harbor in May. The tragedy cost 19 lives.

Dr. Frank Horton is now living at 935 Main St., Manchester, Conn.

A Design Engineer in the Aircraft Instruments Division of the General Electric Co., John J. Frazier lives at 10 Maple Ave., Danvers, Mass.

Robert L. Broadhead is an insurance broker with the George F. Hiller Agency in Providence. He lives in Cranston at 121 Sagamore Rd.

Knight Edwards was elected a Trustee of the Cocomussock Association, Rhode Island historical organization, in June.

Whereabouts: Frederick A. Ajootian, 360 Clinton Ave., Brooklyn 5. Kenneth R. Gray, 65 Russell Ave., So. Attleboro, Mass. Clifford R. Noll, Jr., 189 Monroe

Park, University of Wisconsin, Madison 5. Wis. Louis V. Sorgi, 58 Whittier St., Dorchester, Mass.

1946

The belated sympathy of all Classmates is extended to Raymond Armstrong, whose wife, Joyce McGuire Armstrong P'46, died in Providence, Feb. 8, 1951. Our Classmate and his two-year old son live at 84 Belvedere Blvd., North Providence, R. I.

Dr. James H. Austin is attached to the 155th Station Hospital in Yokahama, Japan. His mailing address is still c/o Paul W. Austin, 645 Ontario St., Oak Park, Ill. Another Doctor in the Pacific is Classmate Raymond E. Moffit. With the Navy, he was last reported in Korea.

To Paul A. O'Brien, who lost his mother, Mrs. Nora Clair O'Brien, on June 26, 1951, goes the sympathy of all Classmates. Another son is Louis V. O'Brien '50.

Carl F. Graesser, Jr., with the Rogers Fibre Co., Inc., of Kennebunk, Me., receives his mail at Box 216, Kennebunkport.

Assistant Buyer for the N. J. Wholesale Drug Co., David A. Struble, Jr., lives at 34 Chestnut Hill Rd., Glen Ridge, N. J. He received his M.B.A. degree from Columbia in June, 1950.

Alfred I. Miranda is on the advertising staff of L'oguc magazine. His home address is Paddock Rd. (Rye Acres), Portchester, N. Y.

Henry V. Leonard, Jr., is Assistant in vehicle sales of General Motors do Brazil. His address is Caixa Postal 8200, Sao Paulo, Brazil, S.A.

Assigned to the USS Palau (CVE 122), Lt. (jg) John F. Halliday prefers his mail at 117 Clay St., Cambridge 40, Mass.

James P. Connelly, Jr., is a salesman for Eli Lilly and Co., pharmaceutical house. He lives at 143 Loomis Dr., West Hartford, Conn.

Surety representative for the Aetna Casualty and Surety Co., John H. Bate-man has been transferred to Columbus, Ohio, from the Cleveland office. His home address in Columbus 13 is 3371 Broad-moor Ave.

Robert A. Bourne is Treasurer and Production Manager of Tide-Overs, Inc., of East Providence.

Whereabouts: R. E. Beauregard, 16 Ekstrom Circle, Abington, Mass. Stanley Charren, 146 Elmgrove Ave., Prov. 6. Lt. (jg) Donald D. Dest, USS Lark (AMS 23), FPO, San Francisco. Leonard P. Garr, 22 Nancy St., Pawtucket. James O. Griffith, 412 Madison Ave., NYC. John Black Lee, RFD 2, Prospect St., Ridgefield, Conn. Allan J. Rosenberg, 60 Harwood St., Lynn, Mass. Frank J. Williams, Jr., 95 Elm St., Amesbury, Mass.

1947

1st Lt. Richard W. Phifer, who we reported last month (erroneously under 1946 notes) as convalescing after serious wounding in Korea, is back in the States. Despite his paralysis from the waist down, Dick is planning to study law at either UCLA or USC. He is living with his wife and two children at 5444 Coldbrook Avenue, Long Beach, Calif., and would like to hear from his Brown Classmates and fraternity brothers.

Robert B. Taylor received his B.S. degree in electrical engineering from the University of Rochester in June, 1950. He is associated with the Delco Appliance Division of the General Motors Corp., and lives at 273 Sherwood Ave., Rochester 19, N. Y.

As of June 1, the Rev. F. Burton Nelson assumed his duties as Pastor of the Mission Covenant Church in Evanston, Ill. He received his Bachelor of Divinity degree from Yale in June, 1950.

Emerson M. Jones, Jr., is now in the Indianapolis office of the Smith Agricultural Chemical Co. A chemical engineer with the company, he previously worked in its Columbus, Ohio, division.

Leonard S. Hermann is practicing law in Stamford, Conn. With his LL.B. from New York University, he is with the firm of Wofsey, Rosen and Kveskin.

A mechanical engineer with Ebasco Services, Inc., Arthur E. Hatch, Jr., is living in Yonkers, N. Y., at 108 Whitman St.

Anthony B. Hoying, Assistant Territory Manager for the John Deere Plow Co., sent along a new address with the announcement of his new son. He lives in Springfield, Ohio, at 972½ Link Ave.

After a year serving as Law Clerk to Judge Soper of the Fourth Circuit Court of Appeals, Robert R. Bair will become associated with the Baltimore law firm of Venable, Baetjar and Howard. He is scheduled to join the firm in September.

New Manager of the Boston Office of Associated Engineers is Carlton W. Klaiher. His new home address is 22 Faxon Rd., Pine Crest Acres, Stoughton, Mass.

Ray Elias of the Cleveland Playhouse gave that city the bright idea of having a Spring Festival this year to "capitalize on the city's cultural offerings."

In writing to tell of the "North Shore" Brown Club meeting that he enjoyed this spring, Stan Koehler informed us that he is back in the Navy and stationed at the amphibious base at Little Creek, Norfolk, Va. He'd like all correspondence to be sent to his home address, though, 22 Prospect St., Lynn, Mass.

News of a new daughter for Andrew Ouellette also brought word of our Classmate's new job. He is an Assistant Professor of Engineering at Lowell (Mass.) Textile Institute where he is an honorary member of Phi Psi fraternity. He lives with his family in nearby Nashua, N. H.

Marvin S. Perlis began his residency in internal medicine at the Grace Hospital in Detroit on July 1. He interned there, too, and lives at 3261 Lawrence, Detroit 6.

Lt. (jg) Robert Irving has been assigned to postgraduate work in engineering electronics at Annapolis. His work will contribute towards a Master's degree.

Isadore Halzel, still with the U. S. Naval Ammunition Depot in Hingham, Mass., has been named Production Analyst in charge of the Planning and Production Department. He lives in Mattapan, Mass., at 31 Deering Rd.

Elliot E. Andrews, who is in the Army, has requested that mail be sent to his address in Providence: 20 Adelphi Ave., c/o George Hurley.

Whereabouts: Henry B. Anthony, 1720 Woodmere Way, Havertown, Pa. Robert M. Austin, 675 River Rd., New Milford, N. J. John I. Dixon, 410 Cypress Ave., Johnstown, Pa. Dr. Robert M. Lord, Jr., 26 Hurlbut St., Cambridge 38, Mass. Donald T. Owens, 3136 Grand, Kansas City, Mo. Clarence V. Rooks, Barbara Rd., No. Attleboro, Mass. Donald E. Selby, 110 So. Fairfax St., Alexandria, Va. Dr. George C. Smith, 19 Roberta Dr., West Barrington, R. I. Gilbert B. Sorg, 225B Faller Dr., New Milford, N. J. Robert M. Steeres, Wing Ter., Burlington, Mass.

1948

Ordained into the Episcopal diaconate May 30 was Roger L. Tiffany of Wilbraham, Mass. A graduate of the Episcopal Theological Seminary, our Classmate is serving as Assistant at Grace Church in Providence.

In reporting the latest addition to his family, 1st Lt. Robert H. Reilly also informed us that he has been recalled to

In Freshman Competition

AUTUMN SCHEDULES for Freshmen teams at Brown have been announced as follows by Athletic Director Paul Mackesey:

Football: Oct. 6—Connecticut, home, 2 p.m. Oct. 12—Rhode Island, home, 2 p.m. Oct. 20—Harvard, away, 2 p.m. Oct. 27—Yale, away, 1 p.m. Nov. 3—Cheshire Academy, home, 1:30 p.m.

Soccer: Oct. 11—New Bedford Vocational High, home. Oct. 19—Connecticut, away. Oct. 25—Diman Vocational High, home. Oct. 27—Nichols Junior College, home. Nov. 5—New Bedford High, home. Nov. 14—Harvard, home.

Cross Country: Oct. 12—Connecticut, away. Oct. 19—Harvard and Boston University, home. Oct. 26—Rhode Island, away. Nov. 5—Providence, home. Nov. 19—ICA AAA, New York.

active duty with the Marine Reserves. He is at Camp Del Mar, Calif., but his mailing address remains 10 Sayles Hill Rd., Manville, R. 1.

Bill Dwyer was a double-winner at the NEAAU Track and Field championships, held in Weston, Mass., in June. He captured the 100-yard dash and the 220-yard low hurdles, and placed fifth in the 220-yard dash. Another Brown winner was undergraduate Tom DiLuglio who tied for first in the high jump at 6'2".

Jack W. Frankel, who received his Sc.D. in microbiology at the 185th anniversary commencement at Rutgers in June, delivered a paper on "Ehrlichin, a new antibiotic with specific antiviral properties" at the Society of American Bacteriologists in Chicago in May. Our Classmate spent three years on research that led to the isolation of Ehrlichin which is the first substance active against viruses produced by the same type of organisms that produced streptomycin. He is continuing his virus work at Public Health Research Institute of the City of New York, Inc.

Word from Korea in May reported that 2nd Lt. Robert A. Kuhn had been wounded in action. He later called his wife in Edgewood, R. I., to say that he was in Japan, recovering from a shrapnel wound in his leg.

Gerald "Jerry" Buckley is new Manager of the Goodyear Service store in Norristown, Pa. He has been with the company since graduation.

We spoke recently of the first performance of a string quartet by Donald E. Wiley at the May meeting of the Providence Chamber Music Society, which also sponsored music by Prof. S. Foster Damon on the same program. Wiley had another premiere just before the close of College, when the Chapel Choir performed his "Kyrie Eleison" for male chorus, organ, tambourine, wood blocks, snare drum, and tomtom. The work was dedicated to Prof. William Dinneen and was the second composition of the season written especially for the Chapel Choir. (The other was by Prof. Francis Madeira, conductor of the Rhode Island Philharmonic.) Other music by Wiley has been performed in Colorado and Tennessee, during his graduate studies and teaching. Next fall he goes to Hawaii to teach in a private school.

Robert D. Knees, having completed one year of study towards his Master's degree at the University of Wisconsin, is on the lookout for a secondary school teaching job in English for the fall. He has seen Howard Baetzhold '44 and Vern Alden '45 in Madison. His current address is 2103—16th St., Moline, Ill.

A June news item related the feats of Maj. Albert E. Hacking, Jr., in Korean combat with the "Flying Nightmares" squadron. In 10 successive dives he destroyed nine enemy trucks and several boxcars in a group of vehicles being loaded at a railroad siding.

The sympathy of all Classmates is extended to Salvatore Eacuello whose father, Francesco, died in Providence, June 16, 1951.

Domenic A. Valvala received his M.S. degree from the University of Rhode Island in June. A physiology major, he served as a research assistant in tumor and cancer studies and as an assistant in entomological research. He is a member of Phi Sigma, national honorary biological society for research. It took him less than a year to fulfill his degree requirements.

At the Columbia Graduate School of Business, Raymond Johnson has been elected to Beta Gamma Sigma, honorary business society.

Bill Roach, Sports Editor of the Daily Argus of Mount Vernon, N. Y., has found a fellow-Brunonian within the Westchester Newspapers, Inc., organization. He's Pete Fradley '50, a member of the sports staff of the Yonkers Herald-Statesman. For the sports writers of the area, Bill claims the title of "coachmakers." The group had Al Kelley as its speaker in December just before he was named football coach at Brown. The year before, Hal Kopp addressed the annual meeting and was later chosen to direct grid activities at the University of Rhode Island.

At the time of the Class cocktail party before the Alumni Dinner, Joe Arata wrote that he was with the 13th Signal Co., 1st Cavalry Div., in Korea. Paul Lucey's mother sent his card back with word that he was at Pensacola, training on helicopters. Tony Fontana is back in the Navy, and John J. Murphy, Jr., wrote that the Army was "claiming his attention" these days.

The Rev. Stuart G. Ruth was ordained an Episcopal Deacon in May and is now Vicar of Emmanuel Church in Hailey, Idaho.

In the bookkeeping department of the Riggs National Bank of Bladensburg, Md., James W. Maxwell lives in that city at 4100 53rd Place.

Two Classmates going to medical school are Carmine Capalbo, now in his last year at Georgetown, and Ivan T. Vasey, a student at Tufts.

B. Allen Aikens III is General Manager of the Red Head Products Co. of Royal Oak, Mich. He lives in Birmingham, Mich., at 480 Southlawn Blvd.

Whereabouts: Robert W. Grout, 24 Riverdale Rd., Wellesley Hills 82, Mass. Arthur F. Jurjuran, 217 B Reichelt Rd., New Milford, N. J. Erwin L. Levine, 125 York Ter., Brookline 46, Mass. James B. Lovell, 3632 Richard Dr., Hamilton, Ohio. Ens. Philip L. Schuyler, USS Wamtuck (APD 125), FPO, San Francisco. George M. Watts, 521 Monticello Dr., Falls Church, Va. Joseph Wendelberger, 2332 W. Cherry St., Milwaukee 5.

1949

Two classmates who have been promoted to First Lieutenantcies at Camp Lejeune, N. C., are Wendell G. Harris and Robert B. Shea. Both are in the Second Tank Battalion of the 10th Marines, 2nd Marine Division, Harris is the son of Townes M. Harris '23.

The Rev. Alan B. Hutchinson was ordained into the Congregational ministry on June 8 in Pawtucket, R. I. Youth Director of the Park Place Congregational Church, Pawtucket, for three years, he is now Youth Director of the United Church of Walpole, Mass.

In May, Ens. George E. Jacobssen, Jr., completed his 50th combat mission over Korea. A Corsair pilot flying from the carrier, USS Princeton, Jacobssen has been with his Air Group since September, 1949. His home is in Providence at 60 Taft Ave.

A field engineer in electronics with the Philco Corp., 22nd and Lehigh, Philadelphia, Alexander G. Craig, Jr., would like his mail sent to him at his business address.

From Larchmont, N. Y., where he is living at 7 East Ave., Jim Holzinger writes

Ice on Prospect St.

PFC. BRUCE E. BAILEY '51 is having as much success with his photography in the Air Force as he did at Brown. His picture of the ice-coated campus fronting along Prospect Street (see inside front cover of Alumni Monthly for March, 1950), took first prize for landscape and architecture in inter-service competition at the Pentagon. Bruce's rewards were a trophy and a $100 watch. Earlier, the same picture had won similar distinction in the first annual Air Force Photography Contest.

In local contests at Mather Field, Calif., where Bruce is attached to the base photo section, this picture and others have won several awards. Evenings Bailey is attending classes at Sacramento State College.

NEW YORK CENTRAL dining car menus have featured a drawing of Carrie Tower at Brown by Vernan Howe Bailey this year. The original was recently presented to the University by Harold M. Smith, Worcester District Passenger Agent. Provost Arnold and Vice-President Bigelow accepted the gift. that he is now with the Purchasing Dept. of the Shell Oil Company's New York office.

William H. Waite has been appointed Administrative Assistant at Pennsylvania Hospital in Philadelphia. Holder of a Master's degree in hospital administration from the University of Minnesota, he has worked at the Rhode Island Hospital and Syracuse (N. Y.) Memorial Hospital.

Pvt. Chester A. Norek was assigned to Brooke Army Medical Center, Ft. Sam Houston, Tex., in April.

Bob Knights, who is studying for his Master's degree at Harvard Graduate School of Education, is returning to Germany with his wife for a summer's work with the refugee youth at Druhwald, Lüneburger Heide.

New President of the R. I. Junior Chamber of Commerce, Harris W. Arnold attended the National Jaycee meeting in Miami, Fla., this spring.

After a month's stay in Texas investigating the wool-growing end of the textile business, Luc Tiberghien has returned to Woonsocket to assume an administrative position with the French Worsted Co. The Rhode Island company is a branch of the factory in Tourcoing, France, which our Classmate's father owns and operates.

Howard R. DuTemple is one of four students from the United States selected as first recipients of the Cruzeiro fellowship awards by the Brazilian government. Now doing graduate work in economics at Vanderbilt University, our Classmate will spend ten months of the 1951-52 academic year in Brazil. Approximately 100 students all over the United States entered the fellowship competition.

Teddy Tokarz is owner of the Bristol Engineering Service in Fall River.

An industrial engineer in the Standards Department of the Crane Co., Clyde A.

Kelley, Jr., lives in Chicago 29 at 6425 So. Richmond St.

Donald W. Fisher is an analytical chemist with the Navy. He lives in Annapolis at 36 Maryland Ave.

Arthur E. Davis, Jr., is District Group Manager in the Miami, Fla., office of the Connecticut General Life Insurance Co.

In sending us his new address—152 Wheeler Ave., Edgewood 5, R. 1.—Noel C. Breault reported that he is a cost accountant with the Fulford Mfg. Co.

Donald E. Bratt is junior Assistant Manager of the S. S. Kresge store in Meriden, Conn. His home address is 44 No. Spring St., Meriden.

An engineer with the Montaup Electric Co., Robert F. Dinnie lives at 687 Buf-finton St., Somerset, Mass.

Whereabouts: John F. Ensminger, 4135 Sequoia Rd., Caldwell Village, Brookhaven, Ga. Burton Harrington, 188-04 64th Ave., Fresh Meadows, Queens, N. Y. Matthew B. Holiday, 223 East Pearl St., Butler, Pa. John M. Houston, 53 Westgate, Cambridge 39, Mass. Julian M. Kaplan, 2615 Falmouth Rd., Toledo 6, Ohio. Robert Kirschenbaum, 37 Cliff St., New Rochelle, N. Y. George E. Peterson, 11 Schenck Ave., Great Neck, L. I., N. Y. Rudy Recher, 26 Goulding Dr., Auburn, Mass. Allan H. Roberts, 1600 Coventry Rd., East Cleveland, Ohio. Richard I. Stevens, 909 Erin St., Madison 5, Wis. Raymond A. Sadler, 109 School St., Springfield, Mass. Howard M. Webster, Box 105, Saundertown, R. I. Loren E. Wood, 9 High St., Port Deposit, Md. Richard Woodacre, 100 Oak St., Naugatuck, Conn.

1950

Winner of a Pulitzer Prize in his first year at graduate school is Emil P. John '50. The award, a $1500 traveling scholarship, enables the recipient to spend a year abroad, studying social and political conditions and the character of the foreign press. John graduated from Columbia's Graduate School of Journalism in June. Earlier, John was named the first winner of the Charles M. Lincoln award for outstanding reporting at the school. In announcing the prize (a $100 defense bond and a citation), Dean Carl W. Akerman said: "Mr. John has for this year demonstrated a combination of the best reportorial work, with the finest newspaper attitude, and has demonstrated the best sense of journalistic responsibility."

Ens. William W. Boyes, who graduated from the U. S. Naval Academy this year, has been assigned to the USS Boxer. He prefers mail at his home address, however, 18 Caswell Ave., Newport, R. I.

Robert N. Armour is a junior executive with American Aniline Products in New York City. His home address is RFD 1, Mill Hall, Pa.

At his own wedding, Ens. Bruce M. Senior USN had the unusual experience of also being best man. It worked like this: he married Miss Ruth E. Way whose brother, Alva O. Way III '51, got married at the same ceremony to Miss Inez Balentine. The respective bridegrooms served each other as best men.

A new director of the Credit Bureau of Greater Lawrence is Gardner M. Macartney. Also a member of the Lawrence Junior Chamber of Commerce, our Classmate is Credit Manager and Director of Advertising for the R. J. Macartney Co.

Five days after his wedding in May, Joseph V. Carey, Jr., had to report to the Navy at Bainbridge Island, Md., for duty as a radioman, third-class. He was employed by the Draper Corp., Framingham, Mass., when recalled to the Reserve.

Daniel Connell, Jr., has been appointed to teach mathematics at the high school on Nantucket, Mass.

Phil Martin wrote to Bill McCormick in April to report his assignment as Assistant to the Plant Superintendent at the new Chesterfield Power Station in Richmond, Va. He has been taking night courses, too, at the University of Richmond, studying Industrial Engineering and Salesmanship.

A card from George R. Blessing informed us of the fact that he is now with the Office of Naval Research, Special Device Center, Sand's Point, L. I., as a Supply Cataloger.

William E. Parmenter, Jr., was in the office in May to tell us that he has been accepted at the University of Virginia Law School for its September class. He is to be married August 25 to Miss Ruth Wall, Pembroke '51.

New Haven Field Representative for the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. is Robert W. Finlay.

Henry C. Haig, Jr., recalled to the Naval Reserve as an Aviation Electronic Technician, is with the Parachute Experimental Unit, N.A.A.S., El Centro, Calif.

A long letter from Ed DeWitt reported that it was "getting to be like old home week" around Ft. Dix, N. J., where he is stationed. He has seen five Classmates since he's been there. Among them: Lenny Collins and Curt Chrisfield. Because of probable changes, though, he prefers mail at his home address, 231 Davison Place, Englewood, N. J.

Jim Hebden has been transferred out of the Infantry but is still at Camp Crawford, Japan. His new address: Pfc. James R. Hebden, 700th Ordnance Maintenance Co., APO 86, c/o Postmaster, San Francisco.

W. James Savage writes that he is now Branch Manager of the Fruehauf Trailer Co. in Boise, Ida. His address in that city is 606 Riverview Drive.

On active duty with the Marines at Camp Lejeune, S/Sgt. William F. Bishop prefers mail at his home address, 26A Maple Gardens, Fall River, Mass.

Attending the squadron officers' course at Maxwell AFB, Ala., is 1st Lt. George A. Stewart, Jr.

In June Robert Gould received his M.S. Degree at New York University where he has been studying in the school of retailing.

John Earl Hay is working for the government, in a civil service administrative position, at Patrick AFB, Grand Bahama Island.

Drafted last November, LeRoy F. Anderson has just been learning how to be an M.P. at Camp Atterbury, Ind. In his service travels he has seen Classmates Charles Miller, Roy Fidler, "Moose" Waseth and Henry Butts. His address is Headquarters Co., 175th M. P. Battalion, Camp Atterbury. (Also see "Vital Statistics".)

With the Raybestos-Manhattan Corp. in Stratford, Conn., Richard B. Littlefield lives in that city at 127 Plymouth St.

Harry S. Wright, Jr., writes that he is now a Priorities Assistant with the Stone and Webster Engineering Corp. in Boston. His home address is Apt. 2B, 94 Gainsborough St., Boston 15. Mrs. Wright is the former Barbara Stetson, Pembroke '48.

Norm Wright has moved to New York City to start his new job in the Credit Department of the Chase National Bank. For the summer he'll be rooming with three '51ers: Art Thebado, Dick Walsh and Clayton Dietz—at 80 Perry St.

Chief of the Cost Department at the Sealol Corp. in Providence is Daniel W.

Connell, Jr. His home is still in Swansea, Mass.

John W. Flodin is in Atlanta, Ga., as a Special Agent for the Hartford Steam Boiler Inspection and Insurance Co. His residence is at 4882 Keswick Ct., Chamblée, Ga.

Lucian E. Stone, Jr., received his M.A. from the University of Michigan in June.

A personnel interviewer at the Wright Aeronautical Corp. plant in Wood Ridge, N. J., Herbert H. Welch lives at 20 Terrace Ave., Apt. G-15, Hasbrouck Hts., N. J.

Ernie Lyons is working for the Liberty Mutual Insurance Company in Detroit. He lives with his wife in Farmington, Mich., at 18552 Irving St.

Maximilian H. Bergendahl has been appointed a geologist with the U. S. Geological Survey on a phosphate project in Plant City, Fla. His address there is 302 Carey St.

In May, Kenneth W. Watson was commissioned a Second Lieutenant in the Marine Corps after completing the Officer Screening Program.

A Lieutenant in the Navy, Gilbert L. Tracy is stationed at the Naval Air Technical Training Center, Memphis, Tenn.

Thomas A. Thompson is a field engineer with the W. J. Barney Corp. of New York City. He is currently working in New London, Conn.

Pvt. Frank E. Manchester has been in Korea since April. His address is 121st Evacuation Hospital (Sm), APO 301, c/o Postmaster, San Francisco. Another Classmate in Korea is Marine 2nd Lt. James E. McKelvey.

Sincere Class sympathy is offered to Louis V. O'Brien on the death of his mother, Mrs. Nora Clair O'Brien, June 26, 1951. Paul A. O'Brien '46 is another son.

With his Master's degree in Chemistry from Harvard, Walter E. Schortmann will begin a year's study at the Oak Ridge School of Reactor Technology.

He Served "in Full Measure"

G. BURTON HIBBERT, Treasurer of Brown University from 1947 to 1950, died June 20. A Trustee since 1943, he had served on the Investment, Finance, and Advisory and Executive Committees of the Corporation, among others. He helped project the Quadrangle and enlisted substantial aid for it, in keeping with his concern with student housing.

Mr. Hibbert was formerly President of the R. I. Hospital Trust Co. in Providence. His concept of responsible citizenship was characterized when Brown gave him an honorary degree in 1947: "By the expenditure of time, skill, and energy beyond all reasonable demands, you furnished leadership in supplying the Red Cross, the United Service Organizations, foreign relief agencies, and our community services with financial support in full measure—heaped up, pressed down, and running over. Beyond all that, your wise insight helped overcome social isolationism and fortified our common democratic faith."

Pvt. Benton B. Byers, Jr., is still in the insurance business—in Hwachon, Korea! He's attached to the Inspector General's Office at 7th Infantry Division Headquarters, APO 7, San Francisco.

Pfc. David A. Comfort is attending the Army Language School in California. His address there is Co. A, 2nd Platoon A.L.S., Presidio of Monterey, Calif.

Bob Bryant is still with Continental Oil but has moved to the St. Joseph, Mo., office.

M. Dean Jacoby, who expects to get his M.A. in History from Wayne University this summer, will enter the Wayne University Medical School in September. Ever since his Freshman year at Brown he's wanted to be a doctor, but Professor Sinclair Armstrong got him so interested in Modern History that he decided to "minor" in it while waiting for his appointment to med. school.

Whereabouts: William A. Allenson, 13769 Cedar Rd., Apt. 104, So. Euclid 18, Ohio. Herbert Beizer, 24 Mt. Vernon St., Boston. Harold G. Bergwall, Box 125, Chippewa Lake, Ohio. Henry Bialecki, 487 East St., New Haven 11. John S. Blum, Wade Park Manor, Cleveland 6. Robert F. Hostage, 33 Sims St., Bridgeport, Conn. Russell E. Hutton, 181 West Forest Ave., Pawtucket. Zareh S. Kalarian, 29 Lenox Ave., Prov. William D. Lawton, Domopanara Farm, Jefferson, Me. R. E. McCann, 496 Vera St., Redwood City, Calif. John W. Noble, 7761 Cherrystone Ave., Van Nuys, Calif. Warren Randall, 17 Walbridge Rd., West Hartford, Conn. Robert A. Robinson, Box 13, Thomaston, Conn. Russell F. Rose, Jr., 947 Post Rd., Darien, Conn. Harold H. Shore, 262 Waterman St., Prov. Raymond T. Silva, 27 Downie St., No. Dartmouth, Mass. G. E. Sita, South St., New Providence, N. J.

1951

James DiPrete, Jr., was named in March to the editorial board of Sui Juris, Boston College Law School yearbook.

Now taking a management trainee course with the Campbell Soup Co. in Camden, N. J., is Wesley Hall.

Specializing in Latin America, Richard D. Anderson was graduated from the American Institute for Foreign Trade at Thunderbird Field, Phoenix, Ariz., this June.

Pasquale Panaggio, Jr., was named Executive Director of the R. I. Industrial Exposition of the Providence Junior Chamber of Commerce in June. Now in its second year, the Exposition maintains a display in Union Station of the products and services of Rhode Island industry.

Tom Sturges and Larry Rooney, both enrolled in a five-year management training program with the Provident Mutual Insurance Co. of Philadelphia, promise that when their stay is over "everybody in Philadelphia will have heard of Brown."

A graduate assistant in Botany at the University of Rhode Island is Bob Kinder.

Whereabouts: Pfc. Lewis D. Emerson, Jr., 3768 Student Trn. Sch., Barracks 713, Sheppard AFB, Tex. Pfc. George J. Hays, Finance Office, Mannheim Sub Post, APO 403A, c/o PM, NYC. Donald M. Zubrisky, 32 Calumet Rd., Sciticut Neck, Fairhaven, Mass.

Bureau of Vital Statistics

MARRIAGES

1935—William J. Counihan, Jr., and Miss Lois F. Colinan, daughter of Mrs. George H. Colinan and the late Maj. Colinan of Saylesville, R. I., July 7, 1951. George H. Colinan, Jr., '49 gave his sister in marriage. Thomas Hunt, Jr., '32 was one of the ushers.

1937—Felix J. Freeman, Jr., and Miss Elaine Lavalle, daughter of Mr. John Lavalle of New York City, in Southampton, L. I., N. Y., June 16, 1951. At home: 1 W. 67th St., NYC 23.

1937—F. Hartwell Swaffield and Miss Charlotte R. Whittemore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Whittemore of Portland, Me., June 23, 1951. Gordon Swaffield '43 was his brother's best man. Dr. Douglas Swaffield '06, father of the groom, assisted at the ceremony.

1939—Frank O'Shanick and Miss Nancy R. Hemeter, daughter of Mrs. Van Buren Hemeter, in Seminary, Miss., June 28, 1951.

1941—Dr. Earle F. Cohen and Miss Joy Grossman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack J. Grossman of New York City, July 4, 1951. At home: 176 Waterman St., Providence 6.

1942—George C. Atkinson, Jr. and Miss Muriel F. Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James D. Williams of Nutley, N. J., in New York City, June 21, 1951.

1942—Edward R. O'Shea and Miss Audrey F. Meyer, daughter of Mrs. Everett Meyer and the late Mr. Meyer of Forest Hills, N. Y., in Manhattan, April 14, 1951.

1942—Jack M. Rosenberg and Miss Helene F. Kauffman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hyman Kauffman of Providence, July 8, 1951. At home: 46 So. Sixth St., New Bedford, Mass.

1943—Albert E. Beachen, Jr., and Miss Virginia I. Eastwood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Chester Eastwood of Providence, July 7, 1951. Samuel P. Beachen '49 was his brother's best man and Richard B. Pretat and Thomas R. Woods, both '45, were ushers. The groom is the son of A. E. Beachen '14.

1943—Thomas M. Sneddon and Miss Charlotte M. Scammon in No. Attleboro, Mass., June 30, 1951. At home: 64 High St., No. Attleboro.

1944—Clement McCarthy and Miss Elizabeth A. Baxter, daughter of Mrs. John B. Baxter and the late Mr. Baxter of Providence, June 30, 1951.

1944—Dr. Elihu S. Wing, Jr., and Miss Emma S. Brown, daughter of Mrs. Charles C. Brown and the late Mr. Brown of Huntington, W. Va., June 16, 1951. At home: 828 Broadway, Baltimore, Md.

1945—John J. Fraizer and Miss Shirley D. Phinney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice U. Phinney of Danvers, Mass., in April 1951. At home: 10 Maple Ave., Danvers.

1946—Stanley Charren and Miss Peggy Walzer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell Walzer of New York City, June 17, 1951. At home: 146 Elmgrove Ave., Providence 6.

1946—Lt. (jg) Raymond E. Moffitt,

MC, USNR, and Miss Doris E. Riley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Riley, Jr., of Providence, July 21, 1951.

1946—Dr. Justin L. Richman and Miss Grace M. Kennison, daughter of Dr. Samuel I. Kennison '13 and Mrs. Kennison of Providence, June 17, 1951.

1947—Dr. John B. Lawlor and Miss Virginia H. Daley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Daley of Providence, June 30, 1951. John C. Schleck '47 and John F. Kenney '46 were ushers.

1947—Joseph R. Weisberger and Miss Sylvia B. Pigeon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Pigeon of Foxboro, Mass., in Providence, June 9, 1951.

1948—Herbert K. Bolotow and Miss Marcia H. Krawit, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Krawit of New York City, June 24, 1951. Martin L. Riesman '49 was the best man. Rabbi Louis I. Newman '13 performed the ceremony.

1948—Cornelius A. Cummiskey and Miss Margaret-Mary McCarthy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome McCarthy of Providence, June 23, 1951. At home: 24 Campbell St., West Warwick, R. I.

1948—Donald W. Hanson and Miss Nancy A. Stark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard G. Stark of East Greenwich, R. I., June 30, 1951. At home: 390 Lloyd Ave., Providence 6.

1948—Joseph A. Poor and Miss Alice M. Kimball, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Perley B. Kimball of Rumford, R. I., June 30, 1951.

1949—Arthur Bauman and Miss Adele E. Anthony, daughter of Elijah Anthony '18 and Mrs. Anthony of Springfield, Mass., in New York City, May 6, 1951. Sidney Bearman '50 was the best man.

1949—Harold R. Kjellman, Jr., and Miss Amey Harris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Harris of Riverside, R. I., June 16, 1951. John Olsen '50 was an usher.

1949—Thomas F. O'Neil, Jr., and Miss Carmen A. Therien, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Therien of Woonsocket, R. I., April 28, 1951.

1949—Horatio R. Rogers, Jr., and Miss Lois R. Poucher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph J. Poucher of Tenafly, N. J., in Englewood, June 22, 1951.

1949—George F. Wallace and Miss Rosalie J. Lynch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Lynch of Hartford, Conn., May 12, 1951.

1950—Eugene F. Ahearn and Miss Shirley M. Jackson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Jackson of Providence, June 16, 1951. At home: 223 Evergreen St., Pawtucket.

1950—Carl H. Anderson and Miss Ethel A. Sjoberg, daughter of Mrs. Gorda Sjoberg and the late Mr. Sjoberg of Bridgeport, Conn., May 12, 1951. Stanley B. Anderson '53 was the best man.

1950—Joseph V. Carey, Jr., and Miss Betty Ann McManus of Hopkinton, Mass., May 20, 1951.

1950—Arnold Raphaelson and Miss Ruth Camann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Saul Camann of Athol, Mass., in Roxbury, July 4, 1951. Arthur Trehwella '50 was an usher.

We Mourn Their Death:

THOMAS JEFFERSON GRIFFIN '99, in Plymouth, Mass., June 29, 1951. Manager of a printing establishment and later an executive with the Nantasket Beach Steamboat Co., he was also for a time director of the N.E. Deaconess Association rest home in Attleboro, Mass., a member of the Mass. State Legislature and a president of the Abington (Mass.) Chamber of Commerce.

IRVING OWEN HUNT '99, in Wyoming, Penn., June 17, 1951. An active alumnus, "Hoppy" was also an outstanding athlete and amateur yachtsman. He practiced law in Providence until he retired to farming in Pennsylvania. Brother of S. Foster Hunt '02, Alpha Delta Phi.

JOSEPH WARREN DOWNS '00, in No. Waterboro, Maine, June 13, 1951. He had been an attorney and an investment broker. Phi Delta Theta.

DANIEL WILLETS OVEROCKER '05, in Burlington, Vt., May 20, 1951. A civil engineer and contractor, he was a graduate of Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute. Phi Kappa Psi.

FRANKLIN NORTON RAY '05, in Greenfield, Mass., July 6, 1951. He was a real estate agent in East Providence, R. I.

DAVID SHELDON BARRY '12, in Baltimore, Md., June 30, 1951. A retired Colonel in the Marine Corps, he had been an aide at the White House during Harding's administration. He directed a campaign to raise funds for the establishment of a Marine Museum in Washington.

Brown Plates Available

BROWN UNIVERSITY PLATES are in stock again, following receipt this summer of the first shipment from the Wedgwood potteries in a year and a half. This will be good news to alumni who have been awaiting another opportunity to purchase the popular Queensware.

There has been no advance in price. The plates cost $3.00 each. When ordered in lots of six or more, the price is $2.75 each or $16.50 for the complete set of six or $33.00 a dozen. There is no extra charge for handling, cartons, or express, which is prepaid. To order, make your check payable to "Treasurer, Associated Alumni" and send to the Alumni Office, Brown University, Providence 12, R. I.

The Brown plates are made from the original formula of Queensware, whose first products were contemporary with the founding of Brown. The plates are dinner service in size—10½ inches in diameter. The border is a bas-relief ivory frame drawn from a diploma granted at the first Brown Commencement after the Revolution. The center views, printed in brown sepia: 1. 1872 Gate, with Manning Hall. 2. John Nicholas Brown Gate, with College Green. 3. Robinson Gate, with Hope College. 4. War Memorial. 5. Van Winkle Gate, with University Hall. 6. First Baptist Meeting House.

JAMES JOSEPH TYRRELL '14, in New York City, June 13, 1951. He was a professional consulting engineer. Father of James Tyrrell, Jr., '48 and George Tyrrell '50. Four daughters graduated from Pembroke, Phi Kappa.

RUSSELL PHILIPS JONES '21, in La Crosse, Wisc., June 20, 1951. A prominent lawyer and active civic leader, in Providence, he had been vacationing in Wisconsin. He was Chairman of the Board of Lincoln School. He was a member of several clubs, bar associations, and advisory committees. Delta Upsilon.

EARLE WILSON BAKER ROGERS '23, in Fiskeville, R. I., July 16, 1951. He had been an English teacher at Cranston High School.

FREDERIC WEBB DUNHAM, JR. '25, in Brooklyn, N. Y., May 26, 1951. He was sales manager for a New York investment concern. Delta Phi.

PAUL KENNETH GERARD '30, in Providence, June 29, 1951. A former salesman and gear maker, he had been a watch repairman for many years.

MONTAFIX WILSON HOUGHTON, JR. '30, in No. Uxbridge, Mass., June 17, 1951. He was manager and assistant treasurer for a furniture warehouse in Uxbridge. He was active in Rotary.

DONALD THAYER BLISS '42, in Berkeley, Calif., July 10, 1951. He had been employed at the Navy radiological defense laboratory in San Francisco. Phi Beta Kappa; Sigma Xi.

Small TALK

► WE'VE BEEN MEANING to tell about the chapel talk at Brown by Phillips Stevens, headmaster of Williston Academy, who prepared for his remarks by asking a number of celebrities to give him one idea apiece that he might pass on to students. He telegraphed U.N. Delegate Warren Austin, Groucho Marx, William Green of the AFL, Bernard Baruch, Andrei Vishinsky, and ("to get a well-rounded picture") Gypsy Rose Lee.

Groucho wrote back: "The Kinsey Report should be required reading for every student, unless the school is co-educational. In that case, nature will provide the necessary answers."

The other answers were more serious. William Green: "I suggest you emphasize the value of freedom, liberty, and democracy, and the obligation of every individual to serve in every possible way in the preservation of these vital principles." Bernard Baruch: "The principal thing to teach is physical and mental discipline and self-reliance." Cardinal Spellman: "Your love of truth will make you peacemakers in a world that dreads wars and fears enslavement. The future stability of America and the salvation of mankind depend in great measure on you as leaders in assuming your full role as God-fearing, God-loving, law-abiding servants of God and your fellow-men."

Warren Austin: "Organized education today carries a heavier responsibility than ever before. Students should study world affairs to gain a thorough understanding of the principles that are absolutely necessary to keep government free." Charles E. Wilson: "Read on page 36 of the Book of Common Prayer of the Episcopal Church—A Prayer for Our Country." From Miss Lee and Vishinsky: no comment.

Mr. Stevens' own conclusion: "You cannot find your way out of conflict and confusion today solely through the help of men. We need the help of Almighty God. The world is troubled today because men have tried to be sufficient unto themselves."

► You can see how it might happen, but that doesn't make it any the less horrendous. The place was Rocky Mount, N. C., where alumni of Duke had invited a coach to speak to them. Since he was a native of the town, other citizens were given equal opportunity to welcome back a popular native son. Inevitably, there were present graduates of other institutions in this predominantly Duke gathering.

Proceedings were smooth enough until time came to vote on a new President for the local association. At this point the alert presiding officer stopped everything with a mighty shout. For he had discovered that a Wake Forest man had nominated a Carolina man for President of the Duke organization.

► An Ivy League College President felt that its homecomings were getting bigger and better. In the spirit of his last one, he told the old grads who were back that they could build the event even further. Every one present should bring two friends next time and have each of them bring two more, etc. He realized, he said, that this was a bit puzzling mathematically. "But at least it would be the fastest way."

► When the chronicler of Harvard's Commencement reached the point where he talked about diplomas and recipients, he threw restraint to the winds by inserting this subhead: "Differing But in Degree."

► MOTE IN OUR OWN EYE DEPT.: An alert staffer in the Alumni Office, relieved to find that we are not the only ones who make an occasional mistake, calls attention to the fact that the schedule for Freshman Week this fall calls for an orientation lecture by Vice-President Bruce Bigelow. This is wholly regular and admirable.

But the announced times are from 1:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. The starting hour might result in a slim audience were it not for the fact that "all entering students are required to attend." But we doubt that even Dr. Bigelow should talk for 13 hours, without at least an interval for a meal now and then.

► President Robert Clothier of Rutgers is President of his Class at Princeton, 1908. At the last minute he had to miss his reunion this June because of an emergency appendectomy. The Class Secretary reported to the Alumni Weekly: "Much as he was missed, he was forgiven. A student of Bob's standing is entitled to at least one cut."

► The story is credited (in "The Pleasures of Publishing") to William Miller, Director of the Syracuse University Press. It's about a Professor of Religion who was guest minister at a local church:

After the service a rough-looking character stopped on his way out to say, "Parson, that was the best damn sermon I ever heard." The Professor thanked the man, who went on, "I've heard a lot of sermons, but that was the best yet, by a damn sight." Thinking this sort of thing had gone far enough, the professor was moved to remark, "You know, we don't talk that way in church." The character's enthusiasm was not affected. "I liked your sermon so damn well," he said, "that I put a check for $1000 in the collection plate."

The professor then got into the spirit of the thing. "The hell you did," he replied.

► We're wondering if anyone knows anything about a bit of verse that was in circulation when John Wells '09 was in college. As he recalls it, it went:

Upon the Seekonk's rapid flow,
To take a pretty girl to row
When with the wind and tide you go,
Is fun!
But coming back 'gainst wind and tide,
Although the girl is by your side,
Is none!

► A Rutgers alumnus remarks that no one envies the Trustee Committee which must choose a new President of that institution: "Even the zoological expeditions that were sent out to capture specimens of the West Chinese panda and Central African bongo had an easier time of it. They, at least, knew that when they returned home there would be no irate sections of the public anxious to damn them because of the nature of the catch they returned with."

► Many Brunonians remember Carl Bridenbaugh, who left the Brown History Department for the war and thence to the new Institute of Early American History at Williamsburg as Director. Now on the Faculty at the University of California, he was the subject of a recent profile in the Alumni Magazine of Dartmouth, his Alma Mater. It was good to read this reference in the account:

"After teaching at M.I.T. for 10 years, Carl was asked to Brown University in 1938 as Associate Professor. Carl, who should know a first-class institution of learning, speaks glowingly of Brown."

► To prove the catholicity of his interests, a member of the Brown Faculty who reads this column also reads indexes. He was enchanted to happen on this bit of indiciiana in Prof. Alex Robinson's "Ancient History":

"Hughes, Charles Evans: Wriston, Henry M., on."

► A Radcliffe publication was writing a feature story about the alumna who has been secretary to the college's Dean or President for 28 years. The author went to the dictionary for a definition of the word "buffer," which had suggested itself somehow. Buffer: "Anything serving to deaden a shock or bear the brunt of a collision. A worker or machine that polishes something."

► A certain Brown alumnus was recently appointed to a post of some importance and responsibility, a fact which we duly recorded at the time. We did, however, omit from our report a quote from his biography which had appeared in print as follows: "He has served SHRDSHRD." We're confident he did it well, too.

► "I Taught in an American University" was the title of an article in one of our Canadian exchanges recently. On one occasion, the author wrote, he had just returned a set of papers to his class when a war veteran, an ex-flier, politely rose and demanded on what basis the work had been classified.

"I swallowed hard. The veteran was known to be troublesome; he had before this told professors they didn't know how to grade papers. I cleared my throat and prepared for the worst. But, before I had time to begin, another ex-flier in the class came to my rescue. He turned to face the challenger and said:

"I look, chum. You joined up for aircrew, hey? You wanted to be a pilot, hey? And you went to training camp? And you worked until you fly that kite right side up and upside down, didn't ya? Until you fly that thing in your sleep almost, by instinct, didn't ya? Well, that's how the professor marks papers: he learned how, and he now marks 'em by instinct."

That was not all. A very beautiful blond coed in the front row also got into the discussion of the problems involved in grading exams. She swung a handsome leg in a way that could not escape notice and said, "Professor, do I understand that you are going to grade on the curve?"

"I was a bachelor," said the writer, "and my eyes dropped. I could not resist a silly smile that brought the house down."

BUSTER

Your Football Tickets

THE ONLY TICKET APPLICATIONS you will receive for Brown football in 1951 are printed on the back cover of this issue of the Brown Alumni Monthly. Read these instructions and then fill in the appropriate coupons on the back cover.

By presenting your application blanks here in the magazine which goes to every Alumnus, Brown University is this season saving the costs of an expensive printing job and separate mailing. Such economies are vital in this period of fiscal stress at Brown. We know the Alumni will understand and approve.

Those who make mail applications by using the coupons from this magazine will receive the same prompt, careful service which the Athletic Office always provides. But you will get no further notice about football tickets through the mail this summer and fall.

Please fill out each coupon for each game you wish to attend. In giving city addresses, include postal zone numbers. It will be a great convenience to the Athletic Office if you will provide a separate check for each game. Note that the closing date for mail applications (in advance of the general public sale) is 16 days before the game. Your tickets will be mailed to you 10 days before the game.

Make checks payable to "Brown University." Mail applications to the Division of Athletics, Brown University, Providence 12, R. I. There are reserved seats for all games. For some games there are seats at half-price for children under 12 years of age. None of the tickets are redeemable.

The Athletic Office will attempt to honor any special requests as to location (high, low, or middle height), seating with other alumni, etc. Applications are filled in order of receipt.

Note that in 1951 there will be no game on Thanksgiving Day.

Let's back a fighting Brown team in its first year under a new, victory-minded coach.

Your Applications for BROWN FOOTBALL

SEE ALSO INSIDE BACK COVER FOR DETAILS AND INSTRUCTIONS

TEMPLE

Sept. 29, Brown Field

2 p.m.

Name

St.

City

.... Reserved seats @ $3.00 $.....

.... Children's seats @ $1.50

Handling and mailing charge .25

TOTAL $.....

(Applications close Sept. 13)

YALE

Oct. 6, Yale Bowl

2 p.m.

Name

St.

City

.... Reserved seats @ $3.00 $.....

Handling and mailing charge .25

TOTAL $.....

(Applications close Sept. 20)

RHODE ISLAND

Oct. 13, Brown Field

2 p.m.

Name

St.

City

.... Reserved seats @ $2.40 $.....

.... Children's seats @ $1.20

Handling and mailing charge .25

TOTAL $.....

(Applications close Sept. 27)

COLGATE

Oct. 20, Brown Field

2 p.m.

Name

St.

City

.... Reserved seats @ $3.60 $.....

.... Children's seats @ $1.80

Handling and mailing charge .25

TOTAL $.....

(Applications close Oct. 4)

HOLY CROSS

Oct. 27, Fitton Field

2 p.m.

Name

St.

City

.... Reserved seats @ $3.60 $.....

.... Children's seats @ $1.80

Handling and mailing charge .25

TOTAL $.....

(Applications close Oct. 11)

PRINCETON

Nov. 3, Palmer Stadium

1:30 p.m.

Name

St.

City

.... Reserved seats @ $3.60 $.....

Handling and mailing charge .25

TOTAL $.....

(Applications close Oct. 18)

RUTGERS

Nov. 10, Brown Field

1:30 p.m.

Name

St.

City

.... Reserved seats @ $3.60 $.....

.... Children's seats @ $1.80

Handling and mailing charge .25

TOTAL $.....

(Applications close Oct. 25)

HARVARD

Nov. 17, Harvard Stadium

1:30 p.m.

Name

St.

City

.... Reserved seats @ $3.60 $.....

.... Reserved seats @ $1.80

Handling and mailing charge .25

TOTAL $.....

(Applications close Nov. 1)

COLUMBIA

Nov. 24, Baker Field

1:30 p.m.

Name

St.

City

.... Reserved seats @ $3.60 $.....

.... Reserved seats @ $2.40

Handling and mailing charge .25

TOTAL $.....

(Applications close Nov. 8)

